From Aphra Behn to Fun Home Carey Purcell, 2019-12-04 Theatre has long been considered a feminine interest for which women consistently purchase the majority of tickets while the shows they are seeing typically are written and brought to the stage by men Furthermore the stories these productions tell are often about men and the complex leading roles in these shows are written for and performed by male actors Despite this imbalance the feminist voice presses to be heard and has done so with more success than ever before In From Aphra Behn to Fun Home: A Cultural History of Feminist Theatre Carey Purcell traces the evolution of these important artists and productions over several centuries After examining the roots of feminist theatre in early Greek plays and looking at occasional works produced before the twentieth century Purcell then identifies the key players and productions that have emerged over the last several decades This book covers the heyday of the second wave feminist movement which saw the growth of female centric theatre groups and highlights the work of playwrights such as Caryl Churchill Pam Gems and Wendy Wasserstein Other prominent artists discussed here include playwrights Paula Vogel Lynn and Tony award winning directors Garry Hynes and Julie Taymor The volume also examines diversity in contemporary feminist theatre with discussions of such playwrights as Young Jean Lee and Lynn Nottage and a look toward the future Purcell explores the very nature of feminist theater does it qualify if a play is written by a woman or does it just need to feature strong female characters as well as how notable activist work for feminism has played a pivotal role in theatre An engaging survey of female artists on stage and behind the scenes From Aphra Behn to Fun Home will be of interest to theatregoers and anyone interested in the invaluable contributions of women in the performing arts

Games and Theatre in Shakespeare's England Tom Bishop, Gina Bloom, Erika T. Lin, 2025-10-01 Games and Theatre in Shakespeare's England brings together theories of play and game with theatre and performance to produce new understandings of the history and design of early modern English drama Through literary analysis and embodied practice an international team of distinguished scholars examines a wide range of games from dicing to bowling to role playing to videogames to uncover their fascinating ramifications for the stage in Shakespeare's era and our own. Foregrounding ludic elements challenges the traditional view of drama as principally mimesis or imitation, revealing stageplays to be improvisational experiments and participatory explorations into the motive means and value of recreation. Delving into both canonical masterpieces and hidden gems, this innovative volume stakes a claim for play as the crucial link between games and early modern theatre and for the early modern theatre as a critical site for unraveling the continued cultural significance and performative efficacy of gameplay today. Someday All the Adults Will Die! Pat Blashill, 2025
