Growing Koa A Hawaiian Legacy Tree:

Growing Koa Kim M. Wilkinson, Craig R. Elevitch, 2003 The Guitar Chris Gibson, Andrew Warren, 2021-05-05 Guitars inspire cult like devotion an aficionado can tell you precisely when and where their favorite instrument was made the wood it is made from and that wood s unique effect on the instrument s sound In The Guitar Chris Gibson and Andrew Warren follow that fascination around the globe as they trace guitars all the way back to the tree The authors take us to guitar factories port cities log booms remote sawmills Indigenous lands and distant rainforests on a quest for behind the scenes stories and insights into how guitars are made where the much cherished guitar timbers ultimately come from and the people and skills that craft those timbers along the way Gibson and Warren interview hundreds of people to give us a first hand account of the ins and outs of production methods timber milling and forest custodianship in diverse corners of the world including the Pacific Northwest Madagascar Spain Brazil Germany Japan China Hawaii and Australia They unlock surprising insights into longer arcs of world history on the human exploitation of nature colonialism industrial capitalism cultural tensions and seismic upheavals But the authors also strike a hopeful note offering a parable of wider resonance of the incredible but underappreciated skill and care that goes into growing forests and felling trees milling timber and making enchanting musical instruments set against the human tendency to reform our use and abuse of natural resources only when it may be too late The Guitar promises to resonate with anyone who has ever fallen in love with a guitar Traditional Trees of Pacific Islands Craig R. Elevitch, 2006 This book is for the person who lives in the tropics or subtropics and is interested in native plants who wants to know about plants that are useful who loves to watch plants grow and who is willing to work with them Such a person might ask questions like Where will they grow How do I grow them Are they good to eat How are they used What are their names These questions and more are answered here Pr face Koa (Acacia Koa) Ecology and Silviculture Patrick J. Baker, 2009 Koa Acacia koa is a tree species endemic to Hawaii that is of immense ecological and economic importance This species has been mined from local forests for its wood for more than 100 years and extensive areas of koa dominated forests have been converted to grazing lands Today in recognition of the great importance and value of koa and the forests in which it is found there is substantial interest in restoration and management of koa forests This report brings together knowledge on the biogeography physiology ecology and silviculture of koa in an effort to assist landowners and resource stewards in making sound decisions about restoring and managing koa forests Growing Native Hawaiian Plants Heidi Leianuenue Bornhorst, 2005-04 Detailed instructions for growing native Hawaiian plants from cuttings or seeds air layering grafting watering xeriscaping transplanting etc and basic landscape maintenance Also explains the plants importance in Hawaiian culture Agroforestry Jagdish Chander Dagar, Vindhya Prasad Tewari, 2018-04-06 Agroforestry AF is a dynamic ecologically based natural resources management system that by integrating trees on farms ranches and in other landscapes diversifies and increases production and promotes social economic and environmental benefits for land users Further it is receiving increasing attention as a sustainable land management option worldwide because of its ecological economic and social attributes Advances have been achieved by building on past research accomplishments and expanding AF s stakeholder base which now includes private public partnerships communities ecologists farmers indigenous peoples and policymakers in both temperate and tropical countries AF has now been recognized as a valuable problem solving approach to ensuring food security and rebuilding resilient rural environments Recent studies have shown that more than 1 billion hectares of agricultural land have more than 10% tree cover Of this area 160 million hectares have more than 50% tree cover Agricultural ecosystems can be further improved through AF to achieve environmental restoration greater farm productivity and key ecological services including climate change mitigation and adaptation for improved rural livelihood In fact it is largely considered synonymous with climate smart agriculture and a remedy for many modern environmental challenges Consequently AF s knowledge base is being expanded at a rapid rate as illustrated by the increasing number and quality of scientific publications on various forms and different aspects of AF This book offers state of the art information on the fundamental concepts and history of AF and its evolution as a science presenting a wealth of advanced research results and evaluations relating to different aspects of AF Accordingly it will be useful for a broad readership including students foresters farmers local communities indigenous peoples civil society institutions media policymakers and the general public

Restoring Paradise Robert J. Cabin, 2013-05-31 Three quarters of the U S s bird and plant extinctions have occurred in Hawai i and one third of the country s threatened and endangered birds and plants reside within the state Yet despite these alarming statistics all is not lost There are still 12 000 extant species unique to the archipelago and new species are discovered every year In Restoring Paradise Rethinking and Rebuilding Nature in Hawai i Robert Cabin shows why current attempts to preserve Hawai i s native fauna and flora require embracing the emerging paradigm of ecological restoration the science and art of assisting the recovery of degraded species and ecosystems and creating more meaningful and sustainable relationships between people and nature Cabin s extensive experience as a research ecologist and applied practitioner enables him to provide a rare behind the scenes look at successful and inspiring restoration programs In Part 1 he recounts Hakalau Forest National Wildlife Refuge s efforts to restore thousands of acres of degraded pasture on the island of Hawai i back to the native rain forests that once dominated the area and sheltered native birds now on the brink of extinction Along the way he presents an overview of Hawaiian natural and cultural history biogeography and evolutionary biology Following chapters look at restoration work underway by the U S Park Service to reestablish native species within the vast Hawai i Volcanoes National Park by a charismatic scientist and dedicated volunteers to restore the native forests of Auwahi on the southern slopes of Haleakal and by the Limahuli branch of Kauai s National Tropical Botanical Garden to revive a thousand year old taro plantation To investigate the compelling and often conflicting philosophies and strategies of those involved in restoration Cabin opens Part 3 with interview excerpts from a cross section of Hawai i s environmental community He concludes with a provocative and insightful discussion of the contentious evolving relationship between humans and nature and the power and limitations of science within and beyond Hawai i
