Function And Structure In Honor Of Susumu Kuno Pragmatics Beyond New S:

Beyond Misunderstanding Kristin Bührig, Jan D. ten Thije, 2006-05-09 This book challenges two tacit presumptions in the field of intercultural communication research Firstly misunderstandings can frequently be found in intercultural communication although one could not claim that intercultural communication is constituted by misunderstandings alone This volume shows how new perspectives on linguistic analyses of intercultural communication go beyond the analysis of misunderstanding Secondly intercultural communication is not solely constituted by the fact that individuals from different cultural groups interact Each contribution of this volume analyses to what extent instances of discourse are institutionally and or interculturally determined These linguistic reflections involve different theoretical frameworks e g functional grammar systemic functional linguistics functional pragmatics rhetorical conversation analysis ethno methodological conversation analysis linguistic anthropology and a critical discourse approach As the contributions focus on the discourse of genetic counseling gate keeping discourse international team co operation international business communication workplace discourse internet communication and lamentation discourse the book exemplifies that the analysis of intercultural communication is organized in response to social needs and therefore may contribute to the social justification of linguistics

Reflexive Pronouns: A Theoretical and Experimental Synthesis Darcy Sperlich, 2021-01-04 This book presents a comprehensive picture of reflexive pronouns from both a theoretical and experimental perspective using the well researched languages of English German Dutch Chinese Japanese and Korean In order to understand the data from varying theoretical perspectives the book considers selected syntactic and pragmatic analyses based on their current importance in the field The volume consequently introduces the Emergentist Reflexivity Approach which is a novel theoretical synthesis incorporating a sentence and pragmatic processor that accounts for reflexive pronoun behaviour in these six languages Moreover in support of this model a vast array of experimental literature is considered including first and second language acquisition bilingual psycholinguistic neurolinguistic and clinical studies It is through both the intuitive and experimental data linguistic theorizing relies upon that brings out the strengths of the modelling adopted here paving new avenues for future research In sum this volume unites a diverse array of the literature that currently sits largely divorced between the theoretical and experimental realms and when put together a better understanding of reflexive pronouns under the auspices of the Emergentist Reflexivity Approach is forged

Expressing the Self Minyao Huang, Katarzyna Jaszczolt, 2018 This book addresses different linguistic and philosophical aspects of referring to the self in a wide range of languages from different language families including Amharic English French Japanese Korean Mandarin Newari Sino Tibetan Polish Tariana Arawak and Thai In the domain of speaking about oneself languages use a myriad of expressions that cut across grammatical and semantic categories as well as a wide variety of constructions Languages of Southeast and East Asia famously employ a great number of terms for first person reference to signal honorification The number and mixed properties of these terms make them debatable candidates for pronounhood with many grammar driven classifications opting to classify them with nouns. Some languages make use of egophors or logophors and many exhibit an interaction between expressing the self and expressing evidentiality qua the epistemic status of information held from the ego perspective. The volume's focus on expressing the self however is not directly motivated by an interest in the grammar or lexicon but instead stems from philosophical discussions on the special status of thoughts about oneself known as de se thoughts. It is this interdisciplinary understanding of expressing the self that underlies this volume comprising philosophy of mind at one end of the spectrum and cross cultural pragmatics of self expression at the other. This unprecedented juxtaposition results in a novel method of approaching de se and de se expressions in which research methods from linguistics and philosophy inform each other. The importance of this interdisciplinary perspective on expressing the self cannot be overemphasized. Crucially the volume also demonstrates that linguistic research on first person reference makes a valuable contribution to research on the self tout court by exploring the ways in which the self is expressed and thereby adding to the insights gained through philosophy, psychology and cognitive science.
