Tauber, Maurice R. Green, 2013-04-15 One of the foundational texts of interpersonal psychoanalysis Prelogical Experience 1959 is a pioneering attempt to elaborate an interpersonal theory of personality that encompasses the nonpropositional nonverbal dimension of human experience Prelogical processes the authors hold cannot be consigned to infancy rather they shape experience throughout life and are especially salient in relation to dreams emotion perception and the arts Of special note is Tauber and Green's elaboration of the clinical situation that grows out of an appreciation of prelogical experience In a striking anticipation of contemporary thinking they approach patient therapist interaction in terms of the continuous exchange of presentational data by patient and analyst These data enable patient and therapist alike to know more about the other than can ever be expressed in propositional terms This perspective assigns an important role to what Piaget would term the cognitive unconscious in the clinical process It likewise sustains a view of the countertransference which includes the analyst's own dreams as a vital source of presentational data about the patient As Donnel Stern notes in his Introduction these and other insights amount to a surprisingly contemporary description of psychoanalytic treatment Vita Laudanda Erich R.W. Schultz, 1976-02-01 Ulrich Leupold was associated with Wilfrid Laurier University from 1945 1970 Throughout the twenty five year period he taught music history and appreciation Greek and religious studies courses in the College and New Testament liturgics and church music in the Seminary He also conducted the College choir Male Chorus and Seminary Chapel choir This collection of essays has been compiled in memory of a respected professor and dean The articles are written by friends former pupils and colleagues in the field of New Testament studies and church music They deal with theological liturgical and ecumenical themes The editor of the volume and compiler of the bibliography is Erich Schultz University Library Wilfrid Laurier University Polish-Jewish Literature in the Interwar Years Eugenia Prokop-Janiec, 2003-04-01 Foremost among a recent wave of Polish books on Jewish issues this groundbreaking work rectifies long held misconceptions about Polish Jewish writers Popular notion has it that Polish Jewish writers unlike their counterparts in Western Northern and Central Europe wrote solely in Yiddish or Hebrew Yet between the two world wars Poland produced an elite group of assimilated Jews who wrote exclusively in Polish Theirs was not an easy lot Torn between love of Poland and its literature and their own Jewish identity they straddled a fine line between two cultural worlds at once advocating acculturation while prey to virulent anti-Semitism This pioneering award winning volume examines the emergence and development of these writers their personal plight and the profound effect they had upon Polish letters and poetry Meticulously researched it explores the role of language as a bridge attitudes toward Polish writing impact of the ghetto and the transformation of Polish into a force for its Jewish populace Finally it pays homage to fine literary voices
