Growing Up Postmodern Neoliberalism And The War On The Young:

Growing Up Postmodern Ronald Strickland, 2002-06-25 This collection takes its inspiration from Paul Goodman's Growing Up Absurd a landmark critique of American culture at the end of the 1950s Goodman called for a revival of social investment in urban planning public welfare workplace democracy free speech racial harmony sexual freedom popular culture and education to produce a society that could inspire young people and an adult society worth joining In postmodernity Goodman's enlightenment era vision of social progress has been judged obsolete For many postmodern critics subjectivity is formed and expressed not through social investment but through consumption the freedom to consume has replaced political empowerment But the power to consume is distributed very unevenly and even for the affluent it never fulfills the desire produced by the advertising industry The contributors to this volume focus on adverse social conditions that confront young people in postmodernity such as the relentless pressure to consume social disinvestment in education harsh responses to youth crime and the continuing climate of intolerance that falls heavily on the young In essays on education youth crime counseling protest movements fiction identity formation and popular culture the contributors look for moments of resistance to the subsumption of youth culture under the logic of global capitalism

Postmodern Literature and Race Len Platt, Sara Upstone, 2015-02-19 Postmodernism and Race explores the question of how dramatic shifts in conceptions of race in the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries have been addressed by writers at the cutting edge of equally dramatic transformations of literary form An opening section engages with the broad question of how the geographical and political positioning of experimental writing informs its contribution to racial discourses while later segments focus on central critical domains within this field race and performativity race and the contemporary nation and postracial futures With essays on a wide range of contemporary writers including Bernadine Evaristo Alasdair Gray Jhumpa Lahiri Andrea Levy and Don DeLillo this volume makes an important contribution to our understanding of the politics and aesthetics of contemporary writing

Neoliberalism in Multi-Disciplinary Perspective Adrian Scribano, Freddy Timmermann Lopez, Maximiliano E. Korstanje, 2018-08-08 This volume brings together well versed authors from four continents to critically discuss the roots of neoliberalism and how academics use the word today Neoliberalism has recently recycled and mutated towards new forms of radicalization where fear plays a leading role legitimating policies which would otherwise be overtly neglected by citizens The authors ignite a new discussion within social sciences combining the advances of sociology history anthropology communication and the theory of mobilities to understand the different faces and guises of neoliberalism

Youth Culture and Private Space S. Lincoln, 2012-06-26 Si n Lincoln considers the use role and significance of private spaces in the lives of young people Drawing on extensive ethnographic research she explores the place of the private in youth cultural discourses both historically and contemporarily that until now have remained largely absent in youth cultural research

Neoliberalism in the Tourism and Hospitality Sector Nadda, Vipin, Bilan, Sahidi, Azam, Muhammad, Mulindwa, Dirisa, 2018-10-26 Globalization is increasing interconnectedness and is offering immense opportunities for businesses worldwide Although it has been taking place for hundreds of years it has sped up enormously over the last half century increasing international trade greater dependence on the global economy and freer movement of capital goods and services While globalization can create opportunities for wealth in emerging economies it still cannot completely close the gap between the world s poorest countries and the world s richest Many view globalization as a threat to cultural diversity believing that it can drown out local economies traditions and languages and make travel to certain regions less desirable Neoliberalism in the Tourism and Hospitality Sector provides innovative insights into the adoption of glocalization as a measure to mitigate the threats posed by globalization within the travel and tourism industries It is designed for policymakers researchers government officials and marketers considering glocalization as a means to sustain the relevancy of local business and trade

Education, Participatory Action Research, and Social Change D. Kapoor, S. Jordan, 2009-09-28 Drawing primarily from critical traditions in social and educational research this book frames contemporary issues and several conceptual theoretical analytical and onto epistemic approaches towards the development and practice of PAR Participatory Action Research in multiple educational spaces and initiatives for socio cultural change

Girlhood, Schools, and Media Michele Paule, 2016-09-13 This book explores the circulation and reception of popular discourses of achieving girlhood and the ways in which girls themselves participate in such circulation It examines the figure of the achieving girl within wider discourses of neoliberal self management and post feminist possibility considering the tensions involved in being both successful and successfully feminine and the strategies and negotiations girls undertake to manage these tensions The work is grounded in an understanding of media educational and peer contexts for the production of the successful girl It traces narratives across school television and online in texts produced for and by girls drawing on interviews with girls in schools online forum participation within the purpose built site www smartgirls tv and girls discussions of a range of teen dramas Caught in the Crossfire Lawrence Grossberg,2015-12-03 Caught in the Crossfire reveals how the United States has been gradually changing from a society that celebrates childhood into one that is hostile to and afraid of its own children Today kids are often seen as a threat to our social and moral values In schools some behavior is criminalized and growing numbers of kids find themselves in penal and psychiatric confinement This breakdown is often too readily attributed to bad parenting the crisis of the family or the greed of capitalism Grossberg offers a new and original understanding of the changes transforming contemporary America and of the choices Americans face about their future He documents the relations between economic ideologies and economic realities and explores what is going on in the culture wars as well as on the Internet and other new media Caught in the Crossfire argues that all of these changes and tn struggles including those involving the state of kids only make sense as integral parts of a larger transformation to define America s uniqueness and to develop its own sense of modern culture Part of the Cultural Politics and the Promise of Democracy Series Magical Thinking, Fantastic Film, and the Illusions of Neoliberalism Michael J. Blouin,2016-06-29 This book analyzes how contemporary popular films with fantastic themes including Candyman Frozen The Cabin in the Woods and The Incredible Burt Wonderstone cultivate neoliberal subjectivities These films promise dramatic change but they too often deliver more of the same Although proponents maintain the illusion that the militant enforcement of freemarket economics will resolve racism climate change and imperialism their magical thinking actually fuels the crises Magical Thinking Fantastic Film and the Illusions of Neoliberalism explores the ways in which the visual economies of Hollywood fantasy compliment this particular political economy Researching Children and Youth Ingrid E. Castro,Melissa Swauger,Brent Harger,2017-03-17 This volume seeks to directly address the problems and pitfalls that often accompany researching children and youth in today s society This volume addresses participatory and feminist ethnographic approaches digital mining children s agency and navigating IRBs Themes of space location and identity run throughout this volume Playing War Matthew Thomas Payne,2016-04-05 Explores the culture that made military shooter video games popular and key in understanding the War on Terror No video game genre has been more popular or more lucrative in recent years than the military shooter Franchises such as Call of Duty Battlefield and those bearing Tom Clancy s name turn over billions of dollars annually by promising to immerse players in historic and near future battles converting the reality of contemporary conflicts into playable experiences In the aftermath of 9 11 these games transformed a national crisis into fantastic and profitable adventures where seemingly powerless spectators became solutions to these virtual Wars on Terror Playing War provides a cultural framework for understanding the popularity of military themed video games and their significance in the ongoing War on Terror Matthew Payne examines post 9 11 shooter style game design as well as gaming strategies to expose how these practices perpetuate and challenge reigning political beliefs about America's military prowess and combat policies Far from offering simplistic escapist pleasures these post 9/11 shooters draw on a range of nationalist mythologies positioning the player as the virtual hero at every level Through close readings of key games analyses of marketing materials and participant observations of the war gaming community Playing War examines an industry mobilizing anxieties about terrorism and invasion to craft immersive titles that transform international strife into interactive fun      Precarious Lives Shahram Khosravi,2017-03-07 Drawing on extensive ethnographic engagement with youth in Tehran and Isfahan as well as with migrant workers in rural areas Shahram Khosravi weaves a tapestry from individual stories government reports statistics and cultural analysis to depict how Iranians react to the experience of precarity and the possibility of hope      Baudrillard, Youth, and American Film Kip Kline,2016-05-26 Baudrillard Youth and American Film examines the portrayal of youth in American cinema with Jean Baudrillard's radical social theory and philosophical system Kline uses Baudrillard's corpus to analyze the troubling effects of the portrayal of youth in American teen films namely its contribution to discursive violence against young people which holds such a prominent place in many adult controlled modern institutions like schools This kind of violence has multiple iterations including the inability to imagine youth as meaningful political actors the insistence on taking teenagers to be morally impoverished and the propensity for viewing young people as thoroughly heteronomous While there are certainly pockets of exception violent discourses often animate institutional disregard for youth Kline promotes Baudrillard's fatal theory as a way for critical educators philosophers sociologists and other concerned pedagogues to argue for an alteration in the way that youth is portrayed in American films and to discourage the negative discourse that have colonized conceptions and treatment of young people      Community College Faculty J. Levin,S. Kater,Richard L. Wagoner,2006-01-31 John S Levin Susan T Kater and Richard L Wagoner collectively argue that as community colleges organize themselves to respond to economic needs and employer demands and as they rely more heavily upon workplace efficiencies such as part time labor they turn themselves into businesses or corporations and threaten their social and educational mission      Surfer Girls in the New World Order Krista Comer,2010-09-28 Explores surfing as a local and global subculture looking at how the culture of surfing has affected and been affected by girls from baby boomers to members of Generation Y      Higher Education: Handbook of Theory and Research John C. Smart,2007-05-16 Published annually since 1985 the Handbook series provides a compendium of thorough and integrative literature reviews on a diverse array of topics of interest to the higher education scholarly and policy communities Each chapter provides a comprehensive review of research findings on a selected topic critiques the research literature in terms of its conceptual and methodological rigor and sets forth an agenda for future research intended to advance knowledge on the chosen topic The Handbook focuses on twelve general areas that encompass the salient dimensions of scholarly and policy inquiries undertaken in the international higher education community The series is fortunate to have attracted annual contributions from distinguished scholars throughout the world      Child and Youth

Agency in Science Fiction Ingrid E. Castro, Jessica Clark, 2019-10-15 Child and Youth Agency in Science Fiction Travel Technology Time intersects considerations about children's and youth's agency with the popular culture genre of science fiction. As scholars in childhood studies and beyond seek to expand understandings of agency in children's lives, this collection places science fiction at the heart of this endeavor. Retellings of the past, narratives of the present, and new landscapes of the future, each explored in science fiction, allow for creative reimaginations of the capabilities, movements, and agency of youth. Core themes of generation, embodiment, family, identity, belonging, gender, and friendship traverse across the chapters and inform the contributors' readings of various film, literature, television, and virtual media sources. Here, children and youth are heterogeneous, and agency as a central analytical concept is interrogated through interdisciplinary, intersectional, intergenerational, and posthuman analyses. The contributors argue that there is vast power in science fiction representations of children's agency to challenge accepted notions of neoliberal agency, enhance understandings of agency in childhood studies, and further contextualize agency in the lives, voices, and cultures of youth. Different Wavelengths Jo Reger, 2014-01-27 The original essays in this collection ground the shifting terrain of feminism in the 21st century. The contributors define and examine the complexity of the Third Wave by answering questions like: how appropriate is a third wave label for contemporary feminism? Are the agendas of contemporary feminism and the second wave really all that different? Does the wave metaphor accurately describe the difference between contemporary feminists and their predecessors? How do women of color fit into this notion of contemporary feminism, and what are the future directions of the feminist movement?

Dress Rehearsals for Gun Violence Kjersti VanSlyke-Briggs, Elizabeth A. Bloom, 2021-07-01 From voices in the field, Dress Rehearsals for Gun Violence: Confronting Trauma and Anxiety in America's Schools considers how damaging fear and anxiety are for those who are in our schools every day in the United States and living with both the ever-present threat of a school shooting and the continuous preparations for one. This book examines those impacted directly, including not just students and teachers but preservice teachers considering teaching as a profession, college professors, support staff, and librarians. This follow-up book to A Relentless Threat: Scholars Respond to Teens on Weaponized School Violence goes in depth into the human cost of violence by exploring the fear of potential violence in our schools and what may be done to lessen that trauma and anxiety. This book includes discussion on the very real impact of false alarms, the trauma and anxiety experienced by teachers, the risks and benefits of armed shooter training, the unique challenges of non-classroom spaces, using young adult literature as a tool for processing emotions with students, and the importance of teaching critical reading skills for evaluating how school shootings are portrayed in the media.
