Art and Tradition in a Time of Uprisings Gabriel Levine, 2020-03-24 Examining radical reinventions of traditional practices ranging from a queer reclamation of the Jewish festival of Purim to an Indigenous remixing of musical traditions Supposedly outmoded modes of doing and making from music and religious rituals to crafting and cooking are flourishing both artistically and politically in the digital age In this book Gabriel Levine examines collective projects that reclaim and reinvent tradition in contemporary North America both within and beyond the frames of art Levine argues that in a time of political reaction and mass uprisings the subversion of the traditional is galvanizing artists activists musicians and people in everyday life He shows that this takes place in strikingly different ways for Indigenous and non Indigenous people in settler colonies Paradoxically experimenting with practices that have been abandoned or suppressed can offer powerful resources for creation and struggle in the present Levine shows that in projects that span the discontinuum of tradition strange encounters take place across the lines of class Indigeneity race and generations These encounters spark alliance and appropriation desire and misunderstanding creative mis translation and radical revisionism He describes the yearly Purim Extravaganza which gathers queer leftist and Yiddishist New Yorkers in a profane reappropriation of the springtime Jewish festival the Ottawa based Indigenous DJ collective A Tribe Called Red who combine traditional powwow drumming and singing with electronic dance music and the revival of home fermentation practices considering it from microbiological philosophical aesthetic and political angles Projects that take back the vernacular in this way Levine argues not only develop innovative forms of practice for a time of uprisings they can also work toward collectively reclaiming remaking and repairing a damaged world

Facing the Other Linda Bolton, 2010-03-01 Bolton is admirably focused centering broader ventures around precise turning points in the documents and incidents she has selected The book crosses generic boundaries in the spirit of an other who transcends any single history or discipline Religion and Literature Linda Bolton uses six extraordinarily resonant moments in eighteenth and nineteenth century American history to highlight the ethical challenge that the treatment of Native and African persons presented to the new republic's ideal of freedom Most daringly she examines the efficacy of the Declaration of Independence as a revolutionary text and explores the provocative question What happens when freedom eclipses justice when freedom breeds injustice Guided by the intellectual influence of philosopher Emmanuel Levinas Bolton asserts that the traditional subject centered or I concept of freedom is dependent on the transcendent presence of the Other and thus freedom becomes a privilege subordinate to justice There can be no authentic freedom as long as others whether Native American or African are reduced from full human beings to concepts and thus properties of control or power An eloquent and thoughtful rereading of the U S touchstones of democracy this book argues forcefully for an ethical understanding of American literary history Facing the Other is not a cultural history its focus is the relevance of an ethical analytic to all of eighteenth and nineteenth century American literature Using Emmanuel Levinas to guide her discussions Bolton argues that the way in which Americans valorize freedom as an ideal leads us to ignore our responsibilities for doing justice American Literature Native Liberty Gerald Vizenor,2009 Gerald Vizenor was a journalist for the Minneapolis Tribune when he discovered that his direct ancestors were the editor and publisher of The Progress the first Native newspaper on the White Earth Reservation in Minnesota Vizenor inspired by the kinship of nineteenth century Native journalists has pursued a similar sense of resistance in his reportage editorial essays and literary art Vizenor reveals in Native Liberty the political poetic visionary and ironic insights of personal identity and narratives of cultural sovereignty He examines singular acts of resistance natural reason literary practices and other strategies of survivance that evade and subvert the terminal notions of tragedy and victimry Native Liberty nurtures survivance and creates a sense of cultural and historical presence Vizenor a renowned Anishinaabe literary scholar and artist writes in a direct narrative style that integrates personal experiences with original presentations comparative interpretations and critiques of legal issues and historical situations Speculative Relations Joseph M. J. M. Synge and Travel Writing of the Irish Revival Giulia Bruna,2017-10-31 Between the late 1890s and the early 1900s the young Irish writer John Millington Synge journeyed across his home country documenting his travels intermittently for ten years His body of travel writing includes the travel book The Aran Islands his literary journalism about West Kerry and Wicklow published in various periodicals and his articles for the Manchester Guardian about rural poverty in Connemara and Mayo Although Synge s nonfiction is often considered of minor weight compared with his drama Bruna argues persuasively that his travel narratives are instances of a pioneering ethnographic and journalistic imagination J M Synge and Travel Writing of the Irish Revival is the first comprehensive study of Synge s travel writing about Ireland compiled during the zeitgeist of the preindependence Revival movement Bruna argues that Synge s nonfiction subverts inherited modes of travel writing that put an emphasis on Empire and Nation Synge s writing challenges these grand narratives by expressing a more complex idea of Irishness grounded in his empathetic observation of the local rural communities he traveled amongst Drawing from critically neglected revivalist travel literature newspapers and periodicals and visual and archival documents Bruna sketches a new portrait of a seminal Irish Literary Renaissance figure and sheds new light on the itineraries of activism and literary engagement of the broader Revival movement

Ecstatic

Consumption Pavlina Radia,2016-12-14 While modernity aspired to fix radical alienation through aesthetics by assigning an ethical value to narratives contemporary literature and the arts are no longer immune to the impact of commodity culture amplified by globalization In the world of commodity corporate logic and cyborgs the very notion of identity is frequently turned into a spectacle Yet it is also simultaneously mobilized by the search for what Jean Baudrillard describes as the ecstatic form that materializes aesthetics Ecstatic Consumption The Spectacle of Global Dystopia in Contemporary American Literature investigates not only how these transformations affect gender racial and class relations as well as how they impact the representation of historical events Pop culture media and discourses of multiculturalism both important venues of and vehicles for globalization have had an extensive effect on contemporary writers like Don DeLillo Marge Piercy and Jane Smiley as have the discourses of terrorism and assimilation on the works of Diana Abu Jaber Chang Rae Lee Shalom Auslander and Alissa Torres As the works of these authors show the tendency to unify the world as a global village has been frequently complicit in perpetuating oppressive neo colonial ideologies As these writers reveal literature no longer provides a solid cure for the somnambulist culture of instant gratification On the global stage the body becomes the ultimate commodity the fetish of ecstatic consumption as it is persistently mobilized by the search for ecstatic avatar anti forms Whether these forms provide an escape into a utopian space or further enhance the dystopian ecstasy is a crucial query framing this book As it shows the works of DeLillo Smiley Piercy Abu Jaber Lee Auslander and Torres provide important and challenging commentaries on the ecstatic gaze of global dystopia particularly its appetite for alterity and the tragic often disguised as interchangeable metaphors of Otherness fear anxiety terror pain and pleasure titillation exoticism and ecstasy Consequently the book sheds light on the ways in which the culture of spectacle is ever evolving manipulating and affecting the global dependence on the ecstasy of consumption and its many different forms

A Hopeful Political Imagination Oscar Guardiola-Rivera, 2025-09-18 Bringing political criticism a variety of theoretical approaches and the author's concrete experiences together this book offers a political definition of hope as a utopian signifier rooted in concrete processes of historical differentiation Oscar Guardiola Rivera addresses the problem of current limitations to the exercise of political imagination which severely contain encrypt and obscure our vision of social alternatives and normative possibilities While grounding ethical and political stances on liberation philosophy and the anthropology of visual systems A Hopeful Political Imagination Courage and Fantastic Critique in the Age of Meltdown engages in dialogue with theories of encryption a legality and the critique of anthropological absolutism coming from decolonial and ecological approaches It allows us to understand decryption as reversing encrypting linguistic and spatial processes in modernity and proposes a new approach called fantastic critique to reinvent the dynamics of power judgement time and the imagination based on historical literary and philosophical examples This book recovers and reimagines principles of hope and courage as republican ethical virtues of revelation of what is figured and made in movement together for practical action
