

The Birth of Modern Judaism

- Rabbinic Judaism began at this time, by a group known as the Pharisees
- They encouraged people to gather in synagogues and study the Torah in houses now that the temple was destroyed.
- Individuals called Rabbis interpreted the Torah to help the Jewish people follow the laws of the covenant

Formanalytical Comparison In Rabbinic Judaism Usf Studies In The History Of Judaism:

Form-Analytical Comparison in Rabbinic Judaism Jacob Neusner,1992 Neusner on Judaism Jacob

Neusner,2017-11-28 Jacob Neusner has published more than 1000 books and articles scholarly and academic popular and journalistic and is one of the most published humanities scholars in the world Over a period of fifty years he has made significant insightful and challenging contributions to the study of Rabbinic Judaism particularly in the disciplines covered in the three volumes which make up Neusner on Judaism the study of history volume 1 literature volume 2 and religion and theology volume 3 These unique volumes of selective writings by Jacob Neusner with new introductions by the author offer scholars an invaluable resource in the field of Judaic Studies Building Blocks of Rabbinic Tradition Jacob

Neusner,2008 This book responds to a question that came to the author from Professor Maren Niehoff of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem Have you written a simple introduction to your documentary theory and method which can serve as a starting point for my students In this book are gathered eight of the more fundamental items of documentary theory and practice _three in theory five in practice_ for Professor Neihoff s students and anyone else who takes an interest in the formative history of Judaism The documentary thesis of Rabbinic literature holds that the document _the Mishnah Sifra Lamentations Rabbah the Bavli for example_ forms the basic building block of the Rabbinic tradition Excluded by that definition are sayings attributed to and stories told about named sages These cannot serve in the reconstruction of the Rabbinic tradition its literature history religion and theology Texts Without Boundaries: The Mishnah, Tractate Abot, and the Tosefta Jacob Neusner,2002 Texts Without Boundaries: Sifré to Deuteronomy and Mekhilta attributed to Rabbi Ishmael Jacob Neusner,2002 The Rabbinic compilations in the canon of Rabbinic Judaism from the Mishnah through the Bavli ca 200 600 C E are comprised by two classifications of writing 1 documentary and 2 non documentary Documentary writing conforms to a protocol paramount in and particular to a given text non documentary writing ignores the distinctive preferences of the compilation in which it appears The former is defined for each Rabbinic document respectively by a unique combination of choices as to form or rhetoric topic or problem or proposition and logic of coherent discourse and analysis terms explained presently The latter type of writing simply ignores the indicative documentary traits It thereby crosses the boundaries that separate one text from another indeed a given canonical compilation from all others Texts without boundaries refers to writing that ignores the protocols of the document s in which it is preserved Comparative Hermeneutics of Rabbinic Judaism, The, Volume Eight Jacob Neusner,2000 Systematic account of the hermeneutics of comparison and contrast of Rabbinic Judaism Texts Without Boundaries: Sifra and Sifré to Numbers Jacob Neusner,2002 The Rabbinic compilations in the canon of Rabbinic Judaism from the Mishnah through the Bavli ca 200 600 C E are comprised by two classifications of writing 1 documentary and 2 non documentary Documentary writing conforms to a protocol paramount in and particular to a given text Non documentary writing ignores the distinctive preferences of the compilation in which it appears The former is defined for each Rabbinic document respectively by a unique combination of choices as to form or rhetoric topic or problem or proposition and logic of coherent discourse and analysis terms explained presently The latter type of writing simply ignores the indicative documentary traits It thereby crosses the boundaries that separate one text from another indeed a given canonical compilation from all others Texts without boundaries refers to writing that ignores the protocols of the document s in which it is preserved Texts Without Boundaries: Leviticus rabbah Jacob Neusner,2002 The Rabbinic compilations in the canon of Rabbinic Judaism from the Mishnah through the Bavli ca 200 600 C E are comprised by two classifications of writing 1 documentary and 2 non documentary Documentary writing conforms to a protocol paramount in and particular to a given text non documentary writing ignores the distinctive preferences of the compilation in which it appears The former is defined for each Rabbinic document respectively by a unique combination of choices as to form or rhetoric topic or problem or proposition and logic of coherent discourse and analysis terms explained presently The latter type of writing simply ignores the indicative documentary traits It thereby crosses the boundaries that separate one text from another indeed a given canonical compilation from all others Texts without boundaries refers to writing that ignores the protocols of the document s in which it is preserved Approaches to Ancient Judaism Jacob Neusner,1990 Formative Judaism Jacob Neusner,2000 Examines the history philosophy and hermeneutics and law and literature of formative Judaism The Documentary Form-history of Rabbinic Literature: The aggadic sector Jacob Neusner,1998 Contours of Coherence in Rabbinic Judaism (2 vols) Jacob Neusner,2021-12-06 A three part set of monographs on the coherence of Rabbinic Judaism in its literature Part one In the Rabbinic literature of late antiquity disputes and alternative interpretations of a common datum form a medium of expressing coherence Part two system over self asks about the role of individual sayings and traditions The Bavli imposes on received sayings and stories its forms and topical Halakhic program Part three Talmudic knowledge asks do the types and forms of Mishnah exegesis and Halakhah analysis of the Bavli make possible a sequential history of the Talmudic knowledge layer by layer for example generation by generation With adequately classified data in hand we may describe the generative logic of Talmudic analysis as that exegetical and analytical process unfolding in sequences is signified by the requirements of a pure atemporal dialectics Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1996 Formative Judaism: Chapters on form-history, documentary description, and the social, religious, and theological study of Judaism Jacob Neusner,1996 Contours of Coherence in Rabbinic Judaism: System over self : the limited role of the sage in the Bavli Jacob Neusner,2005 This book shows that the disputes that characterize Rabbinic writings in the formative age underscore the coherence of Rabbinic Judaism It is in three separate monographs The first shows that disagreements concern secondary and tertiary issues They therefore reinforce the primary norm by identifying as moot only trivial details The second demonstrates alternatively that Halakhic disputes articulate unresolved conflict over generative principles Sometimes in the presentation of topics of the law

disputes not only indicate the range of consensus but bring to expression conflicting alternative theories that claim equal validity but contradict one another Third in some presentations of the law and in all presentations of theology where disputes occur disputes simply gloss details in the application of accepted principles They form a part of the exercise of legal or theological exegesis filling in gaps with alternative facts From Text to Historical Context in Rabbinic Judaism Jacob Neusner,1993 Judaism and Story Jacob Neusner,1992-09-15 In this close analysis of The Fathers According to Rabbi Nathan a sixth century commentary on the Mishnah tractate The Fathers Avot Jacob Neusner considers the way in which the story as a distinctive type of narrative entered the canonical writings of Judaism The final installment in Neusner s cycle of analyses of the major texts of the Judaic canon Judaism and Story shows that stories about sages exist in far greater proportion in The Fathers According to Rabbi Nathan than in any of the other principal writings in the canon of Judaism of late antiquity Neusner s detailed comparison of The Fathers and The Fathers According to Rabbi Nathan demonstrates the transmission and elaboration of these stories and shows how these processes incorporated the newer view of the sage as a supernatural figure and of the eschatological character of Judaic teleology These distinctions as Neusner describes them mark a shift in Jewish orientation to world history Judaism and Story documents a chapter of rabbinic tradition that explored the possibility of historical orientation by means of stories As Neusner demonstrates this experiment with narrative went beyond the borders of rabbinic preoccupation with rhetorical argumentation focused on the explication of the Torah The sage story moved in the direction of biography but without allowing biography to emerge This development in Neusner s account parallels the movement from epistle to Gospel in early Christianity and thus has broad implications for the history of religions

The Documentary Form-history of Rabbinic Literature: The aggadic sector Jacob Neusner,1998 From Text to Historical Context in Rabbinic Judaism: The later midrash compilations: Genesis Rabbah, Leviticus Rabbah, and Pesiqta deRab Kahana Jacob Neusner,1994 From Text to Historical Context in Rabbinic Judaism Jacob Neusner,1993
