Current Issues in Project Analysis for Development John Weiss,David Potts,2012-01-01 For over fifty years project analysis techniques have been applied in the assessment of development projects where poorly designed and appraised projects can waste scarce resources This study examines the continued relevance of this approach assesses methodological developments over this period and investigates current practical problems in the application of these techniques This major work brings together authors with experience of both academic and operational project work to focus on issues such as the shadow exchange rate the shadow wage the discount rate and assessment of poverty impact and risk as well as problems relating to specific sectors covering environmental projects transport education and health There are also general chapters on the experience of semi input output based estimation of shadow prices and the relevance of shadow pricing techniques to the context of developed economies in the EU An overview by the editors sets out the evolution of the literature and highlights current issues The general conclusion is that project analysis techniques remain relevant albeit within a very different development context to that in which they were originally envisaged to be applied With new perspectives on key economic parameters this book will appeal to academics working on development officials involved with project aid programmes postgraduate students of development and professional economists working on development projects

The Routledge Handbook of Transport Economics Jonathan Cowie, Stephen Ison, 2017-08-07 The Routledge Handbook of Transport Economics offers the first state of the art overview of the discipline of transport economics as it stands today reflective of key research and policy Transport is an important area of study and one which is problem rich stimulating a great deal of debate in areas which impact on everyday lives Much of this focuses on the practicalities of the modern day phenomenon of mass movement and all of the issues which surround it The discipline of economics is central to this debate and consequently the study and application of transport economics has a chief role to play in seeking to address subjects relating to major transport issues It can be argued that at the very heart of any transport issue or problem lies the underlying economics of the situation understand that and you alleviate the problem Featuring contributions from world leading scholars and practitioners from across the globe all of the chapters within this book are written from a practical perspective theory is applied and developed using real world examples The book examines concepts issues ideas and practicalities of transport provision in five key topic areas public transport public transport reform economic development and transport modelling transport and the environment freight transport A real strength of the book is in linking theory to practice and hence the economics that are examined in this text are not the economics of the abstract but rather the economics of everyday living Practical and insightful this volume is an essential reference for any student or researcher working in all areas of transport provision ranging from planning appraisal regulation and freight and for all practitioners looking to develop their professional knowledge and who are seeking professional accreditation

Model for the Evaluation of Project Funding in Emerging Markets Carlos Cerrato, 2000-12 Funding private projects in emerging markets in a safely manner requires a thorough evaluation and analysis of several aspects that are constituent to the project itself to the specific country where it is located and to the project owners The author has studied the functioning of Financial Markets in developing countries for several years compared them to International Financial Markets and has come to the conclusion that the contributions made in the past do not cover all the information required in order to judge and secure the viability of projects in these countries By developing a model and researching its components breakdown the author has attempted to fulfill all the requirements necessary to accomplish this purpose The methodology used was basically a result of a detailed research throughout years of experience to verify and analyze documentation related to different types of projects recommended for funding located in several developing countries The collected data during the verification process of each project have been significant to their outcome and have assisted me for the development of the model presented in this Dissertation In addition related studies by professionals in the field Bankers Economists Financial Analysts etc have been examined and partially incorporated in this Dissertation in order to make a significant parallel to the components of the model

Investing in Resilience Asian Development Bank, 2013-01-01 Investing in Resilience Ensuring a Disaster Resistant Future focuses on the steps required to ensure that investment in disaster resilience happens and that it occurs as an integral systematic part of development At risk communities in Asia and the Pacific can apply a wide range of policy capacity and investment instruments and mechanisms to ensure that disaster risk is properly assessed disaster risk is reduced and residual risk is well managed Yet real progress in strengthening resilience has been slow to date and natural hazards continue to cause significant loss of life damage and disruption in the region undermining inclusive sustainable development Investing in Resilience offers an approach and ideas for reflection on how to achieve disaster resilience It does not prescribe specific courses of action but rather establishes a vision of a resilient future It stresses the interconnectedness and complementarity of possible actions to achieve disaster resilience across a wide range of development policies plans legislation sectors and themes The vision shows how resilience can be accomplished through the coordinated action of governments and their development partners in the private sector civil society and the international community The vision encourages investors to identify and prioritize bundles of actions that collectively can realize that vision of resilience breaking away from the current tendency to pursue disparate and fragmented disaster risk management measures that frequently trip and fall at unforeseen hurdles Investing in Resilience aims to move the disaster risk reduction debate beyond rhetoric and to help channel commitments into investment incentives funding and practical action
