Russell, 2009-06-12 The goal of visualization is the accurate interactive and intuitive presentation of data Complex numerical simulations high resolution imaging devices and increasingly common environment embedded sensors are the primary generators of massive data sets Being able to derive scientific insight from data increasingly depends on having mathematical and perceptual models to provide the necessary foundation for effective data analysis and comprehension The peer reviewed state of the art research papers included in this book focus on continuous data models such as is common in medical imaging or computational modeling From the viewpoint of a visualization scientist we typically collaborate with an application scientist or engineer who needs to visually explore or study an object which is given by a set of sample points which originally may or may not have been connected by a mesh At some point one generally employs low order piecewise polynomial approximations of an object using one or several dependent functions In order to have an understanding of a higher dimensional geometrical object or function efficient algorithms supporting real time analysis and manipulation zooming are needed Often the data represents 3D or even time varying 3D phenomena such as medical data and the access to different layers slices and structures the underlying topology comprising such data is needed The Mathematics Teacher, 2007 El-Hi Textbooks & Serials in Print, 2000, 2000 Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff, Staff Bowker, Ed, 2004 El-Hi Textbooks & Serials in Print, 2003, 2003 El-Hi Textbooks & Serials in Print, 2005, 2005 Exploration of Space, Technology, and Spatiality: Interdisciplinary Perspectives Turner, Phil, Turner, Susan, Davenport, Elisabeth, 2008-09-30 For researchers and scholars working at the intersection of physical social and technological space this book provides critical research from leading experts in the space technology domain Provided by the publisher Information Communication Technologies: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications Van Slyke, Craig, 2008-04-30 The rapid development of information

INTERACT 2009 Tom Gross, Jan Gulliksen, Paula Kotzé, Lars Oestreicher, Philippe Palanque, Raquel Oliveira Prates, Marco Winckler, 2009-08-06 INTERACT 2009 was the 12th of a series of INTERACT international conferences supported by the IFIP Technical Committee 13 on Human Computer Interaction This year INTERACT was held in Uppsala Sweden organized by the Swedish Interdisciplinary Interest Group for Human Computer Interaction STIMDI in cooperation with the Department of Information Technology at Uppsala University Like its predecessors INTERACT 2009 highlighted both to the academic and to the industrial world the importance of the human computer interaction HCI area and its most recent breakthroughs on current applications Both experienced HCI researchers and professionals as well as newcomers to the HCI field interested in designing or evaluating interactive software developing new interaction technologies or investigating overarching theories of HCI found in INTERACT 2009 a great forum for communication with people of similar interests to encourage collaboration and to learn INTERACT 2009 had Research and Practice as its special theme The reason we selected this theme is that the research within the field has drifted away from the practical applicability of its results and that the HCI practice has come to disregard the knowledge and development within the academic community
