Torriano Berry,Venise T. Berry,2009-09-02 On 4 July 1910 in 100 degree heat at an outdoor boxing ring near Reno Nevada film cameras recorded and thousands of fans witnessed former heavyweight champion Jim Jeffries reluctant return from retirement to fight Jack Johnson a black man After 14 grueling rounds Johnson knocked out Jeffries and for the first time in history there was a black heavyweight champion of the world At least 10 people lost their lives because of Johnson s victory and hundreds more were injured due to white retaliation and wild celebrations in the streets Public screenings received instantaneous protests and hundreds of cities barred the film from being shown Congress even passed a law making it a federal offense to transport moving pictures of prizefights across state lines and thus the most powerful portrayal of a black man ever recorded on film was made virtually invisible This is but one of the hundreds of films covered in The A to Z of African American Cinema which includes everything from The Birth of a Nation to Crash In addition to the films brief biographies of African American actors and actresses such as Sidney Poitier James Earl Jones Halle Berry Eddie Murphy Whoopi Goldberg Denzel Washington and Jamie Foxx can be found in this reference Through a chronology a list of acronyms and abbreviations an introductory essay a bibliography appendixes black white photos and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on actors actresses movies producers organizations awards film credits and terminology this book provides a better understanding of the role African Americans played in film history Stuntwomen Mollie

Gregory,2015-11-19 They've traded punches in knockdown brawls, crashed biplanes through barns and raced to the rescue in fast cars. They add suspense and drama to the story portraying the swimmer stalked by the menacing shark, the heroine dangling twenty feet below a soaring hot air balloon or the woman leaping nine feet over a wall to escape a dog attack. Only an expert can make such feats of daring look easy, and stuntwomen with the skills to perform and survive great moments of action in movies have been hitting their mark in Hollywood since the beginning of film. Here Mollie Gregory presents the first history of stuntwomen in the film industry from the silent era to the twenty-first century. In the early years of motion pictures, women were highly involved in all aspects of film production, but they were marginalized as movies became popular and more important and profitable. Capable stuntwomen were replaced by men in wigs, and very few worked between the 1930s and 1960s. As late as the 1990s, men wore wigs and women's clothes to double as actresses and were even painted down for some performances, while men and women of color were regularly denied stunt work. For decades, stuntwomen have faced institutional discrimination, unequal pay, and sexual harassment, even as they jumped from speeding trains and raced horse-drawn carriages away from burning buildings. Featuring sixty-five interviews, Stuntwomen showcases the absorbing stories and uncommon courage of women who make their living planning and performing action-packed sequences that keep viewers' hearts racing.

Television Program Master Index Charles V. Dintrone,2014-02-01 This work indexes books, dissertations, and journal articles that mention television shows. Memoirs, autobiographies, biographies, and some popular works meant for fans are also indexed. The major focus is on service to researchers in the history of television. Listings are keyed to an annotated bibliography. Appendices include a list of websites, an index of groups or classes of people on television, and a list of programs by genre. Changes from the second edition include more than 300 new shows airing on a wider variety of networks, 2000 plus references, more than double the second edition, and a large increase in scholarly articles. The book provides access to materials on almost 2300 shows, including groundbreaking ones like All in the Family, almost 200 entries on cult favorites like Buffy the Vampire Slayer, 200 plus entries, and a classic franchise Star Trek, more than 400 entries for all the shows. The shows covered range from the late 1940s to 2010. The Walking Dead. References range from 1956 to 2013.

Changing Channels Glenn C. Altschuler, David I. Grossvogel,1992 With weekly sales of 20 million copies, TV Guide has had the largest circulation of any magazine in the U.S. and has dealt for decades with contemporary social and political issues. Here is a star-studded tour of television history that also chronicles the publication's more recent moves under the ownership of Rupert Murdoch. Photographs. The Race of Ratings Lawrence Hazelrigg, Brenda Hughes,2025-07-24 Our book presents results of an analysis of the time series of ratings during the lifetime of each of 400 prime-time US televised comedies and dramas, 1963 to 1994, based on more than 13,000 time-stamped observations of show-specific ratings. The research was motivated substantively by one question: was the process that generated ratings per show uniform across all shows, or was it differentiated by the racial composition of the show's main cast members. In order to answer that question we first had to construct a model of the actual ratings time series of each show using a uniform basic model that allowed show to show differences on multiple variables. Then second cross show differences of process parameters plus the compositional variables were estimated using both linear mainly OLS regression and non linear mainly spectral analysis techniques. The presentation is gradual and narrative as well as mathematical. Analytic techniques are explained in simple terms. The book is therefore a manual of instruction in the analysis of time series data as well as a research monograph reporting the results of one substantive study.

Reruns on File Donald G. Godfrey, 2013-09-13 For more than half a century broadcast recordings have reflected an important aspect of our culture and history. An increasing number of archivists and private collectors have restored and exchanged radio and television materials. However despite the awareness of these primary resource materials there is still some reluctance to utilize this aural and visual history resource. A part of this reluctance is due to the fact that little is known about the existence of many collections throughout the nation. This volume provides a comprehensive directory of electronic media archives in the United States and Canada. It describes each collection focusing on its speciality providing the serious researcher with ready access information to these electronic media program resources. Focusing on both private and institutional collections it is organized by state and city with indexes to provide the scholar with subject and location of specific topics of interest.

101 Forgotten Films Brian Mills, 2008-11-01 Somewhere in the labyrinth of our memories are films that we have seen and cannot forget but frustratingly may never see again because they have mysteriously vanished from the public domain. They may be hidden away in a film studio's vault buried beneath the floorboards of a filmmaker's home imprisoned by some ancient legality refused release at a director's whim or simply not optioned by a distributor. This book brings back to life 101 films that are entombed in a cinema cemetery and in so doing unearths a film noir masterpiece a French classic a Mastroianni feature comparable to Cinema Paradiso a pioneering Independent film of the 1950s a Joan Crawford headliner an amazing Nicholas Ray experimental feature Italian comedies by Nichetti and lost gems by Widerberg Hitchcock Lang Ford Lubitsch Litvak Dmytryk Kazan Cacoyannis Boetticher Zinnemann Ray Huston and many more luminaries of the silver screen. Though critics may acclaim them audiences applaud them and Sundance or Cannes may screen them no film is guaranteed a general release and too many disappear into oblivion. This book pays homage to those lost films that deserve to be exhibited beyond the screen of our memories.

Primetime Blues Donald Bogle, 2015-08-18 A landmark study by the leading critic of African American film and television. Primetime Blues is the first comprehensive history of African Americans on network television. Donald Bogle examines the stereotypes which too often continue to march across the screen today but also shows the ways in which television has been invigorated by extraordinary black performers whose presence on the screen has been of great significance to the African American community. Bogle's exhaustive study moves from the postwar era of Beulah and Amos n Andy to the politically restless sixties reflected in I Spy and an edgy ultra hip program like Mod Squad He examines the television of the seventies when a nation still caught up in Vietnam and Watergate retreated into the ethnic humor of Sanford and Son and Good Times and the politically conservative eighties marked by the unexpected success of The Cosby Show and the emergence of deracialized characters on such dramatic series as L A Law Finally he turns a critical eye to the television landscape of the nineties with shows such as The Fresh Prince of Bel Air I ll Fly Away ER and The Steve Harvey Show Note The ebook edition does not include photos

The Marxist and the Movies Larry Ceplair, 2007-11-16 As part of its effort to expose Communist infiltration in the United States and eliminate Communist influence on movies from 1947-1953 the House Committee on Un American Activities subpoenaed hundreds of movie industry employees suspected of membership in the Communist Party Most of them including screenwriter Paul Jarrico 1915-1997 invoked the Fifth Amendment and refused to answer questions about their political associations They were all blacklisted In The Marxist and the Movies Larry Ceplair narrates the life movie career and political activities of Jarrico the recipient of an Oscar nomination for his screenplay for Tom Dick and Harry 1941 and the producer of Salt of the Earth 1954 one of the most politically besieged films in the history of the United States Though Jarrico did not reach the upper echelon of screenwriting he worked steadily in Hollywood until his blacklisting He was one of the movie industry's most engaged Communists working on behalf of dozens of social and political causes Song of Russia 1944 was one of the few assignments that allowed him to express his political beliefs through his screenwriting craft Though MGM planned the film as a conventional means of boosting domestic support for the USSR a wartime ally of the United States it came under attack by a host of anti Communists Jarrico fought the blacklist in many ways and his greatest battle involved the making of Salt of the Earth Jarrico other blacklisted individuals and the families of the miners who were the subject of the film created a landmark film in motion picture history As did others on the blacklist Jarrico decided that Europe offered a freer atmosphere than that of the cold war United States Although he continued to support political causes while living abroad he found it difficult to find remunerative black market screenwriting assignments On the scripts he did complete he had to use a pseudonym or allow the producers to give screen credit to others Upon returning to the United States in 1977 he led the fight to restore screen credits to the blacklisted writers who like himself had been denied screen credit from the late 1940s to the mid 1960s Despite all the obstacles he encountered Jarrico never lost his faith in the progressive potential of movies and the possibility of a socialist future The Marxist and the Movies details the relationship between a screenwriter's work and his Communist beliefs From Jarrico's immense archive interviews with him and those who knew him best and a host of other sources Ceplair has crafted an insider's view of Paul Jarrico's life and work placing both in the context of U S cultural history
