Genius Of James Thurber:

The Genius of James Thurber James Thurber,1997 Anonymous in Their Own Names Susan Henry,2021-04-30

Anonymous in Their Own Names recounts the lives of three women who while working as their husbands uncredited professional partners had a profound and enduring impact on the media in the first half of the twentieth century With her husband Edward L Bernays Doris E Fleischman helped found and form the field of public relations Ruth Hale helped her husband Heywood Broun become one of the most popular and influential newspaper columnists of the 1920s and 1930s In 1925 Jane Grant and her husband Harold Ross started the New Yorker magazine Yet these women s achievements have been invisible to countless authors who have written about their husbands This invisibility is especially ironic given that all three were feminists who kept their birth names when they married as a sign of their equality with their husbands then battled the government and societal norms to retain their names Hale and Grant so believed in this cause that in 1921 they founded the Lucy Stone League to help other women keep their names and Grant and Fleischman revived the league in 1950 This was the same year Grant and her second husband William Harris founded White Flower Farm pioneering at that time and today one of the country s most celebrated commercial nurseries Despite strikingly different personalities the three women were friends and lived in overlapping immensely stimulating New York City circles Susan Henry explores their pivotal roles in their husbands extraordinary success and much more including their problematic marriages and their strategies for overcoming barriers that thwarted many of their contemporaries James Thurber. Cast of Characters: Wolcott Gibbs, E. B. White, James Thurber, and the Golden Age of The New Yorker Thomas Vinciguerra, 2015-11-09 Exuberant elegantly conjures an evocative group dynamic Sam Roberts New York Times From its birth in 1925 to the early days of the Cold War The New Yorker slowly but surely took hold as the country's most prestigious entertaining and informative general interest periodical In Cast of Characters Thomas Vinciguerra paints a portrait of the magazine's cadre of charming wisecracking driven troubled brilliant writers and editors. He introduces us to Wolcott Gibbs, theater critic, all-around wit, and author of an infamous 1936 parody of Time magazine. We meet the demanding and eccentric founding editor Harold Ross, who would routinely tell his underlings, "I'm firing you because you are not a genius," and who once mailed a pair of his underwear to Walter Winchell, who had accused him of preferring to go bare-bottomed under his slacks. Joining the cast are the mercurial blind James Thurber, a brilliant cartoonist and wildly inventive fabulist, and the enigmatic E. B. White, an incomparable prose stylist and Ross's favorite son, who married The New Yorker's formidable fiction editor Katharine Angell. Then there is the dashing St. Clair McKelway, who was married five times and claimed to have no fewer than twelve personalities, but was nonetheless a superb reporter and managing editor alike. Many of these characters became legends in their own right, but Vinciguerra also shows how, as a group, The New Yorker's inner circle brought forth a profound transformation in how life was perceived, interpreted, written about, and published in America. Cast of Characters may be the most revealing and entertaining book yet about the unique personalities who built what Ross called not a magazine but a movement.

The Mammoth Book of Unsolved Crimes Roger Wilkes, 2011-09-01 The biggest and best collection of unsolved murder and mystery cases, updated and expanded. This compelling volume presents thirty-five of the most intriguing crime cases that still defy solution, as reported by leading authors and journalists in the field of crime writing. Expanded and updated, this new edition includes the mystery of Jack the Stripper, who preyed on prostitutes in Hammersmith in the 1960s; the death of Starr Faithful, whose young body was found on Long Island; the vicious murder of Oxford nurse Janet Brown in her own home in 1995; and the case of Lizzie Borden, who, according to the rhyme, took an axe and gave her mother forty whacks. Other cases include Colin Wilson and the Zodiac killer of California; Russell Miller and the obsession with the Black Dahlia; Rebecca West on the killing of Stanley Setty; and the man who contracted out of humanity, Brian Masters, on the killing of Rachel Nickell. Kenneth Alsop on who shot Jake Lingle and his connection with Al Capone; Philip Sugden on that most famous Victorian enigma, Jack the Ripper; Sydney Horley on the woman who was cleared of killing her husband and went on to become a Broadway star. Nearly all the cases involve one or more acts of murder, and all are left with a question mark hanging over them, with real-life whodunits that offer a continuing challenge to all who find fascination in the criminal mind.

Hanging by a Thread Joan Kahn, 1969 True crime narratives and suspense stories are given equal space in this collection of 36 pieces. The fiction tales are good examples of suspense fiction with a psychological twist and include some with bizarre beginnings and endings.
