Bezalel Porten,Ada Yardeni,2023-08-22 Since the early 1990s about two thousand Idumean Aramaic ostraca have found their way onto the antiquities market and are now scattered across a number of museums libraries and private collections This fifth and final volume of the Textbook of Aramaic Ostraca from Idumea completes the work of bringing these ostraca together in a single publication Volumes 1 4 published some 1 600 ostraca that gave us insight into agriculture economics politics onomastics and scribal practices from fourth third century BCE Idumea and Judah The ostraca in volume 5 come from the same milieu but the information they provide is entirely new and different This volume presents 485 ostraca including 99 land descriptions 168 uncertain texts and 218 assorted remains scribal exercises and forgeries along with useful indexes and tables and a comparative list of entries The land descriptions which record local landmarks ownership boundaries and land registration provide rich complementary material to the rest of the Idumean ostraca The uncertain texts are fragmentary in poor condition or contain other abnormalities As the TAO corpus becomes better understood and as imaging techniques improve these texts will help to fill gaps in knowledge The final section includes the remains of scribal practices and forgeries important because they help to show the authenticity of the other two thousand pieces A unique collection of documentary sources for fourth third century BCE Idumea and by extension Judah this multivolume work will be a powerful resource for those interested in onomastics and social and economic history The American Historical Association's Guide to Historical Literature American Historical Association,1995 Contains nearly 2 000 annotated citations primarily English language works divided into forth eight sections citations refer chiefly to works published between 1961 and 1992

Cuneiform Archives and Libraries K. R. Veenhof,1986 The Making of a Scribe Robert Middeke-Conlin,2020-03-11 This book presents a novel methodology to study economic texts The author investigates discrepancies in these writings by focusing on errors mistakes and rounding numbers In particular he looks at the acquisition use and development of practical mathematics in an ancient society The Old Babylonian kingdom of Larsa beginning of the second millennium BCE Southern Iraq In so doing coverage bridges a gap between the sciences and humanities Through this work the reader will gain insight into discrepancies encountered in economic texts in general and rounding numbers in particular They will learn a new framework to explain error as a form of economic practice Researchers and students will also become aware of the numerical and metrological basis for calculation in these writings and how the scribes themselves conceptualized value This work fills a void in Assyriological studies It provides a methodology to explore understand and exploit statistical data The anlaysis also fills a void in the history of mathematics by presenting historians of mathematics a method to study practical texts In addition the author shows the importance mathematics has as a tool for ancient practitioners to cope with complex economic processes This serves as a useful case study for modern policy makers into the importance of education in any economy
