Anil Hira, 2013-11-01 While global competitiveness is increasingly invoked as necessary for economic success stories there are few answers available about how it can be achieved or maintained The idea of stimulating industries to spur on economies is often proposed but industrial policy can be seen as a boondoggle of government spending and theorists of globalization are doubtful that such efforts can succeed in a world of fragmented supply chains What Makes Clusters Competitive tests fundamental theoretical hypotheses about what makes industries competitive in a globalized world by using the wine industries of several countries as case studies Extremadura Spain Tuscany Italy South Australia Chile and British Columbia Canada Taking into account historical and location specific characteristics and drawing out policy lessons for other regions that would like to promote their industries this volume demonstrates the value of applying cluster theory to understand market forces while also describing the forces underlying the development of the wine industry in a range of different settings An excellent resource for those interested in what makes industries succeed or struggle What Makes Clusters Competitive offers guidance for policymakers and the private sector on how to promote local industries Contributors include David Aylward Alexis Bwenge Sara Daniele F J Mesas Daz Christian Felzenstein Husam Gabreldar F Pulido Garcia Sarah Giest Elisa Giuliani Andy Hira Mike Howlett A F Pulido Moreno and Oriana Perrone Regulatory Policy and Governance Supporting Economic Growth and Serving the Public Interest OECD, 2011-10-25 This report encourages governments to think big about the relevance of regulatory policy and assesses the recent efforts of OECD countries to develop and deepen regulatory policy and governance The Public, 1914 The Structure and Operation of Modern Economies Alessandro Romagnoli, 2023-11-17 This book is about the economy rather than economics It explores the structures inner workings and problems of modern economies showing how the organisations and networks that shape the structure of the economy are arranged to provide society with goods and services At the centre of the analysis there is the economic system characterised by organisational components carrying out economic functions production consumption distribution and establishment and control of the economic activities as well as provision of public goods and services and by a co evolving dynamic with the state The economic system is thus a machine that modern states have organised through their laws and international agreements The book incorporates a historical approach which reveals the varieties structure and evolution of capitalism as the defining economic system of the modern age Ultimately the book demonstrates that the economic sphere and the political sphere are the two powers ruling people's lives the economy is the result of their interactions This book will be of great interest to readers in political economy economics sociology and political science
