Form As Content And Rhetoric In The Modern Novel:

Form as Content and Rhetoric in the Modern Novel Michael Boccia, 1989 This book examines the fiction of modern authors who have deviated from the traditional modes of narrative structure to reflect thematic elements In so doing these writers have created new novelistic forms that surprise and entrance readers in new ways The works of Vladimir Nabokov Ismael Reed Manuel Puig William Gaddis Djuna Barnes John Fowles and Lawrence Durrell are examined in terms of the aesthetic theories provided by the writers themselves

Form, Content and Rhetoric in the Modern Novel: Or what the Hell is Going on Here Anyway?, 1980 Rhetoric in Modern Japan Massimiliano Tomasi, 2004-07-31 Rhetoric in Modern Japan is the first volume to discuss the role of Western rhetoric in the creation of a modern Japanese oral and narrative style It considers the introduction of Western rhetoric clarifying its interactions with the forces and synergies that shaped Japanese literature and culture in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Focusing on the Meiji and Taisho years 1868 1926 it challenges the prevailing view among contemporary scholars that rhetoric did not play a significant role in the literary developments of the period Massimiliano Tomasi chronicles the blooming of scholarship in the field in the early 1870s providing the first descriptive analysis and cogently articulated critique of the major rhetorical treatises of the time In discussing the rise of public speaking in early Meiji society he unveils the existence of crucial links between the study of rhetoric and the social and literary events of the time underscoring the key role played by oratory both as a tool for social modernization and as an effective platform for the reappraisal of the spoken language The collusion and conflicts characterizing rhetoric and its relationship with the genbun itchi movement which sought to unify spoken and written language are explored demonstrating that their perceived antagonism was the uh_product of a misguided notion of rhetoric and the process of rhetorical signification rather than a true theoretical conflict Tomasi makes a convincing argument that in fact Western rhetoric mediated between these equally compelling pursuits and paved the way toward an acceptable compromise between classical and colloquial written styles either the level of content or that of form has often provoked controversies most contributions here treat them as internally connected While theoretical considerations inform many of the readings the main interest of most articles can be described as rhetorical in the widest sense given that the ancient discipline of rhetoric did not only include the study of rhetorical figures and tropes such as metaphor irony or satire but also that of topoi which were originally viewed as the places where certain arguments could be found but later came to represent the arguments or intellectual themes themselves Another feature shared by most of the articles is the tendency of undeclared thematology which not only reflects the persistence of the charge of positivism but also shows that most scholars prefer to locate themselves within more specific often interdisciplinary fields of literary study In this sense this volume does not only prove the ongoing relevance of traditional fields such as rhetoric and thematology but provides contributions to currently flourishing research areas among them literary multilingualism literature and emotions and ecocriticism
