Amidon,2012-06-05 A lively literary exploration of one of the West s most iconic cultural figures the athlete Why is the athlete so important to us Few public figures can dominate the public imagination with such power and authority Even in our cynical times when celebrities can be debunked at the speed of light many still look to athletes as models for our moral and emotional lives An aging fastballer goes for a few last wins in his final season and he becomes an exemplar for our daily struggles against time A top golfer cheats on his wife and his behavior sparks a symposium on marital fidelity more wideranging than if the lapse had come from a politician or religious leader Drawing from art literature politics and history Something Like the Gods explores the powerful grip the athlete has always held on the Western imagination Amidon examines the archetype of the competitor as it evolved from antiquity to the present day from athlete warriors such as Achilles and Ulysses to global media icons like Ali Jordan and Tiger Woods Above all Something Like the Gods is a lyrical study that will appeal to anyone who has ever imagined themselves in the spikes boots or sneakers of our greatest athletes or wondered why people do

The Eloquent Screen Gilberto Perez,2019-07-23 A lifetime of cinematic writing culminates in this breathtaking statement on film s unique ability to move us Cinema is commonly hailed as the universal language but how does it communicate so effortlessly across cultural and linguistic borders In The Eloquent Screen influential film critic Gilberto Perez makes a capstone statement on the powerful ways in which film acts on our minds and senses Drawing on a lifetime's worth of viewing and re-viewing Perez invokes a dizzying array of masters past and present including Chaplin Ford Kiarostami Eisenstein Malick Mizoguchi Haneke Hitchcock and Godard to explore the transaction between filmmaker and audience He begins by explaining how film fits into the rhetorical tradition of persuasion and argumentation Next Perez explores how film embodies the central tropes of rhetoric metaphor metonymy allegory and synecdoche and concludes with a thrilling account of cinema's spectacular capacity to create relationships of identification with its audiences Although there have been several attempts to develop a poetics of film there has been no sustained attempt to set forth a rhetoric of film one that bridges aesthetics and audience Grasping that challenge The Eloquent Screen shows how cinema as the consummate contemporary art form establishes a thoroughly modern rhetoric in which different points of view are brought into clear focus
