Foulois and the U.S. Army Air Corps, 1931-1935 John F. Shiner, 1983 Foulois and the U.S. Army Air Corps: 1931-1935, The Regulars Edward M. Coffman, 2009-07-01 In 1898 the American Regular Army was a small frontier constabulary engaged in skirmishes with Indians and protesting workers 43 years later it was a large modern army ready to wage war against the Germans and the Japanese In this social history of America's standing army a military historian tells how that transformation was accomplished The Inspectors General of the United States Army, 1903-1939 Joseph W. A. Whitehorne, 1998 Den amerikanske hær Generalinspektorat er en institution der begyndte sit virke i 1777 Inspektoratet har haft stor betydning for den amerikanske hær udvikling og historie Nærværende bind beskæftiger sig med perioden 1903-1939 hvor USA's hær gennemgik store forandringer bl.a. indførtes en Generalstab som i andre stormagtshære og USA deltog i 1. Verdenskrig KGB har også beskrivelsen af perioden 1777-1903 se X860259314 American Military Aviation Charles Joseph Gross, 2002 Discusses major developments in aircraft doctrine training and operations The author also provides discussions of airlife in flight refueling military budgets industry and inter service squabbling He deftly sketches the evolution of the air arms of each of the different services and provides clear analysis of military budgets The Inspectors General of the United States Army, 1903-1939 Joseph W. A. Whitehorne, 1998 Recounts how the inspectorate became one of the most consistent and important agents for change within the War Department Provides the analyses much of the criticism and most of the description of the Army's metamorphosis Aviation in the U.S. Army, 1919-1939 Maurer Maurer, 1987 From Kites to Cold War Tyler W. Morton, 2019-10-15 From Kites to Cold War tells the story of the evolution of manned airborne reconnaissance Long a desire of military commanders the ability to see the terrain ahead and gain foreknowledge of enemy intent was realized when Chinese airmen mounted kites to surveil their surroundings Kite technology was slow to spread and by the late nineteenth century European nations had developed the balloon and airship to conduct this mission By 1918 it was obvious that the airplane had become the reconnaissance platform of the future Used successfully by many nations during the Great War aircraft technology and capability experienced its most rapid evolutionary period during World War II Entering the war with just basic airborne imagery capabilities by VE and VJ days air power pioneers greatly improved imagery collection and developed sophisticated airborne signals intelligence collection capabilities The United States and other nations put these capabilities to use as the Cold War immediately followed Flying near the periphery of and sometimes directly over the Soviet Union airborne reconnaissance provided the intelligence necessary to stay one step ahead of the Soviets throughout the Cold War Plotting a True Course William P. Head, 2003-05-30 Examining wars from the allied victory in World War II to the conflict in Viet Nam and finally to the operations in the Gulf and Kosovo this book presents a comprehensive look at the evolution of strategic air attack theory and doctrine over the years Air Power for Patton's Army David N. Spires, 2002 Presents a case study of one air ground team's experience with the theory and practice of tactical air power employed during the climactic World War 2 campaigns against the forces of Nazi Germany      Aviation in the U.S. Army, 1919-1939 ,      A Century of Air Power Leadership Jacob Neufeld,2007      Hearings United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations,1935      Air Power For Patton's Army: The XIX Tactical Air Command In The Second World War [Illustrated Edition] David N. Spires,2014-08-15 Illustrated with 3 charts 28 maps and 88 photos This insightful work by David N Spires holds many lessons in tactical air ground operations Despite peacetime rivalries in the drafting of service doctrine in World War II the immense pressures of wartime drove army and air commanders to cooperate in the effective prosecution of battlefield operations In northwest Europe during the war the combination of the U S Third Army commanded by Lt Gen George S Patton and the XIX Tactical Air Command led by Brig Gen Otto P Weyland proved to be the most effective allied air ground team of World War II The great success of Patton s drive across France ultimately crossing the Rhine and then racing across southern Germany owed a great deal to Weyland s airmen of the XIX Tactical Air Command This deft cooperation paved the way for allied victory in Western Europe and today remains a classic example of air ground effectiveness It forever highlighted the importance of air ground commanders working closely together on the battlefield      Rhetoric and Reality in Air Warfare Tami Davis Biddle,2004-09-19 This book examines how Anglo American ideas about long range bombing were formed and implemented It explains how air theorists came to believe that strategic bombing would be an effective coercive tool in warfare      Patton's Air Force David N. Spires,2014-06-10 From the time the Third Army became operational on August 1 1944 until the guns fell silent on May 8 1945 Lt Gen George S Patton s troops covered more ground and took more enemy prisoners than any other Allied army in northwest Europe Brig Gen Otto P Weyland s XIX Tactical Air Command TAC provided air support every step of the way Their combined success is something of an anomaly air ground relationships are notoriously confrontational and plagued with inter service competition How did Patton and Weyland work together to achieve such astounding success Drawing on exclusive access to official records David N Spires finds that this success was due to four key developments the maturation of tactical aviation doctrine effective organizational procedures a technical revolution in equipment and above all the presence of pragmatic men of goodwill who made the system work He focuses on the highly effective personal relationship between Patton and Weyland men who respected trusted and fully relied on each other and their respective subordinates This collaboration extended all the way down the chain of command Patton s ground troops and Weyland s airmen trained together in England and so by the time they entered combat they operated together as a single unit Contrary to conventional wisdom air ground relationships in the field can be cooperative rather than confrontational Today s air and ground officers can continue to benefit from the amazing success of the Third Army and the XIX TAC      The Journal of Military History ,1937 Includes scholarly articles and book reviews on topics in military history      Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications ,2004-08      Congressional Record United States.
