Ecology And Semiotics Of Language Learning A Sociocultural Perspective:

The Ecology and Semiotics of Language Learning Leo van Lier, 2006-04-18 In this book I try to give a coherent and consistent overview of what an ecological approach to language learning might look like This is not a fully fledged grand theory that aims to provide an explanation of everything but an attempt to provide a rationale for taking an ecological world view and applying it to language education which I regard as one of the most important of all human activities Goethe once said that everything has been thought of before but that the difficulty is to think of it again The same certainly is true of the present effort If it has any innovative ideas to offer these lie in a novel combination of thoughts and ideas that have been around for a long long time The reader will encounter influences that range from Spinoza to Bakhtin and from Vygotsky to Halliday The scope of the work is intentionally broad covering all major themes that are part of the language learning process and the language teaching profession These themes include language perception and action self learning critical pedagogy and research At the same time I have attempted to look at both the macro and the micro sides of the ecological coin and address issues from both a theoretical and a practical perspective This then aims to be a book that can be read by practitioners and theoreticians alike and the main idea is that it should be readable and challenging at the same time The Ecology and Semiotics of Language Learning Leo van Lier, 2014-03-14 In this book I try to give a coherent and consistent overview of what an ecological approach to language learning might look like This is not a fully fledged grand theory that aims to provide an explanation of everything but an attempt to provide a rationale for taking an ecological world view and applying it to language education which I regard as one of the most important of all human activities Goethe once said that everything has been thought of before but that the difficulty is to think of it again The same certainly is true of the present effort If it has any innovative ideas to offer these lie in a novel combination of thoughts and ideas that have been around for a long long time The reader will encounter influences that range from Spinoza to Bakhtin and from Vygotsky to Halliday The scope of the work is intentionally broad covering all major themes that are part of the language learning process and the language teaching profession These themes include language perception and action self learning critical pedagogy and research At the same time I have attempted to look at both the macro and the micro sides of the ecological coin and address issues from both a theoretical and a practical perspective This then aims to be a book that can be read by practitioners and theoreticians alike and the main idea is that it should be readable and challenging at the same time The Routledge Handbook of Language Learning and Technology Fiona Farr, Liam Murray, 2016-02-26 The exponential growth and development of modern technologies in all sectors has made it increasingly difficult for students teachers and teacher educators to know which technologies to employ and how best to take advantage of them The Routledge Handbook of Language Learning and Technology brings together experts in a number of key areas of development and change and opens the field of language learning by exploring the pedagogical importance of technological innovation The handbook is structured around six themes historical and conceptual contexts core issues interactive and collaborative technologies for language learning corpora and data driven learning gaming and language learning purpose designed language learning resources Led by fundamental concepts theories and frameworks from language learning and teaching research rather than by specific technologies this handbook is the essential reference for all students teachers and researchers of Language Learning and TESOL Those working in the areas of Applied Linguistics Education and Media Studies will also find this a valuable book

Learning Chinese in a Multilingual Space Peiru

Tong,Linda Tsung,2022-05-25 This book examines the benefits of an Australian in country study ICS in China programme and explores ways to maximise the short term ICS experience in a multilingual space The book employs an ecological perspective which has seldom been used to examine the study abroad context It emphasises the importance of the space itself as an arena of interaction belonging and power where conduct and modes of communication are often regulated by political authorities and societal expectations Specifically the book focuses on the following the extent to which the ICS facilitated interaction in different settings the way in which interaction during ICS contributed to language learning the degree in which the interaction during ICS contributed to culture learning and the role of identity in the learning process in the ICS The main argument of the book is that while the ICS promoted multilingual learning space for in class and out of class interactions which further facilitated language and culture learning to a great extent Australian students identities and self concepts also played a core mediating role throughout individual learning trajectories

Contextual Language Learning Yu-Ju Lan,Scott

Grant,2021-08-31 This book presents research and developments in the virtual augmented technology and mixed reality used in language learning and teaching It provides the readers with a comprehensive overview of contextual language learning with the support of immersive technology From theoretical foundations methodological issues the features of virtual and augmented reality and educational practices of language learning to the future of immersive technology for and research on language learning During the past two decades abundant research on different realities has recognized the potential of language learning in virtual augmented and mixed reality environments Wang et al 2020 Lin Lan 2015 Given insufficient studies of Chinese learning in immersive contexts reported in existing literature this book includes several excellent studies about using immersive technologies for Chinese learning in addition to other foreign language learning such as English as a foreign language EFL Since learning Chinese has grown significantly as a global trend the authors vitally consolidate and synthesize various theoretical foundations visions and recent research and practices in the context of Chinese teaching from broader and more diverse perspectives On the other hand the chapters about EFL learning also shed light on the research on contextual language learning Thus the chapters included in this book will likely provide readers with a deep and extensive understanding of the potential of the smart combination of immersive technologies and language learning More issues for future research will undoubtedly be inspired by reading the chapters in this book

Language Education Vally Lytra, Cristina Ros i Solé, Jim Anderson, Vicky Macleroy, 2022-02-04 This book responds to a growing body of work in sociolinguistics and applied linguistics that places an emphasis on situated descriptions of language education practices and illuminates how these descriptions are enmeshed with local institutional and wider social forces It engages with new ways of understanding language that expand its meaning by including other semiotic resources and meaning making practices and bring to the fore its messiness and unpredictability The chapters illustrate how a translingual and transcultural orientation to language and language pedagogy can provide a point of entry to reimagining what language education might look like under conditions of heightened linguistic and cultural diversity and increased linguistic and social inequalities The book unites an international group of contributors presenting state of the art empirical studies drawing on a wide range of local contexts and spaces from linguistically and culturally heterogeneous mainstream and HE classrooms to complementary community school and informal language learning contexts Education and Society in the Middle East and North Africa Milton George, S. Sergio Saleem Scatolini, 2020-01-17 In the past the Middle East and the so called Muslim world used to be beacons of learning and critical thought Although historical variables such as conquest internal conflict and colonization demoted their position on the global stage changes are now in the offing In these interesting times a growing number of educators thinkers and visionaries are trying both to find and to generate new approaches to the past present and future of the region This book is a collection of articles which reflect on various aspects related to education and society in the Middle East and North Africa also known as the MENA region their peoples and educational processes It provides a platform for people to join the global conversation and to contribute to it with data which are relevant to regional concerns research and practices This is necessary because many of the theories and research findings which are still being used to understand the region were generated elsewhere and despite their lack of regional representativeness were generalized as the most trustworthy interpretive tools across the world Hence there is a need for the world to open up to the voices from the MENA region
