Genocide Collective Violence And Popular Memory The Politics Of Remembrance In The Twentieth Century:

Genocide, Collective Violence, and Popular Memory David E. Lorey, William H. Beezley, 2001-11-01 The twentieth century has been scarred by political violence and genocide reaching its extreme in the Holocaust Yet at the same time the century has been marked by a growing commitment to human rights This volume highlights the importance of history of socially processed memory in resolving the wounds left by massive state sponsored political violence and in preventing future episodes of violence In Genocide Collective Violence and Popular Memory The Politics of Remembrance in the Twentieth Century the editors present and discuss the many different social responses to the challenge of coming to terms with past reigns of terror and collective violence Designed for undergraduate courses in political violence and revolution this volume treats a wide variety of incidents of collective violence from decades long genocide to short lived massacres The selection of essays provides a broad range of thought provoking case studies from Latin America Africa Europe and Asia This provocative collection of readings from around the world will spur debate and discussion of this timely and important topic in the classroom and beyond

The memory of catastrophe Peter Gray, Kendrick Oliver, 2024-07-30 Investigates the dynamic relationship between experiences of profound social and cultural disruption and human memory Critical comparisons are made across a wide variety of catastrophic experiences and memories not just of war but also of massacre genocide rebellion famine partition shipwreck and fire The book is an accessible showcase for a wide range of methodological approaches to the study of memory including literary studies cultural studies participant observation and historical studies and uses a variety of oral visual and written sources Offers a diverse chronological and geographical range of catastrophic cases from seventeenth century England to the recent conflicts in the former Yugoslavia from Ireland to the Indian sub continent from Mexico to wartime Leningrad Well written and accessible a fascinating read

Genocide, Collective Violence, and Popular Memory David E. Lorey, William H. Beezley, 2002 Highlights the importance of history in general emphasizing the importance of symbols ritual language and the use of public spaces in coming to terms with episodes of collective violence and achieving national reconciliation

Perpetrators, Accomplices and Victims in Twentieth-Century Politics Anatoly M. Khazanov, Stanley Payne, 2013-09-13 These studies examine the ways in which succeeding democratic regimes have dealt with or have ignored and in several cases sugar coated an authoritarian or totalitarian past from 1943 to the present They treat the relationship with democratization and the different ways in which collective memory is formed and dealt with or ignored and suppressed Previous books have examined only restricted sets of countries such as western or eastern Europe or Latin America The present volume treats a broader range of cases than any preceding account and also a much broader time span investigating diverse historical and cultural contexts and the role of national identity and nationalism studying the aftermath of both fascist and communist regimes in both Europe and Asia in an interdisciplinary framework while the conclusion provides a more complete comparative perspective than will be found in any other work The book will be of interest to historians and political scientists and to those interested in fascism communism legacies of war democratization collective memory and transitional justice This book was previously published as a special issue of Totalitarian Movements and Political Religions

Global Environmental Challenges of the Twenty-first Century David E. Lorey, 2003 The most serious environmental problems of the twenty first century have the potential to alter the course of life on this planet Global warming toxic waste water and air pollution acid rain and shrinking energy supplies are frightening challenges that may threaten our future if we do not face up to them p Global Environmental Challenges provides important information and gives us hope about the environment This book first helps us to grasp these difficulties then shows us the choices we can make How long to leave a light on whether to take the car the train or bicycle to work whether to recycle or throw away whether to vote to curb continued suburban sprawl all of these decisions can make a difference p This collection of some of the best essays and articles on the environment comes from a variety of sources including journals magazines websites of ecological conservation organizations and other publications p Five major sections investigate the interaction of population growth consumption and environment the emerging crisis in freshwater around the globe global climate and atmosphere including global warming biodiversity loss and the concept of sustainable development using natural resources to place future human development on a sustainable path The final section on sustainable development reveals how we can take action As individuals we can make a difference readily and easily without making huge personal sacrifices As societies we can work together in a global community of interest to sustain the earth p This valuable resource offers readers a better understanding of our environmental problems and presents solutions to improving the health of the planet p

Collaborative Remembering Michelle L. Meade, Celia B. Harris, Penny Van Bergen, John Sutton, Amanda J. Barnier, 2018 We remember in social contexts We reminisce about the past together collaborate to remember shared experiences and remember in the context of our communities and cultures This book explores the topic of collaborative remembering across a wide range of fields including developmental cognitive and social psychology

Ethnic Conflict and War Crimes in the Balkans Jelena Obradovic, 2013-07-15 In the years following the fall of Slobodan Milosevic Serbian social cultural and political responses to the wars of the 1990s have fallen under intense scrutiny In Ethnic Conflict and War Crimes in the Balkans Jelena Obradovic Wochnik explores some of those responses taking into consideration notions such as silence denial and conspiracy theory the book sheds some light on the complicated narratives about the 1990s The book considers the experience of knowing witnessing and speaking about atrocities and thus contributes to the debates on confronting the past in Serbia Specifically it considers how individuals of the ordinary public in Serbia reflect upon understand and keep secrets about the 1991 1999 conflicts in Croatia Bosnia and Herzegovina and Kosovo and the atrocities human rights abuses and war crimes which were committed there Close attention is paid to the stories of individuals whose voices and experiences are generally excluded from the broader debate about the past Jelena Obradovic Wochnik explores how these narratives diverge from resist and are invisible to the formal and civil society initiatives aimed at confronting the past in Serbia In doing so the book also explores silence about and denial of the violent past and considers how and where these dynamics manifest and what they might mean In addition it covers themes such as narratives of self victimhood conspiracy theory and the perception of war time leaders and combatants This is a detailed and considered investigation into how groups cope with knowledge and the witnessing of violent pasts It is based on ethnographic research and interviews with a group of ordinary individuals in post Milosevic Serbia As such it provides a unique perspective on the lived experience of the conflicts and the ways in which stories of the 1990s emerge in everyday contexts Education, Religion and Society Dennis Bates, Gloria Durka, Friedrich

Schweitzer, 2006-06-28 Education Religion and Society celebrates the career of Professor John Hull a leading figure in the transformation of religious education in English and Welsh schools and co founder of the International Seminar on Religious Education and Values He has also made major contributions to the theology of disability and the theological critique of the money culture Leading international scholars join together to offer a critical appreciation of his contribution to religious education and practical theology and explore the continuing debate about the role of religious education in promoting international understanding intercultural education and human rights The contributors also deal with indoctrination racism and relationship in Christian religious issues and examine aspects of the theology of social exclusion and disability This unique book includes a complete list of John Hull s writings up to the beginning of 2005 providing both an excellent introduction to contemporary issues of religious education in the West and the most complete critical account yet of his work

Concerning Consequences Kristine Stiles, 2016-03-21 Kristine Stiles has played a vital role in establishing trauma studies within the humanities A formidable force in the art world Stiles examines the significance of traumatic experiences both in the individual lives and works of artists and in contemporary international cultures since World War II In Concerning Consequences she considers some of the most notorious art of the second half of the twentieth century by artists who use their bodies to address destruction and violence The essays in this book focus primarily on performance art and photography From war and environmental pollution to racism and sexual assault Stiles analyzes the consequences of trauma as seen in the works of artists like Marina Abramovic Pope L and Chris Burden Assembling rich intellectual explorations on everything from Paleolithic paintings to the Bible s patriarchal legacies to documentary images of nuclear explosions Concerning Consequences explores how art can provide a distinctive means of understanding trauma and promote individual and collective healing

Memory, Truth, and Justice in Contemporary Latin America Roberta Villalón, 2017-07-06 This powerful text provides the first systematic analysis of the second wave of memory and justice mobilization throughout Latin America Pairing clear explanations of concepts and debates with case studies the book offers a unique opportunity for students to interpret the history and politics of Latin American countries The contributors provide insight into human rights issues and grassroots movements that are essential for a broader understanding of struggles for justice memory and equality across the globe especially during our current unsettled times of political polarization violence repression and popular resistance worldwide

Very British Rebels? James W. McAuley, 2016-01-01 Challenging traditional narrow views this unique work proposes to rethink and reinterpret Ulster loyalism from the beginning of the Troubles to the present day by tracing its religious paramilitary political and community influences The work examines the core values of loyalist communities the roots of violence and the shift toward peaceful coexistence with former enemies Also discussed are the DUP's claims that it represents loyalism's true voice along with the complex and varying degrees of commitment to the Crown the Protestant Faith and the British governance of Northern Ireland Lastly it looks at how cultural expressions of loyalist identity such as poetry or cartoons are being used in the reconstruction of a loyalist memory Written by a leading expert on Ulster loyalism the work is based on extensive interviews with loyalists and loyalist literature to provide an inside account of the processes of loyalist identity formation and transformation Drawing on political science sociology and cultural studies it will appeal to anyone interested in Irish politics as well as conflict and peace processes

Reframing the Transitional Justice Paradigm Jill Stockwell, 2014-01-29 This volume explores the evolving and complex memorial consequences of state sponsored violence in post dictatorial Argentina Specifically it looks at the power and significance of personal emotions and affects in shaping memorial culture This volume contends that we need to look beyond political and ideological contestations to a deeper level of how memorial cultures are formed and sustained It argues that we cannot account for the politics of memory in modern day Argentina without acknowledging and exploring the role played by individual emotions and affects in generating and shaping collective emotions and affects Drawing from direct testimony from Argentinian women who have experienced political and physical violence the research in this volume aims at understanding how their memories may be a different source of insight into the deep animosities within and between Argentine memorial cultures In direct contrast to the nominally objective and universalist sensibility that traditionally has driven transitional justice endeavours this volume examines how affective memories of trauma are a potentially disruptive power within the reconciliation paradigm and thus affect should be taken into account when considering transitional justice Accordingly Cultures of Remembrance for Women in Post Dictatorial Argentina is an excellent resource for those interested in human rights transitional justice clinical psychology and social work and Latin American conflicts

Terror in the Land of the Holy Spirit Virginia Garrard-Burnett, 2010-01-15 Between 1982 and 1983 the military government of Guatemala waged a scorched earth campaign of terror against largely Mayan rural communities Drawing on newly available primary sources including guerrilla documents evangelical pamphlets speech transcripts and declassified US government records Virginia Garrard Burnett provides a fine grained picture of what happened during the rule of Guatemalan president by coup Efraín Ríos Montt She suggests that three decades of war engendered an ideology of violence that cut not only vertically but also horizontally across class cultures communities religions and even families

What Is Public History Globally? Paul Ashton, Alex

Trapeznik,2019-01-10 Across the globe history has gone public With the rise of the internet family historians are now delving into archives continents apart Activists look into and recreate the past to promote social justice or environmental causes Dark and difficult pasts are confronted at sites of commemoration Artists draw on memory and the past to study the human condition and make meaning in the present As a result of this democratisation of history public history movements have now risen to prominence This groundbreaking edited collection takes a comprehensive look at public history throughout the world Divided into three sections Background Definitions and Issues Approaches and Methods and Sites of Public History it contextualises public history in eleven different countries explores the main research skills and methods of the discipline and illustrates public history research with a variety of global case studies What is Public History Globally provides an in depth examination of the ways in which ordinary people become active participants in historical processes and it will be an invaluable resource for advance undergraduates and postgraduates studying public history museology and heritage studies

Healing the Wounds of Gukurahundi in Zimbabwe Dumisani Ngwenya,2017-12-14 This book is based on a participatory action research project carried out with a group of former Zimbabwe People s revolutionary Army ZPRA which was the armed wing of the Zimbabwe African People s Union ZAPU which was led by the late Joshua Nkomo ZPRA was the primary target of Gukurahundi a pogrom by the Mugabe government which left an estimated 20 000 civilians dead and countless others tortured in the early 1980s in Matebeleland Zimbabwe It has been almost 30 years since the violence ended but there has never been an official healing and reconciliation programme or truth commission into the atrocities The government chose the path of amnesia by granting a blanket amnesty to all involved The regime has enforced a culture of silence over the event through repression and intimidation The book is a culmination of a two year journey by the group and the author of an exploration of group based self healing approaches to the pain caused by the violence of Gukurahundi

Borders and Border Politics in a Globalizing World Paul Ganster,David E. Lorey,2005 Borders represent an intriguing paradox as globalization continues to leap barriers at a vigorous pace merging economies and cultures through world trade economic integration the mass media the Internet and increasingly mobile populations At the same time the political boundaries separating peoples remain pervasive and problematic Borders and Border Politics in a Globalizing World offers a carefully selected group of readings to enhance student understanding of the complexities of border regions The reader brings together key writings on the histories of borders their social development their politics and the daily life that characterizes them The authors place their analyses of these issues in an international context stressing how borders influence and how they are influenced by global processes The selections provide a window on our current understanding of human interactions at and along national and interethnic boundaries interactions that will characterize borders and border politics for decades to come Drawing on a worldwide set of case studies this text divides border issues into seven thematic categories borders as barriers borders migrants and refugees borders and partitioned groups borders perceptions and culture borders and the

Conceptions of Psychological Life Cynthia Lightfoot, Michael Chandler, Chris Lalonde, 2004-09-10 Changing Conceptions of Psychological Life is an interdisciplinary look at personal constructions of self This book is a product of the 30th Annual Meeting of the Jean Piaget Society The contributing authors constitute the original cast invited to speak on the theme of how individuals come to construe psychological lives their own and others Their concerns are how our sense of ourselves emerges developmentally culturally and historically and the implications such constructions have for personal social and political change Together the authors compose an international and interdisciplinary group of scholars well regarded for their work on topics as diverse as adolescence language aging romance and morality Creating a level of discourse about selves and mind and how they have been and should be studied the volume is broken down into four parts Part I includes work that is principally concerned with elevating the position of our experience of ourselves in constructing who we are The next section focuses on the corrections presumed to exist between the conceptions of self and the conceptions of mental life Each chapter offers additional information on the dynamics of temperament attachment personality and regulation Part III is concerned with cultural contexts that frame developing conceptions of self and mental life Finally the last section situates conceptions of mental life directly and dramatically in the social contexts of their making Readers will find in these pages a programmatic effort variously attuned to selves and minds as dynamic and structured present and represented felt and known non languaged and storied and embodied and theorized The volume is suitable for certain upper level undergraduate and graduate seminars dealing with clinical cognitive cultural and developmental matters and sought out by active researchers and practitioners in the field

Tactical Rape in War and Conflict Brenda Fitzpatrick, 2016-05-25 This is the first book to analyse the use of rape as a tactic of war and international progress away from tacit acceptance to active rejection of this violation of international law Including powerful testimonies of victims it is a much needed volume for academic and professional communities

Impunity, Human Rights, and Democracy Thomas C. Wright, 2014-12-10 Universal human rights standards were adopted in 1948 but in the 1970s and 1980s violent dictatorships in Argentina and Chile flagrantly defied the new protocols Chilean general Augusto Pinochet and the Argentine military employed state terrorism in their quest to eradicate Marxism and other forms of subversion Pinochet constructed an iron shield of impunity for himself and the military in Chile while in Argentina military pressure resulted in laws preventing prosecution for past human rights violations When democracy was reestablished in both countries by 1990 justice for crimes against humanity seemed beyond reach Thomas C Wright examines how persistent advocacy by domestic and international human rights groups evolving legal environments unanticipated events that impacted public opinion and eventual changes in military leadership led to a situation unique in the world the stripping of impunity not only from a select number of commanders of the repression but from all those involved in state terrorism in Chile and Argentina This has resulted in trials conducted by national courts without United Nations or executive branch direction in which hundreds of former repressors have been convicted and many more are indicted or undergoing trial Impunity Human Rights and Democracy draws on extensive research including interviews to trace the erosion and collapse of the former repressors impunity a triumph for human rights advocates that has begun to inspire authorities in other Latin American countries including Peru Uruguay Brazil and Guatemala to investigate past human rights violations and prosecute their perpetrators

Post-Conflict Hauntings Kim Wale, Pumla Gobodo-Madikizela, Jeffrey Prager, 2020-07-02 This book engages the globally pressing question of how to live and work with the haunting power of the past in the aftermath of mass violence It brings together a collection of interdisciplinary contributions to reflect on the haunting of post conflict memory from the perspective of diverse country case studies including South Africa Rwanda Zimbabwe Northern Ireland North and South Korea Palestine and Israel America and Australia Contributions offer theoretical empirical and practical insights on the nature of historical trauma and practices of collective healing and repair that include embodied artistic and culturally relevant forms of wisdom for dealing with the past. While this question has traditionally been explored through the lens of trauma studies in relation to the post Holocaust experience this book provides new understandings from a variety of different historical contexts and disciplinary perspectives. Its chapters draw on challenge and expand the trauma concept to propose more contextually relevant frameworks for transforming haunted memory in the aftermath of historical trauma.
