Full Circle Beginnings Endings:

Full Circle, 1980 To All the Mirrored Doors of Beginning, a Journey Ending Ruth Rifka, 2024-12-16 In her ninety sixth year Ruth Rifka still finds herself searching out and advocating for ultimate truths To All the Mirrored Doors of Beginning A Journey Ending spans the beginnings of the Ukraine Russia war and the first seven months of the Israel Hamas war It is a journey of seeking and forming a Weltanschauung a facing down of one's mortality while preoccupied with the realities of war and navigating the stress of facing down and coming to terms with the imminent demise of a husband in palliative care In the writing process the poems become sustaining prayers for peace guidance expressions of humbling gratitude and parting blessings for the reader Chinese Narratologies Xiuyan Fu, 2020-08-20 This book provides a more rational and systematic explanation for the origin and evolution of the Chinese narrative tradition based on studies of Chinese literary classics local culture and items such as bronze wares and porcelain vessels with portrayed stories By doing so it uncovers forgotten interconnections and reestablishes obscured or unacknowledged lines of descent Furthermore it makes an initial study of acoustic narrative Going beyond the field of literature it employs tools and materials from diverse fields such as anthropology religious studies mythology linguistics semiotics folklore and local culture The book also offers an archeological inquiry into the knowledge found in various narrative texts objects with portrayed stories and perceptions with relevant plots Providing a wealth of insights inspiring investigative methods and practical tools that can be applied in narrative studies the book is an essential resource for researchers and students in the fields of comparative literature narratology and ancient Chinese literature The Poetics of Empowerment in David Mitchell's Novels Eva-Maria Windberger, 2023-07-17 The Poetics of Empowerment in David Mitchell's Novels combines the investigation of David Mitchell's novels with the introduction of a new critical concept to literary studies empowerment Aiming to situate and establish empowerment firmly within the context of literary studies it offers the first framework and definition for reading fictional texts with the lens of empowerment and applies it in the analysis of discourse the fictional characters and the role of the reader in Mitchell's novels Drawing on narratological analysis cognitive approaches to literature and reader response theory it features close readings of Cloud Atlas 2004 Black Swan Green 2006 and The Thousand Autumns of Jacob de Zoet 2010 and dissects the author's strategies poetics and agenda of empowering fiction This book argues for an inherent indissoluble connection between empowerment and the telling of stories and demonstrates how literary studies can benefit from a serious engagement with empowerment and how such an engagement can stimulate new responses to fiction and put literary studies in conversation with other disciplines Forms and Functions of Endings in Narrative Digital Games Michelle Herte, 2020-09-16 This book looks closely at the endings of narrative digital games examining their ways of concluding the processes of both storytelling and play in order to gain insight into what endings are and how we identify them in different media While narrative digital games share many representational strategies for signalling their upcoming end with more traditional narrative media such as novels or movies they also show many forms of endings that often radically differ from our conventional understanding of conclusion and closure From vast game worlds that remain open for play after a story's finale to multiple endings that are often hailed as a means for players to create their own stories to the potentially tragic endings of failure and game over digital games question the traditional singularity and finality of endings Using a broad range of examples this book delves deeply into these and other forms and their functions both to reveal the closural specificities of the ludonarrative hybrid that digital games are as well as to find the core elements that characterise endings in any medium It examines how endings make themselves known to players and raises the question of how well established closural conventions blend with play and a player's effort to achieve a goal As an interdisciplinary study that draws on game studies as much as on transmedial narratology Forms and Functions of Endings in Narrative Digital Games is suited for scholars and students of digital games as well as for narratologists yet to become familiar with this medium
