Forms Of Value And Valuation Theory And Applications:

Forms of Value and Valuation Rem B. Edwards, John W. Davis, 2014-12-02 Robert S Hartman died an untimely death in 1973 Since then many of his friends colleagues and former students have worked diligently on his formal theory of value and have made important advances in developing both the theory itself and practical applications of it Those familiar with his work are convinced that he made extraordinary advances in theoretical and applied axiology Bob Hartman saw the Form of the Good He laid the foundations for a science of values still being developed This book is written by members of the Robert S Hartman Institute to acquaint others better with his achievements and to forge ahead where he left many problems unresolved Robert Schirokauer escaped from Nazi Germany in 1933 on a false passport that read Robert Hartman He kept the name but later added the S He became a prominent and highly innovative philosopher who dedicated his life to resolving problems about human values as expressed in his own words I thought to myself if evil can be organized so efficiently by the Nazis why cannot good Is there any reason for efficiency to be monopolized by the forces for evil in the world Why have good people in history never seemed to have had as much power as bad people I decided I would try to find out why and devote my life to doing something about it

Formal Axiology and Its Critics, 2021-08-16 Formal Axiology and Its Critics consists of two parts both of which present criticisms of the formal theory of values developed by Robert S Hartman replies to these criticisms plus a short introduction to formal axiology Part I consists of articles published or made public during the lifetime of Hartman to which he personally replied It contains previously published replies to Hector Neri Casta eda William Eckhardt and Robert S Brumbaugh and previously unpublished replies to Charles Hartshorne Rem B Edwards Robert E Carter G R Grice Nicholas Rescher Robert W Mueller Gordon Welty Pete Gunter and George K Plochmann in an unfinished but now completed article on which Hartman was working at the time of his death in 1973 Part II consists of articles presented at recent annual meetings of the R S Hartman Institute for Formal and Applied Axiology that continue to criticize and further develop Hartman's formal axiology. An article by Rem B Edwards raises serious unanswered questions about formal axiology and ethics. Another by Frank G Forrest shows how the formal value calculus based on set theory might answer these questions and an article by Mark A Moore points out weaknesses in the Hartman Forrest value calculus and develops an alternative calculus based upon the mathematics of quantum mechanics. While recognizing that unsolved problems remain the book intends to make the theoretical foundations and future promise of formal axiology much more secure. Open Access funding for this volume has been provided by the Robert S Hartman Institute.

Designing for Inclusion Patrick Langdon, Jonathan Lazar, Ann Heylighen, Hua Dong, 2020-04-16 This proceedings book presents papers from the 10th Cambridge Workshops on Universal Access and Assistive Technology. The CWUAAT series of workshops have celebrated a long history of interdisciplinarity including design disciplines, computer scientists, engineers, architects, ergonomists, ethnographers, ethicists, policymakers, practitioners, and user communities. This reflects the wider increasing realisation over the long duration of the series that design for inclusion is not limited to technology engineering disciplines and computer science but instead requires an interdisciplinary approach. The key to this is providing a platform upon which the different disciplines can engage and see each other's antecedents, methods, and point of view. This proceedings book of the 10th CWUAAT conference presents papers in a variety of topics including Reconciling usability, accessibility, and inclusive design; Designing inclusive assistive and rehabilitation systems; Designing cognitive interaction with emerging technologies; Designing inclusive architecture; Data mining and visualising inclusion; Legislation, standards, and policy in inclusive design; Situational inclusive interfaces; and The historical perspective. 20 years of CWUAAT. CWUAAT has always aimed to be inclusive in the fields that it invites to the workshop. We must include social science, psychology, anthropology, economics, politics, governance, and business. This requirement is now energised by imminent new challenges arising from techno-social change. In particular, artificial intelligence, wireless technologies, and the Internet of Things generate a pressing need for more socially integrated projects with operational consequences on individuals in the built environment and at all levels of design and society. Business cases and urgent environmental issues such as sustainability and transportation should now be a focus point for inclusion in an increasingly challenging world. This proceedings book continues the goal of designing for inclusion as set out by the CWUAAT when it first started.

them The Presidential Address is a unique genre resembling in some ways a sermon Indeed preparing a presidential address before a philosophical society is often an exercise in developing an exhortation to members to take up a neglected topic to embrace as important a particular viewpoint it may as well be a cautionary to avoid a particular error It is often a dramatic moment as a last act of the presidency having observed closely the trends and winds blowing through the discipline the speaker is afforded the opportunity to hold forth on a topic at once intensely personal and believed to be of wide interest While some societies publish presidential addresses in newsletters or informal proceedings and occasionally in professional bulletins or journals rarely have a substantial bloc of a society's presidential addresses been collected and published under one cover Too often the presidential address is delivered discussed by those present perhaps summarized in a paragraph in a newsletter to members and filed as a fond memory of a moment of honor in the papers of the author sometimes to be forgotten lost discarded or otherwise removed from availability to scholars of the history of philosophy This volume inaugurates a series aiming at preserving presidential and other major addresses before philosophical societies It seeks to be a historical record not only of the address but also of the reflections and recollections of the author It seeks to preserve as a part of the historical record a photograph of the author And with the personal character of an autobiographical statement it seeks to humanize and render lively and real the professi
