Handbook of Violence Research Wilhelm Heitmeyer,John Hagan,2005-08-12 An international manual is like a world cruise a once in a lifetime experience All the more reason to consider carefully whether it is necessary This can hardly be the case if previous research in the selected field has already been the subject of an earlier review or even several competing surveys On the other hand more thorough study is necessary if the intensity and scope of research are increasing without comprehensive assessments That was the situation in Western societies when work began on this project in the summer of 1998 It was then too that the challenges emerged any manual especially an international one is a very special type of text which is anything but routine It calls for a special effort the state of the art has to be documented for selected subject areas and its presentation made as compelling as possible The editors were delighted therefore by the cooperation and commitment shown by the eighty one contributors from ten countries who were recruited to write on the sixty two different topics by the constructive way in which any requests for changes were dealt with and by the patient response to our many queries This volume is the result of a long process It began with the first drafts outlining the structure of the work which were submitted to various distinguished colleagues Friedheim Neidhardt of Berlin Gertrud Nunner Winkler of Munich and Roland Eckert of Trier to name only a few supplied valuable comments at this stage Supporting Civil Society Laura Macdonald,2016-07-27 Many analysts are looking to non governmental organizations NGOs as the promoters of more equitable and democratic forms of development because of their status as actors in civil society Based on a critical evaluation of six rural development projects in Costa Rica and Nicaragua Supporting Civil Society shows that NGOs often perpetuate paternalism and dependency It is argued that both international and national NGOs need to support social movements which are best able to express the demands of people at the grassroots
