The Stage Life of Props Andrew Sofer,2010-02-22 In The Stage Life of Props Andrew Sofer aims to restore to certain props the performance dimensions that literary critics are trained not to see then to show that these props are not just accessories but time machines of the theater Using case studies that explore the Eucharistic wafer on the medieval stage the bloody handkerchief on the Elizabethan stage the skull on the Jacobean stage the fan on the Restoration and early eighteenth century stage and the gun on the modern stage Andrew Sofer reveals how stage props repeatedly thwart dramatic convention and reinvigorate theatrical practice While the focus is on specific objects Sofer also gives us a sweeping history of half a millennium of stage history as seen through the device of the prop revealing that as material ghosts stage props are a way for playwrights to animate stage action question theatrical practice and revitalize dramatic form Andrew Sofer is

Rooms with a View Richard Lewis Barr, 2025-10-01 In Sam Shepard s play Action a character asks What s a community only to find that no one really knows Rooms with a View attempts to chart the development of communal concepts through the discourse of dramatic modernism defining a coherent pattern that illustrates and anticipates innovations in modern and postmodern social theory To clarify the commonplace notion that audiences actively participate in dramatic art the introductory chapter theorizes a performance community which audience actors and other backstage actants such as playwrights and directors provisionally form in the theater Connecting psychological sociological and aesthetic insights ranging from Freud to Kohut from Simmel to Nancy and from Artaud and Brecht to Arnheim and Jellicoe Richard Barr shows how modernist thinkers are repeatedly drawn to the ideal of communion The distinctive structure of this collective inquiry helps untangle the roots and routes of modern drama and social thought Barr analyzes the social and aesthetic theory of four influential dramatists Ibsen and Strindberg he claims explore ways of acknowledging the integrity of individual viewpoints while maintaining collective coherence Pirandello and in more radical ways Beckett conclude that conflict and division are not simply inevitable but invaluable in organizing alternative perspectives By analyzing the ways playwrights variously conceive and achieve the complicated unity called community Rooms with a View produces the rich paradox that difference may make the most difference in creative communal consensus Richard L Barr holds a Ph D from the University of Virginia and has taught English at Rutgers University He is currently a specialist in intersubjective relations practicing in New Jersey and Switzerland

Postmodern/drama Stephen Watt, 1998 Scrutinizing the critical tendency to label texts or writers as postmodern scholar Stephen Watt argues that reading post modernly merely implies reading culture more broadly In contemporary drama Watt considers postmodernity less a question of genre or media than a mode of subjectivity shared by both playwright and audience 6 illustrations

Sightlines Helen Gilbert, 2025-10-01 Sightlines Race Gender and Nation in Contemporary Australian Theatre asserts the centrality of theater to the ongoing negotiations of the Australian context By exploring ways in which ideas about race gender and nation are expressed in concrete theatrical contexts the performative qualities of theatrical representation are revealed as compelling important sites of critique Helen Gilbert discusses an exciting variety of plays drawing examples from marginalized groups as well as from the theatrical mainstream While fully engaged with the discourses of contemporary critical thought Sightlines remains focused on the material stuff of the theater grounding its discussion in the visual elements of costume movement and scenography And although focused specifically on performance the author's insistent interest in historical and political contexts also speaks to the broader concerns of cultural studies The book's recurrent concern with representations of Aboriginality particularly in the works of nonindigenous playwrights draws attention to racial politics as a perennial motif in postcolonial nations Its illumination of the relationships between patriarchy and imperialism is supported by an extensive discussion of plays by and about women This nomadic approach marks Sightlines as a groundbreaking study of recent Australian theater a provocative application of postcolonial theory to the embodied qualities of theatrical representation An impressive and ground breaking study that provides a coherent postcolonial approach to Australian drama Bill Ashcroft University of New South Wales Elegantly written and always beautifully lucid in its argument this is a very original work particularly in its marriage of performance theory and postcolonial analysis Deidre Coleman University of Sydney Helen Gilbert is Lecturer in Drama and Theatre Studies University of Queensland and co author with Joanne Tompkins of Post Colonial Drama Theory Practice Politics
