Philosophical Foundations of Economic Reality Javier Aranzadi,2024-10-07 The dominant paradigm of the economy is based on homo economicus and its positivist mechanistic and utilitarian approach This leads to a form of technical liberalism advocating a market without society in which individuals are reduced to property rights and data subject to commercial transaction This book argues for a reconceptualisation of the philosophical foundations of economic reality in the 21st century Drawing on the continental tradition the book shows that adopting and combining anthropological ethical and metaphysical approaches can provide the basis for a better integration of markets so that they work with rather than against individual and social needs To correctly interpret the market as an institution and the firm as a social organisation the book explores concepts from the philosophy of action to show that it is people who literally create economic reality by providing for their needs through their creativity The book also explores the ethics that structure human behaviour providing a comparison between utilitarian ethics hedonistic ethics and first person ethics or virtues This discussion provides a philosophical foundation for human action grounded in metaphysics The metaphysical approach helps to overcome the modernist reductionism of the human to a life of individual purpose and instead look towards a larger goal the common good This book marks a significant addition to the literature on the philosophy of economics ethics and markets institutions and economic theory more broadly National Science Foundation, National Academy of Sciences United States.

O'Regan,2024-12-10 In The Closing of the Auditor's Mind author David J O'Regan describes internal auditing as an important binding agent of social cohesion for the accountability of individuals and organizations and also at aggregated levels of social trust However O'Regan also reveals that internal auditing faces two severe challenges an external challenge of adaptation and an internal challenge of fundamental reform The adaptation challenge arises from ongoing paradigmatic shifts in accountability and social trust The command and control vertical hierarchies of traditional bureaucracies are being replaced in importance by networked flattened patterns of accountability The most challenging assurance demands of the modern era are increasingly located in three institutional domains in the inner workings of organizations in intermediary spaces at organizational boundaries and in extra mural locations Internal auditing continues to cling barnacle like to the inner workings of traditional bureaucratic structures and it has little to offer the emerging assurance demands on or beyond institutional boundaries The reform challenge arises from internal auditing s prevailing tendency toward a rigid algorithmic checklist mindset that suppresses practitioners creativity and critical thinking This trend is increasingly narrowing internal auditing s intellectual and moral horizons Under the pressures of these challenges internal auditing is struggling to fulfil its primary purpose of serving the public interest O'Regan s powerful book focuses on The redistribution of social trust from traditional hierarchical institutions to diffuse horizontally distributed networks The perennial validity of the classical virtues as the humane foundation of professional activity The role of creative expertise in promoting professional wisdom The Closing of the Auditor s Mind is a philosophical audit of a profession on the threshold of crisis The book presupposes no prior knowledge of philosophy nor indeed of auditing Philosophical technicalities are contained in an Appendix leaving the main text jargon free O'Regan provides original and striking perspectives on the malaise of modern internal auditing and he proposes radical remedies This captivating and well informed book is a must read for all who are concerned with our collective socio economic and political well being

theology dormant for too long in recent years is at last gathering pace And rightly so There will always be theologians who will regard music as a somewhat peripheral concern too trivial to trouble the serious scholar and in any case almost impossible to engage because of its notorious resistance to words and concepts But an increasing number are discovering again what many of our forbears realized centuries ago that the kinship between this pervasive feature of human life and the search for a Christian intelligence of faith is intimate and ineradicable Maeve Heaney's ambitious wide ranging and energetic book pushes the conversation further forward still Her approach is unapologetically theological grounded in the passions and concerns of mainstream doctrinal theology And yet she is insisting that music must be given its due place in the ecology of theology Although convinced that music should not be set up as a rival to linguistic or conceptual articulation let alone swallow up traditional modes of theological language and thought she is equally convinced that music is an irreducible means of coming to terms with the world a unique vehicle of world disclosure and as such can generate a particular form of understanding there are things which God may only be saying through music If this is so it is incumbent on the theologian to listen Jeremy Begbie from the Foreword

On the Eighth Day Matt Hoven, J. J. Carney, Max T. Engel, 2022-06-07 During a 1980s Edmonton Oilers game fans unveiled a banner claiming On the 8th day God created Gretzky Intersections between religious belief and sporting participation are nothing new where players coaches and fans are known to pray cross themselves and point to the heavens during a game But what should be the relationship between sports and religious faith On the Eighth Day introduces the theology of sport from a Catholic standpoint It wrestles with sport's universal appeal its rich symbolism and its spiritual and moral characteristics Sport is a place where embodied games can be sacramental where traditions of the past speak to contemporary peoples and where truth and justice are demanded in a world affected by sin The eighth day recalls the playful re creative work of God the Creator embodied in Christ's resurrection In this sense this book marks out a new day in Christian attitudes toward modern sport and the continuing call to redeem sport in service of human flourishing Comprehensive yet accessible the book will engage thoughtful lay sports fans and academic students alike
