Subotnik, Frank Worrell, 2018 Talent development is a phrase often used in reference to the education of gifted children. Recently it has been presented by researchers to refer to a specific approach to the delivery of gifted education services. Much of this discussion has been at the conceptual level and there is a need for translation of the model into concrete practices and examples that enable educators to better serve gifted children within their schools and districts. This book addresses that need. The research behind the talent development framework is briefly reviewed followed by practical implications for identification and program design within domains of talent. To illustrate successful approaches the authors draw on examples from academic domains as well as performance fields such as sports and music to help teachers, school administrators, school psychologists, social workers, and counselors graduate students and parents develop gifted students' talents. 2019 NAGC Book of the Year Award Winner, Texas Association for the Gifted and Talented 2019 Legacy Book Award Winner, Scholar. Talent Development in Gifted Education Joyce VanTassel-Baska, 2021-07-29 This volume brings together experts in gifted education to explore critical perspectives in talent development across the lifespan, guiding readers toward a deeper understanding of advanced learners and their education. Chapters in the first section delve into the foundational theory, research, and models of practice underpinning gifted education and talent development, while the second section examines the practical applications of talent development in assessment, programming, and ongoing research. The book concludes with an exploration of talent throughout the lifespan, featuring detailed case vignettes to illustrate development across diverse fields of practice. Ideal for researchers as well as students of gifted education and creativity studies, this comprehensive handbook challenges readers to interrogate what they think they know about giftedness and talent development.
