Ecology And Management Of Grazing Systems:

The Ecology and Management of Grazing Systems John Hodgson, Andrew W. Illius, 1996 The understanding and management of land resources used by grazing animals are of major importance to ecologists and agricultural and environmental scientists This book fills a major gap in the market by synthesising a range of perspectives on grazing systems drawn from plant science animal science and ecology It outlines the principles of herbage growth and competition of animal nutrition and grazing behavior and of the interactions of plant and animal factors that are central to an understanding of grazing systems Chapters on the management of grazing systems cover both intensive and extensive systems including rangelands from all major agroecological zones of the world The book is written by leading authorities from the USA UK Australia New Zealand South Africa Israel and France It represents a major contribution to the literature for advanced students and research workers concerned with plant science especially grasslands animal science especially ruminants and natural and agricultural ecosystems Rangeland Ecology And Management Harold Heady, R. Dennis Child, 1999-11-11 Over the last two decades the science of range management like many other resource disciplines has embraced and integrated environmental concerns in the field the laboratory and policy Rangeland Proceedings-Symposium on Ecology and Management of Riparian Shrub Communities, 1992 Proceedings: Symposium on Ecology and Management of Riparian Shrub Communities, Sun Valley, ID Anne F. Bradley, L. Jack Lyon, Warren P. Clary, 1992 Ecology and Management of Neotropical Migratory Birds Deborah M. Finch, Thomas E. Martin, 1995 The apparent decline in numbers among many species of migratory songbirds is a timely subject in conservation biology particularly for ornithologists ecologists and wildlife managers This book presents a full discussion of the problem Ecological Management of Agricultural Weeds Matt Liebman, Charles L. Mohler, Charles P. Staver, 2001-07-19 Concerns over environmental and human health impacts of conventional weed management practices herbicide resistance in weeds and rising costs of crop production and protection have led agricultural producers and scientists in many countries to seek strategies that take greater advantage of ecological processes and thereby allow a reduction in herbicide use This book provides principles and practices for ecologically based weed management in a wide range of temperate and tropical farming systems After examining weed life histories and processes determining the assembly of weed communities the authors describe how tillage and cultivation practices manipulations of soil conditions competitive cultivars crop diversification grazing livestock arthropod and microbial biocontrol agents and other factors can be used to reduce weed germination growth competitive ability reproduction and dispersal Special attention is given to the evolutionary challenges that weeds pose and the roles that farmers can play in the development of new weed management strategies Rangeland Ecology & Management, 2005 Beef Cattle Production and Trade Lewis Kahn, David Cottle, 2014-04-15 Beef Cattle Production and Trade covers all aspects of the beef industry from paddock to plate It is an international text with an emphasis on Australian beef production written by experts in the field The book begins with an overview of the historical evolution of world beef consumption and introductory chapters on carcass and meat quality market preparation and world beef production North America Brazil China South East Asia and Japan are discussed in separate chapters followed by Australian beef production including feed lotting and live export The remaining chapters summarise R D emphasising the Australian experience and look at different production systems and aspects of animal husbandry such as health reproduction grazing feeding and finishing genetics and breeding production efficiency environmental management and business management The final chapter examines various case studies in northern and southern Australia covering feed demand and supply supplements pasture management heifer and weaner management and management of internal and external parasites

Forest Wildlife Ecology and Habitat Management David R. Patton, 2011-06-27 Across the continental United States one can identify 20 distinct forest cover types Most of these are to be found on federal lands managed by the U S Forest Service and Bureau of Land Management Those responsible for the management of trees that form the 20 different cover types and the diversity of forest wildlife that reside in them must have a solid grounding in concepts of forest management especially silviculture as well as concepts of wildlife management in order to integrate both as part of any effective natural resource management plan Forest Wildlife Ecology and Habitat Management provides both foresters and wildlife biologists responsible for managing forest resources with an integrated understanding of the relationship between forests and wildlife Based on David Patton s 50 years of experience as a forester and wildlife biologist the book shows readers how to look at forests as ecological systems and wildlife as part of the energy flow and nutrient cycling process within those systems He offers readers a fundamental understanding of the natural processes that occur in a forest taking into consideration vegetation water and the natural effects of climate and time He then provides a biological perspective on wildlife discussing reproduction behavior feeding habits and mobility He also discusses the various influences on forests and wildlife by both natural and human caused events Covering those forest types included in the U S National Atlas and associating over 1 100 wildlife species with 20 major forest types in 48 states Professor Patton provides recommendations for ways to restore and maintain wildlife habitat by direct and indirect coordination Towards this end the author Evaluates various approaches to integrate forestry and wildlife management Offers a number of practical management strategies emphasizing a progressive holistic approach Presents the FAWN Forest Attributes and Wildlife Needs data model A CD ROM is included that provides readers with easy to use software that will help them consider more than 63 000 potential associations among forest components and wildlife within the FAWN model

Perspectives in Grassland Ecology N.R. French, 2012-12-06 This volume is a result of the summary and synthesis of data collected in the Grassland Biome Program which is part of the American contribution to the International Biological Program IBP The purpose of this volume is to present a summary of quantitative ecological investigations of North American grass lands and to present a set of broad comparisons of their characteristics and functions as well as the results of some models and experiments that lead to practical considerations of the management of grasslands Synthesis is a continuing activity in science Early in the Grassland Biome Program there was a synthesis of literature data on grasslands edited by R L Dix and R G Beidleman 1969 Results of the first year of field data collection under this program were synthesized in a volume edited by N R French 1971 Development of the large scale model constructed to depict the processes and the dynamics of state variables in grassland ecosystems was presented by Innis 1978 Soon to appear will be two volumes integrating studies of American grasslands with IBP studies in other grasslands of the world Coupland in press and the application of systems analysis to understanding grassland function and utilization Breymeyer and Van Dyne in press The present volume presents current results and comparisons of field investigations and experimental studies that were conducted under this program

Contemporary Ecology Research in China Wenhua Li, 2015-10-26 The Chinese government is increasingly focusing on ecological construction and has subscribed to a national Ecological Civilization Construction Ecological research and protection practice develop so fast and achieve a lot at the national agenda This book is a synthesis of five most exciting and dominant themes in contemporary ecological research in China biodiversity ecosystem management degraded ecosystem restoration global change and sustainable development This book spans all the Earth's major ecosystems such as forests oceans grasslands wetlands lakes rivers farmland and cities This book provides a platform for scientific research across a variety of disciplines It will be invaluable to experts policymakers and local officers and will also be a highly useful resource for undergraduate and postgraduate students This book will allow researchers students and policymakers outside China to learn about the significant achievements and applications of ecological research within China

Rangeland Systems David D. Briske, 2017-04-12 This book is open access under a CC BY NC 2.5 license This book provides an unprecedented synthesis of the current status of scientific and management knowledge regarding global rangelands and the major challenges that confront them It has been organized around three major themes The first summarizes the conceptual advances that have occurred in the rangeland profession The second addresses the implications of these conceptual advances to management and policy The third assesses several major challenges confronting global rangelands in the 21st century This book will compliment applied range management textbooks by describing the conceptual foundation on which the rangeland profession is based It has been written to be accessible to a broad audience including ecosystem managers educators students and policy makers The content is founded on the collective experience knowledge and commitment of 80 authors who have worked in rangelands throughout the world Their collective contributions indicate that a more comprehensive framework is necessary to address the complex challenges confronting global rangelands Rangelands represent adaptive social ecological systems in which societal values organizations and capacities are of equal importance to and interact with those of ecological processes A more comprehensive framework for rangeland systems may enable management agencies and educational research and policy making organizations to more effectively assess complex problems and develop appropriate solutions
