Genus Carabus I In Europe A Synthesis:

The Genus Carabus in Europe Hans Turin, Lyubomir Penev, Achille Casale, 2003 The ground beetle genus Carabus Coleoptera Carabidae is one of the most intensively studied groups of insects For more than 200 years a huge amount of data has been accumulated on taxonomy biology phylogeny ecology and biogeography From the start in 1989 the aim of the project was to present a complete European summary combining data from both Western and Eastern Europe The results are presented to the scientific community in the form of a thorough and attractive book which will be indispensable in the field of entomology ecology and biogeography

The Genus Carabus in Europe H. Evolutionary Biology of Carabus Ground Beetles Teiji Sota, 2021-11-24 This book presents the whole picture of the ecological and evolutionary study on the ground beetle group the subgenus Ohomopterus of the genus Carabus endemic to Japan This flightless beetle group consists of many geographic races They show divergence in key traits for reproductive isolation body size and genital morphology which leads to coexistence of two or more species This beetle group provides an important material to study how a lineage of organisms diversify and form multi species assemblage and thereby multiply their species richness The book introduces novel genomic approaches to resolve questions about evolution of Ohomopterus The readers will find that this story of evolution in Carabus beetles revealed by recent approaches is much different from what was told in previous literature Exploring different cases across a wide range of lineages is important in constructing a synthetic theory of species radiation and richness including speciation and species coexistence This study on Ohomopterus beetles contributes to the ongoing discussion to understand how and why species multiply and how species richness increases in one area of our planet

Illustrated Catalogue of the Genus Carabus of the World (Coleoptera: Carabidae) Thierry Deuve, 2004 This monograph is a part of the EVOLUTION CANYON model research program which is a microcosmic study of life s evolution from bacteria to mammals The program investigates the evolution of biodiversity adaptation and speciation across life at several

Carabid Beetles as Bioindicators: Biogeographical, Ecological and Environmental Studies D. Johan Kotze, Thorsten Assmann, Jinze Noordijk, Hans Turin, Rikjan Vermeulen, 2011-05-20 This book dedicated to Konjev Desender and Jean Pierre Maelfait is made up of a collection of 30 papers presented at the XIV European Carabidologists Meeting in Westerbork the Netherlands September 2009 Seventy five specialists from 20 countries of Europe and Asia attended the meeting Traditionally the proceedings volumes of the European Carabidologists Meeting have become important milestones outlining the latest trends and achievements in carabidology The aim of the organisers was to invite specialists from different countries and scientific schools to present both traditional and innovative approaches and methods in studying ground beetles This volume includes a wide range of topics from the description of new species taxonomy a summary of the activities of carabidologists during the last 40 years biogeographical issues methodology behaviour indicators environmental issues and conservation The book will be of use to carabidologists specialists in traditional and molecular systematics general and applied ecology conservation biology bioindication urban ecology and biogeography

Catalogue of Geadephaga (Coleoptera, Adephaga) of America, north of Mexico Yves Bousquet, 2012-11-28 This publication provides a comprehensive review of the nomenclature and distribution of the Geadephaga of America north of Mexico Overall 2439 valid species group taxa in 208 genera are catalogued along with their synonyms Besides the usual information pertaining to author s date and page of publication the type locality location of name bearing type first reference establishing each synonym and etymology for many patronymic names are provided for species group names Genus group names are listed with the author s year of publication page citation type species with manner of fixation and etymology for most The geographical distributions of all species group taxa are briefly summarized and their state and province records are indicated About 2500 references are listed with publication dates for many in order to assess priority of names Several new nomenclatural acts are introduced including one new genus group taxon one new replacement name three changes in precedence five new genus group synonymies 65 new species group synonymies one new species group status and 12 new combinations The work includes also a discussion of the notable private North American carabid collections a synopsis of all extant world geadephagan tribes and subfamilies a brief faunistic assessment of the fauna a list of North American fossil Geadephaga a list of North American Geadephaga larvae described or illustrated a list of species described from specimens mislabeled as from North America and a list of unavailable names listed from North America

Forest Biodiversity O. Honnay, K. Verheyen, B. Bossuyt, M. Hermy, 2004-03-22 This book focuses on the diverse impact of forest history in general and of forest continuity fragmentation and past management in particular on the diversity and distribution of species The implications for the conservation of biodiversity in forests are also addressed Chapters have been developed from papers presented at a conference held in Leuven in January 2003 The emphasis is on temperate forests in Europe and North America but the information may also be applicable to other regions or biomes The book will be of significant interest to researchers working within the areas of forestry ecology conservation and environmental history

Ecology and conservation of the Dutch ground beetle fauna Hans Turin, D. Johan Kotze, Stefan Müller-Kroehling, Pavel Saska, John Spence, Theodoor Heijerman, 2023-09-14 Over the past decades large amounts of data about carabids have been collected in the Netherlands initially for the purpose of creating distribution maps for the country In addition to information from collections and faunistic publications a significant amount of data came from ecological studies using pitfall traps Because of the rich tradition of carabidological research in the Netherlands an exceptionally large database of these pitfall data is available The database is a mix of approximately 1 500 short term samples and circa 4 400 so called year samples for which pitfalls were functional during the whole activity period of ground beetles in spring and autumn These year samples came from 2 850 sites covering the period of 1953 2018 and represent all habitats on the Dutch landscape These data offer an unusual view of the presence and activity of this common insect family The data gathered from pitfall trapping is summarised and provides a fresh integrated perspective about the Dutch ground beetle fauna The characteristic species composition of 17 habitat groups is described in detail Over 320 species present in the database have been classified into six main groups according to their patterns of habitat use Both the classification of habitats and associated species have been tested and used in various analyses in the book Two chapters give special attention to changes in the Dutch fauna over the past 66 years by means of extensive trend analysis and relate this understanding to nature conservation The book provides an extension and update for Turin s 2000 atlas The Dutch carabid fauna is discussed considering relevant literature but uses predominantly European studies to put the faunal patterns in broader context This book presents the story of Dutch ground beetles and illustrates the contribution of pitfall trapping to our understanding of the ecology of this fascinating and unusually well studied group of beetles

Biogeography and Ecology of Bulgaria

Victor Fet,Alexi Popov,2007-06-21 The book includes 22 chapters by 28 authors united by the single theme biogeography and ecology of Bulgaria From the single celled organisms in the Black Sea sand to the endemic cave crustaceans from the mountain glacial relict insects to the most diverse bird fauna in Europe the unique fauna of Bulgaria has been a subject of study of mostly Bulgarian zoologists for more than a century This is the first monograph in English broadly addressing all vertebrate and many key invertebrate groups of Bulgaria their faunistics origin geographical and ecological distribution and conservation issues are addressed by the experts on each group

Relict Species Jan Christian Habel,Thorsten

Assmann,2009-12-03 Mankind has evolved both genetically and culturally to become a most successful and dominant species But we are now so numerous and our technology is so p erful that we are having major effects on the planet its environment and the b sphere For some years prophets have warned of the possible detrimental consequences of our activities such as pollution deforestation and overfishing and recently it has become clear that we are even changing the atmosphere e g ozone carbon dioxide This is worrying since the planet s life systems are involved and dependent on its functioning Current climate change global w arming is one recognised consequence of this larger problem To face this major challenge we will need the research and advice of many disciplines Physics Chemistry Earth Sciences Biology and Sociology and particularly the commitment of wise politicians such as US Senator Al Gore An important aspect of this global problem that has been researched for several decades is the loss of species and the impoverishment of our ecosystems and hence their ability to sustain themselves and more particularly us Through evolutionary time new species have been generated and some have gone extinct Such extinction and regeneration are moulded by changes in the earth s crust atmosphere and resultant climate

Some extinctions have been massive particularly those associated with catastrophic meteoric impacts like the end of the Cretaceous Period 65Mya

Biological Invasions and Global Insect Decline Jonatan Rodríguez, Petr Pyšek, Ana Novoa, 2023-09-13 Biological Invasions and Global Insect Decline offers the most updated knowledge on how invasive alien species affect insect diversity worldwide The book provides ongoing research and the most relevant information covering the main aspects of the impact of biological invasions as well as future insights on mitigation and consequences It discusses how the introduction of all kinds of organisms from bacteria and plants to vertebrates affect current declines in insect diversity The latter portion of the book delves into existent and future monitoring and management programs including citizen science and regenerative ecology as socio ecological solutions to combat these threats Written and edited by international experts on invasion ecology and insect conservation this book explores the role of global change and the introduction of invasive species in altering the structure of habitats and how this induces a global insect decline This will be a valuable resource for entomologists invasion biologists and other researchers in biodiversity conservation as well as practitioners and stakeholders concerned about problematic invasive alien species and insect population decline Offers a concise vision of one of the main causes of insect extinctions in the Anthropocene Discusses community ecology insect conservation species interactions restoration ecology Led by a team of editors whose expertise includes invasive alien species invasion ecology insect species diversity and species conservation

Contaminants and Ecological Subsidies Johanna M. Kraus, David M. Walters, Marc A. Mills, 2020-10-15 This volume explores the effects of aquatic contaminants on ecological subsidies and food web exposure at the boundary of aquatic and terrestrial ecosystems It provides the first synthesis of the findings and principles governing the dark side of contaminant effects on ecological subsidies Furthermore the volume provides extensive coverage of the tools being developed to help managers and researchers better understand the implications of contaminants movement and their effects on natural resources and ecosystem processes Aquatic and terrestrial ecosystems are linked through movements of energy and nutrients which subsidize recipient food webs As a result contaminants that concentrate in aquatic systems because of the effects of gravity on water and organic matter have the potential to impact both aquatic and terrestrial ecosystem processes Within the last decade increased attention has been paid to this phenomenon particularly the effects of aquatic contaminants on resource and contaminant export to terrestrial consumers and the potential implications for management This volume curated and edited by three field leaders incorporates empirical results management applications and theoretical synthesis and is a key reference for academics government researchers and consultants

Bark and Wood Boring Insects in Living Trees in Europe, a Synthesis François Lieutier, Keith R. Day, Andrea Battisti, Jean-Claude Grégoire, Hugh F. Evans, 2007-08-24 For the first time a synthesis on the research work done in Europe on all Bark And Wood Boring Insects In Living Trees BAWBILT is presented As final product of a four year research project gathering together 100 scientists from 24 countries the book is the fruit of a real collective synthesis in which all European specialists have participated It reviews and comments on all the European literature while considering the biological trees insects associated organisms and their relationships and forest management aspects However although focused on the European forest it also compares the available information and interpretations to those concerning similar species in other continents It ends with propositions of research priorities for Europe The book is directed to all scientists and students concerned with forest entomology and ecology as well as to forest managers and all scientific public interested in forest biology     European Journal of Entomology ,2008     Folia Entomologica Hungarica ,2007     Norwegian Journal of Entomology ,2007     Baltic Journal of Coleopterology ,2001     Species and Communities in Extreme Environments Serguei Ilich Golovatch,2009 Papers on yeast myxomicetes soil microfungi mosses higher plants nematodes oribatid mites millipedes spiders collembolans ants beetles butterflies and birds of the polar and adjacent regions     The Carabidae (ground Beetles) of Britain and Ireland Martin L. Luff,2007 The Carabidae ground beetles are a cosmopolitan family with an estimated 40 000 species worldwide The prime purpose of this book is to enable the reliable identification of the adults of the 350 species of Carabids that occur in Britain and Ireland Fully illustrated keys to subfamilies tribes genera and species are provided Notes are given for each species to allow the user to confirm identification
