Improvisation and Music Education Ajay Heble, Mark Laver, 2016-02-19 This book offers compelling new perspectives on the revolutionary potential of improvisation pedagogy. Bringing together contributions from leading musicians, scholars and teachers from around the world, the volume articulates how improvisation can breathe new life into old curricula, how it can help teachers and students to communicate more effectively, how it can break down damaging ideological boundaries between classrooms and communities, and how it can help students become more thoughtful, engaged and activist global citizens. In the last two decades, a growing number of music educators, music education researchers, musicologists, cultural theorists, creative practitioners and ethnomusicologists have suggested that a greater emphasis on improvisation in music performance, history and theory classes offers enormous potential for pedagogical enrichment. This book will help educators realize that potential by exploring improvisation along a variety of trajectories. Essays offer readers both theoretical explorations of improvisation and music education from a wide array of vantage points and practical explanations of how the theory can be implemented in real situations in communities and classrooms. It will therefore be of interest to teachers and students in numerous modes of pedagogy and fields of study, as well as students and faculty in the academic fields of music education, jazz studies, ethnomusicology, musicology, cultural studies and popular culture studies

Creative Contradictions in Education Ronald A. Beghetto, Bharath

Sriraman, 2016-09-30 Creative Contradictions in Education is a provocative collection of essays by international experts who tackle difficult questions about creativity in education from a cross disciplinary perspective. The contributors to this volume examine and provide fresh insights into the tensions and contradictions that researchers and educators face when attempting to understand and apply creativity in educational contexts. Creativity in education is surrounded by many contradictions. Teachers generally value creativity but question the role it can and should play in their classroom. Many educators find themselves feeling caught between the push to promote students' creative thinking skills and the pull to meet external curricular mandates, increased performance monitoring and various other curricular constraints. This book brings together leading experts who provide fresh cross disciplinary insights into how creative contradictions in education might be addressed. Contributors will draw from existing empirical and theoretical work but push beyond what currently is and comment on future possibilities. This includes challenging the orthodoxy of traditional conceptions of creativity in education or making a case for maintaining particular orthodoxies. The Oxford Handbook of Music Therapy Jane Edwards, 2017

Music therapy is growing internationally to be one of the leading evidence based psychosocial allied health professions to meet needs across the lifespan. The Oxford Handbook of Music Therapy is the most comprehensive text on this topic in its history. It presents exhaustive coverage of the topic from international leaders in the field. Script Development Craig Batty, Stacy Taylor, 2021-02-16 This book offers the first international look at how script development is theorised and practiced. Drawing on interviews, case studies, discourse analysis, creative practices and industry experiences, it brings together scholars and practitioners from around the world to offer critical insights into this core but often hidden aspect of screenwriting and screen production. Chapters speculate and reflect upon how creative commercial and social practices in which ideas, emotions, people and personalities combine, cohere and clash are shaped by the practicalities, policies and rapid movements of the screen industry. Comprising two parts, the book first looks into script development from a theoretical perspective and second looks out from the practice to form practitioner led perspectives of script development. With a rising interest in screenwriting and production studies and an increased appetite for practice based research, the book offers a timely mapping of the terrain of script development, providing rich foundations for both study and practice. Artist

Management Guy Morrow, 2018-04-17 Artists are creative workers who drive growth in the creative and cultural industries. Managing artistic talent is a unique challenge and this concise book introduces and analyses its key characteristics. Artist Management: Agility in the Creative and Cultural Industries makes a major contribution to our understanding of the creative and cultural industries of artistic and managerial creativities and of social and cultural change in this sector. The book undertakes an extensive exploration of the increasingly pivotal role of artist managers in the creative and cultural industries and argues that agile management strategies are useful in this context. This book provides a comprehensive and accessible account of the artist artist manager relationship in the twenty first century Drawing from research interviews conducted with artist managers and self managed artists in five cities New York London Toronto Sydney and Melbourne this book makes an original contribution to knowledge Nation specific case studies are highlighted as a means of illuminating various thematic concerns This unique book is a major piece of research and a valuable study aid for both undergraduate and postgraduate students of subjects including arts management creative and cultural industries studies arts entrepreneurship business and management studies and media and communications

Collaborative and Distributed Processes in Contemporary Music-Making Richard Glover, Lauren Redhead, 2020-04-09 This volume represents the second proceedings of the Royal Musical Association's RMA Music and as Process Study Group It is not surprising that a large number of the contributors to the Music and as Process Study Group are active practitioners in the performance and composition of contemporary music The collaborations documented here represent the bringing together of disciplines joint work between practitioners who contribute their own specific areas of expertise to a composite creative activity and work that crosses disciplines in order to make a critical comment in each of them In this collection these three types of collaborative work describe an increasing amount of contemporary music practice In addition to the increasing involvement of practice in research the understanding and prevalence of practice methodologies in the form of practice research has also increased in musicology This volume reflects these concerns through contributions from authors who are all active practitioners in their respective fields of music performance composition improvisation and conducting The diversity of these contributions shows the variety of processes and practices that are currently being undertaken by proponents of the field of contemporary music These essays provide a snapshot of the current collaborative and distributed processes that are employed by today's contemporary music practitioners The chapters contained in this volume reveal the varied nature of the approaches to creativity in music making and the ways that these are distributed across its practitioners during each stage of the development of musical works
