Geographical Imaginations:

Geographical imaginations Derek Gregory, 1994 Genocide and the Geographical Imagination James A. Tyner, 2012 This groundbreaking book brings an important spatial perspective to our understanding of genocide through a fresh interpretation of Germany under Hitler Cambodia under the Khmer Rouge and China's Great Leap Forward famine under Mao James A Tyner's powerful analysis of these horrifying cases provides insight into the larger questions of sovereignty and state policies that determine who will live and who will die Specifically he explores the government practices that result in genocide and how they are informed by the calculation and valuation of life and death A geographer Key Texts in Human Geography Phil Hubbard, Rob Kitchin, Gill Valentine, 2008-05-19 A book that will delight students Key Texts in Human Geography is a primer of 26 interpretive essays designed to open up the subject's landmark monographs of the past 50 years to critical interpretation The essays are uniformly excellent and the enthusiasm of the authors for the project shines through It will find itself at the top of a thousand module handouts THE Textbook Guide Will surely become a key text itself Read any chapter and you will want to compare it with another Before you realize an afternoon is gone and then you are tracking down the originals Professor James Sidaway University of Plymouth An essential synopsis of essential readings that every human geographer must read It is highly recommended for those just embarking on their careers as well as those who need a reminder of how and why geography moved from the margins of social thought to its very core Barney Warf Florida State University Undergraduate geography students are often directed to key texts in the literature but find them difficult to read because of their language and argument As a result they fail to get to grips with the subject matter and gravitate towards course textbooks instead Key Texts in Human Geography serves as a primer and companion to the key texts in human geography published over the past 40 years It is not a reader but a volume of 26 interpretive essays highlighting the significance of the text how the book should be read reactions and controversies surrounding the book the book's long term legacy It is an essential reference guide for all students of human geography and provides an invaluable interpretive tool in answering questions about human geography and what constitutes geographical knowledge Sketch Maps: Drawing the Geographical Imagination Carla Lois, 2023-05-25 Sketch maps despite their intuitive informal appearance and seemingly naive use are intellectual devices and efficient tools that shape the geographical imagination regardless of the drawing skills of their makers By delineating the silhouettes of nations we express territorial knowledge and geopolitical stereotypes that although shaped at school from an early age organized the way we interact with the world why do we still need to draw maps What is behind our common and naturalized practice of sketching maps This innovative book deciphers why and how the intuitive mechanisms behind sketch mapping activate multiple conscious and unconscious knowledges about place and space The Geographic Imagination of Modernity Chenxi Tang, 2008 This book is a study of the emergence of the geographic paradigm in modern Western thought around 1800 The War Lawyers Craig Jones, 2020-11-26 Over the last 20 years the world's most advanced militaries have invited a small number of military legal professionals into the heart of their targeting operations spaces which had previously been exclusively for generals and commanders. These professionals trained and hired to give legal advice on an array of military operations have become known as war lawyers. The War Lawyers examines the laws of war as applied by military lawyers to aerial targeting operations carried out by the US military in Iraq and Afghanistan and the Israel military in Gaza. Drawing on interviews with military lawyers and others, this book explains why some lawyers became integrated in the chain of command whereby military targets are identified and attacked whether by manned aircraft, drones and/or ground forces and with what results. This book shows just how important law and military lawyers have become in the conduct of contemporary warfare and how it is understood. Jones argues that circulations of law and policy between the US and Israel have bolstered targeting practices considered legally questionable, contending that the involvement of war lawyers in targeting operations enables, legitimises and sometimes even extends military violence.

Finnish Settler Colonialism in North America Rani-Henrik Andersson, Janne Lahti, 2022-12-29. Finnish Settler Colonialism in North America reinterprets Finnish experiences in North America by connecting them to the transnational processes of settler colonial conquest, far settlement, elimination of natives and capture of terrestrial spaces. Rather than merely exploring whether the idea of Finns as a different kind of immigrant is a myth, this book challenges it in many ways. It offers an analysis of the ways in which this myth manifests itself, why it has been upheld to this day and most importantly how it contributes to settler colonialism in North America and beyond. The authors in this volume apply multidisciplinary perspectives in revealing the various levels of Finnish involvement in settler colonialism. In their chapters, authors seek to understand the experiences and representations of Finns in North American spatial projects in territorial expansion and integration and visions of power. They do so by analyzing how Finns reinvented their identities and acted as settlers, participated in the production of settler colonial narratives as well as benefitted and took advantage of settler colonial structures. Finnish Settler Colonialism in North America aims to challenge traditional histories of Finnish migration in which Finns have typically been viewed almost in isolation from the broader American context, not to mention colonialism. The book examines the diversity of roles, experiences and narrations of and by Finns in the histories of North America by employing the settler colonial analytical framework.

Sex, Tourism and the Postcolonial Encounter Jessica Jacobs, 2016-04-01. Illustrated by revealing interviews with women and men in the tourist resorts in the Sinai, Egypt, this book is ostensibly about western women who sleep with native men while on holiday. Broadening the scope of issues involved, it examines the link between these holiday romances and a much wider romanticism of place and people of the landscapes of paradise, deserts and the lure of the Bedouin sheikh that are used to sell these destinations. It argues that the romantic stereotyping and deliberate positioning of Third World resorts as places that somehow exist outside of the modernities the women come from is inextricably bound up in the relationships. Similarly for the local man, the tourist resort is perceived as a place other than his own cultural space and time and represents a modernity that is otherwise only found in the West The relationships that ensue can therefore only occur because the tourist resort acts as an intermediate space In analyzing the interaction of these men and women within the context of modernity the book provides insights into gender issues to do with globalization travel and sexuality as well as opening up the debate on sex tourism and showing this to be a lot more ambiguous and complicated than it might at first appear struggle for the conjoined social and ecological transformations we need to achieve just and sustainable futures The question of transformation and how it might be achieved is explored across a variety of topics and geographical sites and through heterodox analytical and theoretical approaches in a collective effort to move beyond a form of critique that hands down judgements to one that brings new ideas and new possibilities to life Chapters are lively and original engagements with concrete situations that sparkle with creativity Together they add up to an impressive study of how to live and what to struggle for in the complex socioecological landscapes of the Anthropocene This book was previously published as a special issue of the Annals of the Association of American Geographers Imagining Macedonia in the Age of Empire Denis Š.

Ljuljanović, 2023 During the tumultuous age of empire Ottoman Macedonia became a blank canvas onto which Great Powers and neighboring states projected their aspirations grievances ambitions and state building endeavors This manuscript aims to elucidate these constructs and imaginaries employing a theoretical framework encompassing entangled history post colonial theory and subaltern studies It will examine both inter state and local examples to shed light on the multifaceted nature of this complex issue Portuguese Jews and New Christians in Colonial Brazil, 1500-1822 Alan P.

Marcus, 2024-11-15 The diaspora of Portuguese Jews and New Christians known as Gente da Na o People of the Nation is considered the largest European diaspora of the early modern period Portuguese Jews not only founded the first congregations and synagogues in Brazil Recife and Olinda but when they left Brazil they played an imperative role in establishing the first Jewish communities in Suriname throughout the Caribbean and in North America Portuguese Jews and New Christians and their descendants were deeply involved in the colonial enterprise in Brazil They were among the New World's first sugarcane industry experts skilled laborers merchants rabbis calligraphists playwrights poets writers pharmacists medical doctors real estate brokers and geographers a fact that remains largely unknown in most public and academic spheres Drawing on nearly twenty thousand digitized dossiers of the Portuguese Inquisition this volume offers a comprehensive critical overview informed by both relatively inaccessible secondary sources and a significant body of primary sources Geography and Geographers Ron Johnston, James Sidaway, 2015-12-22 Explores the relationship between human and physical geography All chapters updated in the new edition to reflect new literature and changes in the discipline Chapter One systematically considers representations of geographical thought The closing chapter develops an explicit argument about what has made human geography distinctive Draws on a wide reading of the geographical literature produced during a fifty year period characterised by both growth in the number of academic geographers and substantial shifts in conceptions of the discipline's scientific rationale The Global Politics of Contemporary Travel Writing

Debbie Lisle, 2006-11-02 To what extent do best selling travel books such as those by Paul Theroux Bill Bryson Bruce Chatwin and Michael Palin tell us as much about world politics as newspaper articles policy documents and press releases Debbie Lisle argues that the formulations of genre identity geopolitics and history at work in contemporary travel writing are increasingly at odds with a cosmopolitan and multicultural world in which everybody travels Despite the forces of globalization common stereotypes about foreignness continue to shape the experience of modern travel The Global Politics of Contemporary Travel Writing is concerned with the way contemporary travelogues engage with and try to resolve familiar struggles about global politics such as the protection of human rights the promotion of democracy the management of equality within multiculturalism and the reduction of inequality This is a thoroughly interdisciplinary book that draws from international relations literary theory political theory geography anthropology and history

Teaching Geography 11-18: A Conceptual Approach Lambert, David, Morgan, John, 2010-01-01 This book provides a practical guide for students and practising teachers as to how concepts can form the basis of geography teaching This is particularly important at this time as the revised national curriculum for Geography which takes effect from September 2008 has greatly reduced the prescribed content to be covered and instead emphasises that geography is underpinned by a small number of key concepts that provide the building blocks for curriculum planning The new national curriculum for geography identifies 7 concepts Place Space Scale Interdependence Physical and human processes Environmental interaction and sustainable development and Cultural understanding and diversity and these areas are reflected in the book's table of contents This focus on concepts represents a significant shift in how geography is to be taught in schools yet there has been little extended discussion of what a concept led approach to teaching and learning would entail This book will provide geography teachers with a theoretically robust and practical approach to curriculum planning based on the concepts that underpin the subject
