Ecology Of War Peace Counting Costs Of Conflict:

Ecology of War & Peace Tom H. Hastings, 2000 How do mobilization for war and the actual war effort affect the environment How do ecological conditions encourage war What are possible non violent solutions to the ecological conflict dynamic Ecology of War Peace attempts to answer these questions in readable prose with an unapologetic bias toward non violence Environmental Change and Security Project Report, 1999 Violence, Nonviolence, and Moral Worth

Sanjay Lal, 2024-09-11 Given the ubiquity of violence in our world the ever present call to renounce violence has the understandable tendency to ring hollow to many of us There is no shortage of evidence showing that we really don't oppose violence as much as we claim to By conceptually analyzing the terms violence and nonviolence as well as by offering palpable readings of Gandhi's thought and discussing how we can better identify with others Violence Nonviolence and Moral Worth offers insight into how we can begin reducing the gap between our professed reverence for nonviolence and our everyday practices Sanjay Lal argues that neither our inability to perfectly uphold nonviolent practice nor the reality that moral worth is often exhibited through acts of violence should be an obstacle to affirming the value of a more comprehensive ethic of nonviolence Peace theorists activists and anyone interested in a less violence filled existence will find much to take away from this work Militarized Landscapes Chris Pearson, Peter Coates, Tim Cole, 2010-08-05 Preparation for warfare materially reshapes rural landscapes and environments This is a comparative history and geography of militarized landscapes

Scarred Landscapes C. Pearson, 2008-10-31 Based on detailed archival research and site visits Scarred Landscapes is the first environmental history of Vichy France From mountains and marshlands to foresters and resisters it examines the intricate and often surprising connections between war history and the natural environment during these turbulent years

Security and Environment in the Mediterranean Hans Günter Brauch, 2003 In this volume security specialists peace researchers environmental scholars demographers as well as climate desertification water food and urbanisation specialists from the Middle East and North Africa Europe and North America review security and conflict prevention in the Mediterranean They also analyse NATO's Mediterranean security dialogue and offer conceptualisations on security and perceptions of security challenges as seen in North and South The latter half of the book analyses environmental security and conflicts in the Mediterranean and environmental consequences of World War II the Gulf War the Balkan wars and the Middle East conflict It also examines factors of global environmental change population growth climate change desertification water scarcity food and urbanisation issues as well as natural disasters Furthermore it draws conceptual conclusions for a fourth phase of research on human and environmental security and peace as well as policy conclusions for cooperation and partnership in the Mediterranean in the 21st century Mobilizing nature Chris Pearson, 2017-10-03 Mobilizing nature traces the environmental history of war and militarisation in France from the creation of Châlons Camp in 1857 to military environmentalist policies in the twentieth century It offers a fresh perspective on the well known histories of the Franco Prussian War Western Front 1914 18 Second World War Cold War and the anti base campaign at Larzac whilst uncovering the largely hidden history of the numerous military bases and other installations that pepper the French countryside Mobilising nature argues that the history of war and militarisation can only be fully understood if human and environmental histories are considered in tandem Preparing for and conducting wars were only made possible through the active manipulation and mobilisation of topographies climatic conditions vegetation and animals But the military has not monopolised the mobilisation of nature Protesters against militarisation have consistently drawn on images of peaceful and productive civilian environments as the preferable alternative to destructive tanks and bombs Written in an accessible style Mobilizing nature will appeal to readers interested in modern France environmental history military geographies and histories anti military protests and environmentalism

Environmental Security and Gender Nicole Detraz, 2014-08-21 Over the past 20 years scholars policymakers and the media have increasingly recognized the links between both traditional and non traditional security issues and the changing condition of the global environment Concepts such as environmental security and resource conflict have been used to hint at these significant linkages While there has been a good deal of scholarly work conducted that seeks to identify the ways that actors link these concepts there has been little examination of the intersection between approaches to environmental security and gender This book explores this intersection to provide an insight into the gendered nature of both global environmental politics and security studies It examines how the issues of security and the environment are linked to theory and practice and the extent to which gender informs these discussions By adopting a feminist environmental security discourse this book provides crucial redefinitions of key concepts and offers new insights into the ways we understand security environment connections Case studies evaluate if and how environment and security discourses are being used to understand a range of environmental issues and how a feminist environmental security discourse contributes to our understanding of security environment connections This multidisciplinary volume draws on literature from the environmental sciences security studies and sociology to highlight the complex human insecurities that often accompany environmental change As conceptualizations of security continue to shift and broaden to include environmental issues and concerns it is imperative that gender informs the debate Critical Environmental Politics Carl Death,2013-12-04 The aim of this book is to review central concepts in the study of environmental politics and to open up new questions problems and research agendas in the field The volume does so by drawing on a wide range of approaches from critical theory to poststructuralism and spanning disciplines including international relations geography sociology history philosophy anthropology and political science The 28 chapters cover a range of global and local studies illustrations and cases These range from the Cochabamba conference in Bolivia to climate camps in the UK UN summits in Rio de Janeiro and Johannesburg to climate migrants from Pacific islands forests in Indonesia to Dutch energy governance reform indigenous communities in Namibia to oil extraction in the Niger Delta survivalist militias in the USA to Maasai tribesmen in Kenya Rather than following a regional or issue based e g water forests pollution etc structure the volume is organised in terms of key concepts in the field including those which have been central to the social sciences for a long time such as citizenship commodification consumption feminism justice movements science security the state summits and technology those which have been at the heart of environmental politics for many years including biodiversity climate change conservation eco centrism limits localism resources sacrifice and sustainability and many which have been introduced to these literatures and debates more recently biopolitics governance governmentality hybridity posthumanism risk and vulnerability Features and benefits of the book Explains the most important concepts and theories in environmental politics Reviews the core ideas behind crucial debates in environmental politics Highlights the key thinkers both classic and contemporary for studying environmental politics Provides original perspectives on the critical potential of the concepts for future research agendas as well as for the practice of environmental politics Each chapter is written by leading international authors in their field This exciting new volume will be essential textbook reading for all students of environmental politics as well as provocatively presenting the field in a different light for more established researchers The Lessons of Nonviolence Tom H. Nonviolent Response to Terrorism Tom H. Hastings, 2004-07-15 Terrorism which by definition targets civilians is unacceptable but a violent response to violence usually causes more violence This book outlines some of the best thinking about nonviolent methods of resisting terrorism in the growing fields of international aid and nonviolent interposition The first section covers immediate nonviolent response to terrorism international negotiations mediations and adjudication UN and citizen sanctions cross cultural communication citizen initiatives international treaties and the World Court the International Criminal Court and nonviolent resistance through raising consciousness to mobilization and resisting state sponsored terror The second section on long term non violent response to terrorism discusses halting arms trade and militarism stopping arms flow to terrorists defunding the military building sustainable just economies aid to the poor reducing privileged overconsumption peace and conflict education understanding and using the media refugee repatriation and helping indigenous liberation struggles Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here

Power Tom H. Hastings, 2005-12-12 In Power Tom Hastings unpacks the methods and considers causes and correlatives to violence and nonviolence Hastings presents an overview of nonviolent power potential examining it on personal community and transnational levels He provides evidence of theories and historical records of nonviolent power through personal stories and the annals of human kind Nonviolent alternatives are proposed and considered

Nonviolence Senthil Ram, Ralph Summy, 2008 The so called war on terror has gone badly for the West playing directly into the strategy of al Qa ida and the rest of the terrorist network Why did this happen Were there other approaches that might have been implemented with better prospects of success This edited collection of perspectives on the non violent counter to terrorism opens the topic to serious consideration The development of a non violent paradigm brings into sharp focus the deficiencies of present thinking and paves the way for comprehending how non violence might overcome those deficiencies and introduce viable alternatives Since there is a general ignorance about the history theory and operational dynamics of non violence these aspects are featured throughout the book and related to the special case of terrorism To understand empathetically the background and mind set of the opponent without condoning his actions to study his culture to avoid the strategic trap he has set to examine the different gender reactions of a Muslim Society to differentiate between non violent Islam and Islamic Terrorism to jettison the misinformed baggage we carry about violence to appreciate the positive role education and aesthetics can play and to investigate ways in which a non violent counter to terrorism might be staged including a Gandhian response These are just some of the tasks that the contributors have collectively pursued Their ideas excitingly open up a whole new set of possibilities for a more peaceful world
