Alfred, 2010-09-01 In a most timely volume addressing many of the connections among current fiscal and employment crises to adult education Learning for Economic Self Sufficiency highlights the problems and challenges that low literate adults encounter in various environments. Moreover, this book presents strategies for addressing the chronic illiteracy among low income workers. The power of this volume is that the reader gains a holistic view of the complexities of educating a population of low literate adult learners from various life conditions. From language literacy issues in corrections, the workplace, and access to higher education, to migrant workers, literacy learning barriers to technology literacies and consumerism myths, Learning for Economic Self Sufficiency goes far deeper than prior volumes in exploring the complex scope of issues faced by low income low literate adults as they seek learning for economic self sufficiency. The overall objective of the book is to help readers explore economic self sufficiency for low literate and low income adults from various contexts and the role of adult and higher education in developing these learners for greater economic independence. Noting that literacy is only a first step to economic, mental, and physical health, as well as responsible citizenship, each chapter provides specific case examples and recommendations to educators and trainers of adults for creating learning programs and environments to facilitate the development of a more literate and economically stable population.

Expanding the Boundaries of Adult Religious Education: Strategies, Techniques, and Partnerships for the New Millennium E. Paulette Isaac, 2012-04-17. The field of adult religious education is rich with opportunities for study and service. Researchers will find it useful as a source on religious institutions, adult religious education, and adult learners in general. This is the 133rd volume in this Jossey-Bass higher education quarterly report series. Noted for its depth of coverage, this indispensable series explores issues of common interest to instructors, administrators, counselors, and policymakers in a broad range of adult and continuing education settings.

International Handbook of Research in Arts Education Liora Bresler, 2007-01-26. Providing a distillation of knowledge in the various disciplines of arts education—dance, drama, music, literature, and poetry, and visual arts—this essential handbook synthesizes existing research. Literature reflects on the past and contributes to shaping the future of the respective and integrated disciplines of arts education. While research can at times seem distant from practice, the Handbook aims to maintain connection with the live practice of art and of education, capturing the vibrancy and best thinking in the field of theory and practice. The Handbook is organized into 13 sections, each focusing on a major area or issue in arts education research.

Schooling the Freed People Ronald E. Butchart, 2010-09-27. Conventional wisdom holds that freedmen's education was largely the work of privileged single white northern women motivated by evangelical beliefs and abolitionism. Backed by pathbreaking research, Ronald E. Butchart's Schooling the Freed People shatters this notion. The most comprehensive quantitative study of the origins of black education in freedom ever undertaken, this definitive book on freedmen's teachers in the South is an outstanding contribution.
