The Task-Centred Book Peter Marsh,2005 Task centred social work is one of the best known and most strongly supported approaches to social work practice The model fits well with the long standing emphasis in social work on empowerment as well as with more recent pressure for evidence based practice

This text is a radical departure from traditional literature on social work methods. The main reference point is the voice of practitioners, service users and carers as researched and developed by the authors over twenty years. Case studies are used throughout the book to build on the experiences of practitioners and the people with whom they have worked and to demonstrate practical skills. The Task Centred Book is a core text for both undergraduate social work courses and continuing professional development training as well as being a practical book for the active professional which will support the development and implementation of task centred practice. The Andragogic Learning Center Moshe Sonenheim, Shlomit Lehman, 2010. This publication was made possible by the Rector's Fund in support of publications and books. Bar Ilan University, Israel. The Andragogic Learning Center examines an eight year study at the Bar Ilan School of Social Work, Israel, 1989-1997. The study tested the efficacy of an innovative community based teaching approach combining field and class instruction. The efficacy of interaction between teaching and learning style in learning process and context was also examined. More than 400 BSW students participated, divided each year into an experimental group of twelve students learning all three social work methods and two control groups learning two social work methods. A number of hypotheses were tested utilizing a detailed before and after questionnaire which included a learning style questionnaire. TABS and Middleman's Study Guide for ACSW Certification Exam Role Learning and Andragogy Theories provided a framework for interpreting and understanding the process and results.
