Leadership for Learning ,2008-01-01 The impact of globalization is being felt in numerous spheres of educational policy and practice in rapid growth of information and communication technologies in economic transformation and international market competition all of which conspire to create new demands and place new pressures on school leadership Drawing on examples from 12 countries in different parts of the world The Editors have brought together 28 renowned scholars in Europe Australia North America and Asia Pacific countries to contribute to this book The first six chapters address key themes and provide the framework for the 12 country reports which follow With the aim of increasing international understanding and teasing out issues of transfer and application across cultural and linguistic boundaries we have chosen national reports which cover a range of countries representing a diversity of culture and contextual backgrounds We believe these chapters and the book as a whole can provide important theoretical policy and practical implications that will inform the debate about the future of education and of schooling While each of these country narratives underscore the importance of context at the same time there are insights and values held in common Conditions of School Performance in Seven Countries Hans Döbert,Hans Döbert, Eckhard Klieme, Wendelin Sroka,Eckhard Klieme,Wendelin Sroka,2004

Immigration and Asylum Matthew J. Gibney,Randall Hansen,2005-06-21 A comprehensive and timely examination of the history and current status of immigrants and refugees their stories the events that led to their movement and the place of these movements in contemporary history and politics Immigration and Asylum From 1900 to the Present is an accessible and up to date introduction to the key concepts terms personalities and real world issues associated with the surge of immigration from the beginning of the 20th century to the present It focuses on the United States but is also the first encyclopedic work on the subject that reflects a truly global perspective With contributions from the world s foremost authorities on the subject Immigration and Asylum offers nearly 200 entries organized around four themes immigration and asylum the major migrating groups around the world expulsions and other forced population movements and the politics of migration In addition to basic entries the work includes in depth essays on important trends events and current conditions There is no better resource for exploring just how profoundly the voluntary and forced movement of asylum seekers and refugees has transformed the world and what that transformation means to us today The European Dream Jeremy

Rifkin, 2004 New in paperback comes the national bestseller that shows how the American Dream is languishing surpassed worldwide by a powerful alternative in the lifestyle of the new Europe The American Faculty Jack H. Schuster, Martin J. Finkelstein, 2008-12-15 Higher education is becoming destabilized in the face of extraordinarily rapid change The composition of the academy's most valuable asset the faculty and the essential nature of faculty work are being transformed Jack H. Schuster and Martin J. Finkelstein describe the transformation of the American faculty in the most extensive and ambitious analysis of the American academic profession undertaken in a generation A century ago the American research university emerged as a new organizational form animated by the professionalized discipline based scholar The research university model persisted through two world wars and greatly varying economic conditions In recent years however a new order has surfaced organized around a globalized knowledge based economy powerful privatization and market forces and stunning new information technologies These developments have transformed the higher education enterprise in ways barely imaginable in generations past At the heart of that transformation but largely invisible has been a restructuring of academic appointments academic work and academic careers a reconfiguring widely decried but heretofore inadequately described This volume depicts the scope and depth of the transformation combining empirical data drawn from three decades of national higher education surveys The authors' portrait at once startling and disturbing provides the context for interpreting these developments as part of a larger structural evolution of the national higher education system They outline the stakes for the nation and the challenging work to be done The Condition of Education, 2006 The SAGE Handbook of Gender and Education Christine Skelton, Becky Francis, Lisa Smulyan, 2006-10-23 The Handbook of Gender and Education brings together leading scholars on gender and education to provide an up to date and broad ranging guide to the field It is a comprehensive overview of different theoretical positions on equity issues in schools The contributions cover all sectors of education from early years to higher education curriculum subjects methodological and theoretical perspectives and gender identities in education Each chapter reviews syntheses and provides a critical interrogation of key contemporary themes in education This approach ensures that the book will be an indispensable source of reference for a wide range of readers students academics and practitioners The first section of the Handbook Gender Theory and Methodology outlines the various feminist perspectives on researching and exploring gender and education The section critiques the notion of gender as a category in educational research and considers recent trends evident especially in the gender and underachievement debates to locate gender difference solely within biology This section provides the broad background upon which the issues and debates in the other sections can be situated Section two Gender and Education considers the differing ways in which gender has been shown to impact upon the opportunities and experiences of pupils students teachers and other adults in the different sectors of education It also includes a chapter on single sex schooling Section three Gender and School Subjects comprises chapters that cover gender issues within the teaching and learning of particular school subjects for example maths literacy and science It also includes topics such as sex education and assessment The chapters in section four Gender identity and educational sites address up to date issues which have a long history in terms of explorations into gender and educational opportunities More recent inclusions in the debates such as disability sexuality and masculinities are discussed alongside the more traditional concerns of race social class and femininities The final section Working in Schools and Colleges illuminates the working lives of teachers and academics The chapters cover such topics as school culture career progression and development and the gendered identities of professionals within educational institutions The contributors to this book have been selected by the editors as authorities in their specific area of gender and education and are drawn from the international scholarly community Inequality in Key Skills of City Youth Stephen Lamb,Russell W.

Rumberger,2024-01-01 This groundbreaking research volume addresses the topic of educational inequality from a global perspective It includes 16 chapters from an international group of scholars who examine how well city school systems from around the world are preparing young people particularly poor and minority students with the skills they will need for further study work and life overall While skills in key domains such as science math language and civics have been center stage in international comparisons there has been growing recognition of the effects that education has on the development of broader sets of capabilities such as social and emotional skills also known as noncognitive or 21st century skills that can affect the success of students in school and beyond This volume aims to address the shortage of international data on the wide range of skills that students need to learn enabling researchers to compare the types and causes of educational inequality in skills within and between cities The Indonesian Labour Market Shafiq Dhanani,Iyanatul Islam,Anis

Chowdhury,2009-09-10 Written by the best selling author of Asia Pacific Economies this book containing a thorough analysis of pre and post crisis environments and industry is an important addition to the literature on industrial development in developing countries Financing American Higher Education in the Era of Globalization William Zumeta,David W.

Breneman,Patrick M. Callan,Joni E. Finney,2021-02-23 This ambitious book grows out of the realization that a convergence of economic demographic and political forces in the early twenty first century requires a fundamental reexamination of the financing of American higher education The authors identify and address basic issues and trends that cut across the sectors of higher education focusing on such questions as how much higher education the country needs for individual opportunity and for economic viability in the future how responsibility for paying for it is currently allocated and how financing higher education should be addressed in the future Higher Education and the World of Work Ulrich Teichler,2019-02-11 What does higher education offer to make students competent actors in the world of work and other life spheres This issue is most controversially debated in economically advanced countries since about four decades when higher education in economically advanced countries began to serve larger ranges of the occupational pyramid than merely the intellectually and professionally chosen few The author of this volume analyzes a broad range of issues over four decades of his academic career Employers and graduate surveys secondary analyses of education and employment statistics as well as analyses of policy and academic debates form the basis of the key argument Neither trust in expectations formulated by employers or in income and status as measures of successful study nor isolated claims for the pursuit of academic knowledge for its own sake and for the critical functions of higher education are a suitable reference frame for understanding the dynamic links between higher education and the world of work A match between the number of graduates and the corresponding positions or between the competences acquired during study and job requirements cannot be expected Students are more ambitious and strive for a broader range of goals than they can expect to be rewarded Graduates have to be both highly qualified experts and sceptics as far as conventional wisdom is concerned and they have to be prepared for indeterminate tasks Key themes of this collection of essays are the causes and consequences of an imperfect match between higher education and employment the tensions between employment and work orientation in higher education opportunities of a highly educated society the dynamics of the variety of students the patterns of the higher education system and the horizontal and vertical diversity of careers different notions of higher education and the world of work among economically advanced countries major controversial notions of professional relevance of study in policy and research debates Higher Education Systems Ulrich Teichler, 2007-01-01 In economically advanced countries the shape and the size of higher education systems vary substantially In some countries access becomes almost universal whereas in others only about one third in the corresponding age groups enrol All higher education systems are diversified but formal dimensions such as types of institutions or levels of study programmes and degrees play different roles and informal dimensions are by no means irrelevant In some countries the hierarchy according to quality and reputation is steep and in others relatively flat Profiles of individual institutions and programmes might be striking or superficial This book based on more than three decades of research aims to show actual trends in the development of higher education systems It describes the policy debates in a broad range of countries Moreover it provides an overview of varying concepts aiming to explain the dynamics of structural developments The author shows that comparative perspectives and the search for an internationally best or most modern solutions at times lead to convergent trends However specific policy options dominating and specific traditions of higher education tend to reinforce an international variety of patterns of higher education systems This book invites readers policy makers and practitioners in the area of higher education as well as scholars and graduate students to look beyond the idiosyncrasies of national debates and beyond the Zeitgeist of currently fashionable international debates e g Bologna process ranking of world class universities and to consider both persistent tensions and changing conditions underlying the extent and the kind of diversity opted for on individual countries Emerging Multiplicity Sten Söderman, 2006-03-15 New Asian companies are emerging with global ambitions as old western brands disappear or are overtaken In this book seventeen Euro Asia experts present conceptual and empirical regional research that reflects the emerging multiplicity in Asia and comprehensively shows how the old world
