Barbour, 2022-03-31 Western Buddhist travel narratives are autobiographical accounts of a journey to a Buddhist culture Dozens of such narratives have since the 1970s describe treks in Tibet periods of residence in a Zen monastery pilgrimages to Buddhist sites and teachers and other Asian odysseys The best known of these works is Peter Matthiessen's The Snow Leopard further reflections emerge from thirty writers including John Blofeld Jan Van de Wetering Thomas Merton Oliver Statler Robert Thurman Gretel Ehrlich and Bill Porter The Buddhist concept of no self helps these authors interpret certain pivotal experiences of unselfing and is also a catalyst that provokes and enables such events The writers' spiritual memoirs describe how their journeys brought about a new understanding of Buddhist enlightenment and so transformed their lives Showing how travel can elicit self transformation this book is a compelling exploration of the journeys and religious changes of both individuals and Buddhism itself The Zen Monastic Experience Robert E. Buswell, Jr.,2020-07-21 Robert Buswell a Buddhist scholar who spent five years as a Zen monk in Korea draws on personal experience in this insightful account of day to day Zen monastic practice In discussing the activities of the postulants the meditation monks the teachers and administrators and the support monks of the monastery of Songgwang sa Buswell reveals a religious tradition that differs radically from the stereotype prevalent in the West The author s treatment lucidly relates contemporary Zen practice to the historical development of the tradition and to Korean history more generally and his portrayal of the life of modern Zen monks in Korea provides an innovative and provocative look at Zen from the inside

Daitokuji Gregory P. A. Levine, 2005 The Zen Buddhist monastery Daitokuji in Kyoto has long been revered as a cloistered meditation centre a repository of art treasures and a wellspring of the Zen aesthetic Gregory Levine's Daitokuji unsettles these conventional notions with groundbreaking inquiry into the significant and surprising visual and social identities of sculpture painting and calligraphy associated with this fourteenth century monastery and its enduring monastic and lay communities The book begins with a study of Zen portraiture at Daitokuji that reveals the precariousness of portrait likeness the face that gazes out from an abbot's painting or statue may not be who we expect it to be or submit quietly to interpretation By tracing the life of Daitokuji's famed statue of the Chanoyu patriarch Sen no Rikyū 1522-91 which was all but destroyed by the ruler Toyotomi Hideyoshi 1537-98 but survived in Rashōmon like narratives and reconstituted sculptural forms Levine throws light upon the contested status of images and their mytho-poetic potential Levine then draws from the seventeenth century journal of Kōgetsu Sōgan Bokuseki no utsushi to explore practices of calligraphy connoisseurship at Daitokuji and the pivotal role played by the monastery's abbots within Kyoto art circles The book's final section explores Daitokuji's annual airings of temple treasures not merely as a practice geared toward preservation but also as a space in which different communities vie for authority over the artistic past An epilogue follows the peripatetic journey of the monastery's scrolls of the 500 Luohan from China to Japan to exhibition and partial sale in the West and back to Daitokuji Illuminating canonical and heretofore ignored works and mining a trove of documents diaries and modern writings Levine argues for the plurality of Daitokuji's visual arts and the breadth of social and ritual circumstances of art making and viewing within the monastery This diversity encourages reconsideration of stereotyped notions of Zen art and offers specialists and general readers alike opportunity to explore the fertile and sometimes volatile nexus of the visual arts and religious sites in Japan

How to Reach Japan by Subway Meghan Warner Mettler, 2018-06 Japan's official surrender to the United States in 1945 brought to an end one of the most bitter and brutal military conflicts of the twentieth century U S government officials then faced the task of transforming Japan from enemy to ally not only in top level diplomatic relations but also in the minds of the American public Only ten years after World War II this transformation became a success as middle class American consumers across the country were embracing Japanese architecture films hobbies philosophy and religion Cultural institutions on both sides of the Pacific along with American tastemakers promoted a new image of Japan in keeping with State Department goals Focusing on traditions instead of modern realities Americans came to view Japan as a nation that was sophisticated and beautiful yet locked harmlessly in a timeless Oriental past What ultimately led many Americans to embrace Japanese culture was a desire to appear affluent and properly tasteful in the status conscious suburbs of the 1950s In How to Reach Japan by Subway Meghan Warner Mettler studies the shibui phenomenon in which middle class American consumers embraced Japanese culture while still exoticizing this new aesthetic By examining shibui through the popularity of samurai movies ikebana flower arrangement bonsai cultivation home and garden design and Zen Buddhism Mettler provides a new context and perspective for understanding how Americans encountered a foreign nation in their everyday lives
