The Body in Flannery O'Connor's Fiction Donald E. Hardy, 2007 This is a reading of physical obsession in O'Connor through linguistic and literary techniques This work extends the innovative thesis that it is possible to grasp the central struggle between spirit and matter in O'Connor through a close quantitative examination of the interactions of grammatical voice and physical bodies in her texts Bridging literary theory and linguistics Hardy demonstrates that the many constructions in which the body parts of O'Connor's characters are foregrounded either as subjects or objects are grammatical manipulations of semantic variations on what linguists deem the middle voice roughly indicating that the subject is acting upon himself or herself Hardy combines computational and linguistic methodology to provide a productive approach to understanding O'Connor's use of the body and its parts in her explorations of the sacramental and the grotesque Linguistic analysis of grammatical middle voice is coupled with quantitative analysis of body part words and the collocations in which they appear to present a new point of entrance to understanding O'Connor's stylistic manipulations of the body as central to the rift between spirit and matter Through this method of reading O'Connor Hardy makes a valuable contribution to the growing body of work that is introducing linguistic terminology and concepts into literary studies

Sanctum Sanctorum Justin Mandela Roberts, 2019-11-11 This book seeks to answer the question What is holiness What do we talk about when we talk about holiness We might describe many things as holy but as Socrates says what is the essential aspect by which all holy acts are holy Sanctum Sanctorum gives an account of the holy from within the Christian participatory tradition and argues that holiness is included in a special category of divine names that Christian metaphysics calls transcendentals which are five being one truth goodness and beauty Moreover holiness stands in a hierarchical relationship to the other five transcendentals as the culmination or concentration of the rest Only by understanding holiness as the head of the transcendentals as the transcendental can one account for all the complexity the idea of the holy conjures Therefore holiness is the transcendental of the transcendentals It adds the aspect of reverence to existence and as such it is constituted by the formula sanctum sanctorum Holy of holies which extends from the divine nature through the triune life to all creation

Ng, 2004-09-14 Interweaving psychoanalysis gender and cultural studies and postmodern theories of geopolitics this study of the monster in contemporary narratives demonstrates that the monster and monstrosity is largely a cultural and ideological production Figures such as the serial killer the monstrous child deformed bodies and spatially influenced monstrosity will be considered through analyses of texts by Peter Ackroyd Bret Easton Ellis and Angela Carter among others The conclusion proposes that language itself becomes monstrous when it attempts and fails to articulate the monster Festival Cities John R. Gold, Margaret M. Gold, 2020-12-04 Festivals have always been part of city life but their relationship with their host cities has continually changed With the rise of industrialization they were largely considered peripheral to the course of urban affairs Now they have become central to new ways of thinking about the challenges of economic and social change as well as repositioning cities within competitive global networks In this timely and thought provoking book John and Margaret Gold provide a reflective and evidence based historical survey of the processes and actors involved charting the ways that regular festivals have now become embedded in urban life and city planning Beginning with David Garrick s rain drenched Shakespearean Jubilee and ending with Sydney s flamboyant Mardi Gras celebrations it encompasses the emergence and consolidation of city festivals After a contextual historical survey that stretches from Antiquity to the late nineteenth century there are detailed case studies of pioneering European arts festivals in their urban context Venice s Biennale the Salzburg Festival the Cannes Film Festival and Edinburgh s International Festival Ensuing chapters deal with the worldwide proliferation of arts festivals after 1950 and with the ever increasing diversification of carnival celebrations particularly through the actions of groups seeking to assert their identity The conclusion draws together the book s key themes and sketches the future prospects for festival cities Lavishly illustrated and copiously researched this book is essential reading not just for urban geographers social historians and planners but also for anyone interested in contemporary festival and events tourism urban events strategy urban regeneration regeneration or simply building a fuller understanding of the relationship between culture planning and the city Maternity, Monstrosity, and Heroic (Im)mortality from Homer to Shakespeare Sara Burdorff, 2025-10-01 This work uses an adaptation of monster theory to rethink the foundations of epic heroic immortality Rather than focusing on a specific monster or monsters the author identifies the belly monstrous as a crucial point of intersection between mothers and warriors in traditional narratives of the Trojan War Identifying the gestating digesting belly as the center of the Iliadic world this groundbreaking approach disrupts androcentric readings of the Iliadic warrior and his ethos emphasizing the crucial role of female suffering in the generation and preservation of immortal legacy The author reconsiders ancient Greek depictions of the Trojan War and its aftermath including Homeric epic and the tragedies of Aeschylus and Euripides and illuminates the cohesive patterning of Shakespeare s mother warrior plays which place inherited Iliadic belly monstrous motifs in conversation with cultural anxieties of late

EthniCity Olaf Kaltmeier,2016-04-01 Bringing together a multidisciplinary team of scholars this book explores the importance of ethnicity and cultural economy in the post Fordist city in the Americas It argues that cultural political and economic elites make use of cultural and ethnic elements in city planning and architecture in order to construct a unique image of a particular city and demonstrates how the use of ethnicized cultural production such as urban branding based on local identities by the economic elite raises issues of considerable concern in terms of local identities as it deploys a practical logic of capital exchange that can overcome forms of cultural resistance and strengthen the hegemonic colonization of everyday life At the same time it shows how ethnic communities are able to use ethnic labelling of cultural production ethnic economy or ethno tourism facilities in order to change living conditions and to empower its members in ways previously impossible Of wide ranging interest across academic disciplines this book will be a useful contribution to Inter American studies Florida Studies

Claudia Slate,2009-03-26 Florida was the first region of the United States to be discovered explored and after a fashion settled by Euroamericans Its population in the early 21st century is approaching 17 million Within years the number of people living in the state will surpass those living in New York and the Sunshine State will become the most populous area east of the Mississippi The first book in English about Florida was written by Jean Ribault A French adventurer Ribault established a colony of Huguenots near present day Jacksonville He was captured by the very able Spanish commander Pedro Menendez who ordered his French rival and all his minions killed The state s long and colorful past is matched by its equally long and colorful literary production Strangely critical assessment of Florida literature has lagged far behind With this volume the Florida College English Association has formally begun an effort to correct this lamentable oversight Included are papers on every aspect of Florida literature and history by scholars from every part of the state who are employed in every kind of institution of higher learning Of special interest are the studies of Florida literature in the 19th century and in the late 20th and early 21st centuries areas that are generally ignored in national journals The papers on the contributions of African American literary figures such as Zora Hurston and James Weldon Johnson are noteworthy Of particular interest are the suggestions for teaching Florida studies in the classroom which can be adapted for high school as well as college students A Companion to the Neronian Age

Posthumanism in Contemporary Science Fiction Film and Media Julia A. Empey, Russell J.A. Kilbourn, 2023-08-24
Feminist Posthumanism in Contemporary Science Fiction Film and Media From Annihilation to High Life and Beyond places posthumanism and feminist theory into dialogue with contemporary science fiction film and media This essay collection is intimately invested in the debates around the posthuman and the critical posthumanities within a feminist critical theoretical framework In this posthumanist light science fiction as a genre allows for new imaginings of human technological relations while it can also be the site of a critique of human exceptionalism and essentialism In this way science fiction affords unique opportunities for the scholarly investigation of the relevance and relative applicability of specific posthumanist themes and questions in a particularly rich and wide ranging popular cultural field of production One of the reasons for this suitability is the genre's historically longstanding relationship with the critical investigation of gender specifically the position and relative empowerment of women The original analyses presented here pay close attention to audiovisual style including game mechanics facilitating the critical interrogation of the issues and questions around posthumanism Where typically the mention of SF in the posthumanist context calls to mind a whole set of often clichéd tropes the cyborg technologically augmented bodies AI subjectivities etc this volume's thirteen chapters analyze specific examples of contemporary SF cinema that engage in meaningful ways with the burgeoning field of critical posthumanism and that utilize such films to interrogate posthumanist and feminist as well as humanistic ideas Literature, Amusement, and Technology in the Great Depression William Solomon, 2009-10 Literature Amusement and Technology examines the exchange between literature and recreational practices in 1930s America William Solomon argues that autobiographical writers like Edward Dahlberg and Henry Miller took aesthetic inspiration from urban manifestations of the carnival spirit Coney Island amusement parks burlesque vaudeville and the dime museum display of human oddities More broadly he demonstrates that the literary projects of the period pivoted around images of grotesquely disfigured bodies which appeared as part of this recreational culture

Aggressive Fictions Kathryn Hume,2012-01-15 A frequent complaint against contemporary American fiction is that too often it puts off readers in ways they find difficult to fathom Books such as Bret Easton Ellis's American Psycho Katherine Dunn's Geek Love and Don DeLillo's Underworld seem determined to upset disgust or annoy their readers or to disorient them by shunning traditional plot patterns and character development Kathryn Hume calls such works aggressive fiction Why would authors risk alienating their readers and why should readers persevere Looking beyond the theory based justifications that critics often provide for such fiction Hume offers a commonsense guide for the average reader who wants to better understand and appreciate books that might otherwise seem difficult to enjoy In her reliable and sympathetic guide Hume considers roughly forty works of recent American fiction including books by William Burroughs Kathy Acker Chuck Palahniuk and Cormac McCarthy Hume gathers attacks on the reader into categories based on narrative structure and content Writers of some aggressive fictions may wish to frustrate easy interpretation or criticism Others may try to induce certain responses in readers Extreme content deployed as a tactic for distancing and alienating can actually produce a contradictory effect for readers who learn to relax and go with the flow the result may well be exhilaration rather than revulsion

Configurations of Rape in the Hebrew Bible Frank M. Yamada,2008 In Configurations of Rape in the Hebrew Bible Frank M Yamada explores the compelling similarity among three rape narratives found in the Hebrew Scriptures These three stories the rape of Dinah Genesis 34 the rape of an unnamed concubine Judges 19 and the rape of Tamar daughter of David 2 Samuel 13 move through the same plot progression an initial sexual violation of a woman leads to escalating violence among men resulting in some form of social fragmentation In this intriguing study Yamada draws from the disciplines of literary and narrative criticism feminist biblical interpretation and cultural anthropology to argue for a family resemblance among these three stories about rape

Disability and Christian Theology Embodied Limits and Constructive Possibilities Deborah Beth Creamer,2009-01-05 Attention to embodiment and the religious significance of bodies is one of the most significant shifts in contemporary theology In the midst of this however experiences of disability have received little attention This book explores possibilities for theological engagement with disability focusing on three primary alternatives challenging existing theological models to engage with the disabled body considering possibilities for a disability liberation theology and exploring new theological options based on an understanding of the unsurprisingness of human limits The overarching perspective of this book is that limits are an unavoidable aspect of being human a fact we often seem to forget or deny Yet not only do all humans experience limits most of us also experience limits that take the form of disability at some point in our lives in this way disability is more normal than non disability If we take such experiences seriously and refuse to reduce them to mere instances of suffering we discover insights that are lost when we take a perfect or generic body as our starting point for theological reflections While possible applications of this insight are vast this work focuses on two areas of particular interest theological anthropology and metaphors for God This project challenges theology to consider the undeniable diversity of human embodiment It also enriches previous disability work by providing an alternative to the dominant medical and minority models both of which fail to acknowledge the full diversity of disability experiences Most notably this project offers new images and possibilities for theological construction that attend appropriately and creatively to diversity in human embodiment

Tennessee Williams and the Theatre of Excess Annette J. Saddik, 2015-01-26 This book explores Williams late plays in terms of a theatre of excess which seeks liberation through exaggeration chaos ambiguity and laughter

Visual Theology Robin Margaret Jensen, Kimberly J. Vrudny, 2009 At least since the time of Paul see Acts 18 Christians have wrestled with the power and danger of religious imagery in the visual arts It was not until the middle of the twentieth century that there emerged in Western Christianity an integrated academic study of theology and the arts Here one of the pioneers of that movement H Wilson Yates along with fourteen theologians examine how visual culture reflects or addresses pressing contemporary religious questions The aim throughout is to engage the reader in theological reflection mediated and enhanced by the arts This beautifully illustrated book includes more than fifty images in full color

The Comic Turn in Contemporary English Fiction Huw Marsh, 2020-07-09 The Comic Turn in Contemporary English Fiction explores the importance of comedy in contemporary literature and culture In an era largely defined by a mood of crisis bleakness cruelty melancholia environmental catastrophe and collapse Huw Marsh argues that contemporary fiction is as likely to treat these subjects comically as it is to treat them gravely and that the recognition and proper analysis of this humour opens up new ways to think about literature Structured around readings of authors including Martin Amis Nicola Barker Julian Barnes Jonathan Coe Howard Jacobson Magnus Mills and Zadie Smith this book suggests not only that much of the most interesting contemporary writing is funny and that there is a comic tendency in contemporary fiction but also that this humour this comic licence allows writers of contemporary fiction to do peculiar and interesting things things that are funny in the sense of odd or strange and that may in turn inspire a funny turn in readers Marsh offers a series of original critical and theoretical frameworks for discussing questions of literary genre style affect and politics demonstrating that comedy is an often neglected mode that plays a generative role in much of the most interesting contemporary writing creating sites of rich political stylistic cognitive and ethical contestation whose analysis offers a new perspective on the present
