Critical Times in Curriculum Thought Marcella L. Kysilka, 2011-05-01 This book is designed to be used at a master's level for a degree in curriculum and instruction teacher education or educational leadership. It could be used as a primary or a supplementary text. The book is divided into three parts. The first section focuses on the contributions of noted educators to the field of education: Florence Stratemeyer Haberman and Corrigan Hilda Taba Barbara Stern Alice Miel Jennifer Deets Booker T. Washington Karen Riley Ralph Tyler Gerald Ponder and Dixie Massey and John Dewey William Schubert and Heidi Schubert. The authors of these chapters focused on contributions that were less known but particularly important in thinking about education. The second section of the book focuses on curriculum movements that were politically motivated and their impact on curriculum applications in the schools: Cold War Sputnik Peggy Moch Civil Rights William Ayers Women's Rights Susan Brown Bilingual/multicultural education Gloria Contreras and Ron Wilhelm and the growing economic divide William Watkins. The last section of the book provides perspectives on factors that affected curriculum implementation as seen through the eyes of authors who have done considerable research in these areas: Social Justice William Gaudelli and Dennis Urban Integrated Curriculum Lynne Bailey The Comprehensive High School Marcella Kysilka Technology in the Curriculum Gretchen Schwarz and Janet Dunlop and Inclusive Curriculum Allison Dickey. The book could be used in Alternative Certification Programs as well as the chapters focus on issues that are common in the public school sector. The chapters are short and meaty and provide a thorough understanding of the people, politics, and perspectives of the times.

Classroom Conversations Alexandra Mileta, 2008-10-07 In Classroom Conversations two generations of educators—a mother and daughter—point us to the great thinkers who have shaped their beliefs and practices in education and who continue to influence teachers today. Nineteen essays by educators from Dewey to Delpit offer parents and new educators an education degree in a nutshell. The Milettas frame these touchstone texts with commentary explaining why these writers resonate for them, sharing not only the personal meanings they have derived from the selections but why these writings have endured in the field over time. Brief biographies set each author in context for the lay reader. As educational fads and jargon come and go, parents and teachers alike will appreciate and find value in the wisdom distilled here. Classroom Conversations will help experienced teachers find renewed meaning in these seminal essays and will help younger teachers discover just how important the work they do can be. For parents, the book will inform and enrich their understanding of their children's educational experience.

Educational Foundations Alan S. Canestrari, Bruce A. Marlowe, 2010 Educational Foundations: An Anthology of Critical Readings, Second Edition, answers these questions and more, providing an exciting alternative to other foundation textbooks. This anthology is aimed at students about to enter the teaching profession, those new to the profession, and anyone interested in carefully examining schools and schooling. In this Second Edition, editors Alan S. Canestrari and

Bruce A Marlowe add new essays by classic and contemporary policy shapers and teachers Each essay was selected for its ability to engage readers and provoke them to reflect on the current and enduring issues of teaching Key features Encourages discussion and debate through provocative essays that provide readers with opportunities to think critically about teaching and learning includes brief introductory vignettes that raise probing questions about teaching and learning and provide context for the essays that follow The Four Most Baffling Challenges for Teachers and how to Solve Them Sheryn Spencer Waterman,2006 First Published in 2006 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company

School Jeff Gregg,2021-02-10 This book encourages readers to think about and discuss the purpose of education It provides an opportunity to consider how the way in which purposes are framed has consequences for student teacher relationships and teacher administrator relationships The author introduces a moral ethical dimension into the consideration of purposes Why would anyone do that to kids This book suggests that failure to reflect on the purpose of education underlies the lack of impact of many education reform efforts The author presents a fictional roundtable discussion of educational issues The participants include teachers school administrators state politicians and bureaucrats parents community members and business people

Responsibility Through Physical Activity Donald R. Hellison, 2011 This edition presents practical field tested ideas for teaching personal and social responsibility TPSR through physical activity in schools and other settings. Includes guidance in teaching affective and social moral goals an in depth look into teaching character development and values and a method for helping students develop personal and social responsibility Teaching Personal and Social Responsibility through Physical Activity Don Hellison, Paul M. Wright, Thomas J. Martinek, David S. Walsh, 2025-04-15 Teaching Personal and Social Responsibility Through Physical Activity now enters its fourth edition continuing the legacy of Don Hellison and his teaching personal and social responsibility TPSR model. This text is the only comprehensive resource covering the TPSR model through physical activity. With more than 50 years of use in gyms, playing fields and classrooms the TPSR model has withstood the test of time and continues to be used to teach transferable life skills to kids from all backgrounds to support positive social change. Building on the foundation of research from the first three editions this updated text connects TPSR to the recent emphasis on mental health, social and emotional learning (SEL) and trauma informed practices. It also provides direction to teach affective and social goals giving an in depth look into teaching character development and values to help students develop personal and social responsibility. Designed to enhance reader comprehension Teaching Personal and Social Responsibility Through Physical Activity Fourth Edition is a practical resource with proven and easy to implement ideas to support student growth in school, after school and in alternative settings. Special features include these TPSR in Action sidebars written by world wide practitioners that highlight the creativity and innovation of TPSR through programs and projects across cultural and linguistic borders. Is It Working? examples of the cutting edge research that supports TPSR. Kid Quotes quotes from kids in TPSR programs as well as quotes from teachers and coaches. Takeaways summary points in every chapter. Robust appendixes samples of TPSR lesson plans, a TPSR implementation checklist, a kinesiology career club workbook, a post teaching reflection and a TPSR feedback form. Online resources forms, unit and lesson plans and learner assessments from the book that can be easily downloaded and used. Balancing theory and practice the TPSR model is recognized as a best practice in physical education and sport based youth development. This text takes Hellison's model and reflects on new information, cultural awareness and current practice to ensure that kids benefit from the TPSR model for years to come. Note: A code for accessing HKPropel is included with this ebook Choice and Agency in the Writing Workshop Fred Hamel, 2017-04-21 Step into a classroom and listen in on the writing initiatives and motivations of students who are given significant choice and agency in the development of their writing. Discover why upper elementary children need ways to become literate as kids not merely as prototypes of adults or teenagers. Filled with rich portraits of in class writing interactions and challenges this book highlights various themes that help teachers become better observers and more responsive to the complexity of writing in children's lives. Key themes include drawing and popular media in children's learning, the challenges of listening to students during conferences, the intersections of writing and relationships, the roles of sharing and publishing writing, and the importance of shaping a writing curriculum through dialogue. Fred Hamel not only offers us readers insight into the text-mediated dramas of children's lives, he allows us into the sort of pedagogical reflections that keep us all in the flow of becoming. From the Foreword by Anne Haas Dyson, University of Illinois. This timely book is about the experimentation, flexibility, vulnerabilities, and risks of educators when they don't assume to always know what is best for writers. Through classroom examples, Hamel helps us to see the complex and entangled identities of teachers and students. This book asks us all to consider putting less emphasis on expected writing endpoints and think more about the social processes and relationships of literacies coming to be. Candace R. Kuby, University of Missouri and author of Go Be a Writer: Expanding the Curricular Boundaries of Literacy Learning with Children. Solving Discipline and Classroom Management Problems. Charles H. Wolfgang, 2008-09-29. In the seventh edition, teachers will find a wealth of information about classroom management strategies that have been proven successful in the field. Each model is introduced clearly and comprehensively. This includes vignettes, a glossary of terms, Teacher Behavior Continuum construct, and the strengths and limitations of each model. At the end of each chapter, a 15-point test is included to reinforce concepts. An Honorable Mention feature is also presented that describes other discipline models. Teachers will find a wide range of methods and practical advice for solving discipline problems. Research in Urban Educational Settings. Kimberly A. Scott, Wanda J. Blanchett, 2010-03-01. Results from quantitative and qualitative research studies have painted countless images of the unique features shaping urban schools, including students' experiences and how the surrounding communities affect the entire system. Race, ethnicity, social class, language, power, politics, and public image operate as intersecting elements shaping the contours of urban school life; therefore, its documentation. Little has been written about how researchers of urban schools and their constituencies effectively navigate these complex elements, design a culturally sensitive and responsive project, and acquire meaningful data. What are some of the critically important issues a researcher should consider when working with urban schools? What should be a researcher's commitment to the urban communities in which they conduct research? How can a researcher develop a trusting relationship in an environment justifiably distrustful of outsiders? These and other inquiries shape the contours of this edited volume. As educators and policy makers take a closer examination at urban schools and their successes, research of these unique settings assumes a more prominent role. For academics, both novice and experienced, establishing and maintaining rapport within these environments often requires greater attention than qualitative or quantitative research books accord. Authors in this compilation share lessons learned about power, privilege, and their meanings as they pertain to conducting research in and with urban settings. To this end, four primary objectives guide this manuscript 1 To expand the conversation of urban school research to include multiple voices of culturally responsible caring scholars with a professed commitment to using research as an empowering tool for urban educational contexts 2 To provide practical accounts of what has and has not worked for individuals conducting both short term and longitudinal research in urban educational institutions and communities 3 To demonstrate the disconnect between classroom discussions of urban education and real life field experiences of researchers working in urban settings and 4 To broaden discussions of reflexivity by analyzing the complex journey qualitative and quantitative sociologists anthropologists teacher educators urban educators and special educators experience while negotiating and creating collaborative relationships with urban educators administrators students parents and community members
