Grounds For Comparison:

Grounds for Comparison Harry Levin, 2013-10-01 Grounds of Comparison Pheng Cheah, Jonathan Culler, 2013-08-21
Benedict Anderson professor at Cornell and specialist in Southeast Asian studies is best known for his book Imagined Communities: Reflections on the Origin and Spread of Nationalism 1991. It is no understatement to say that this is one of the most influential books of the last twenty years. Widely read both by social scientists and humanists, it has become an unavoidable document. For people in the humanities, Anderson is particularly interesting because he explores the rise of nationalism in connection with the rise of the novel. Grounds for Comparison Harry Levin, 1972 How People Compare Mathijs Pelkmans, Harry Walker, 2022-12-26
This book focuses on comparison in anthropology, turning an ethnographic lens onto the diversity of comparative practice. It seeks to understand how, why, and with what consequences diversely situated groups of people, many of whom operate on radically different premises, to professional anthropologists make comparisons: above all, between themselves and real or imagined others. What motivates people to compare? What techniques or logics do they employ, and what are the most likely outcomes, both intended and unintended? How do comparative practices reflect, reinforce, or refuse uneven relations of power? And finally, what can a rejuvenated comparative anthropology learn from the anthropology of comparison? The volume develops a dialogue between scholars with long-term ethnographic engagement in a variety of contexts around the world and is particularly valuable reading for those interested in anthropological methodology and theory. A Comparison of the Political and Civil Rights of Men and Women in the United States Inter-American Commission of Women, 1936 A Selection of Cases on Evidence at the Common Law
James Bradley Thayer, 1925 Grounds of Comparison Pheng Cheah, Jonathan D. Culler, 2003. Publisher Description
The Routledge Handbook of Comparative Global Urban Studies Patrick Le Galès, Jennifer Robinson, 2023-09-18
The Routledge Handbook of Comparative Global Urban Studies is a timely intervention into the field of global urban studies, coming as comparison is being more widely used as a method for global urban studies and as a number of methodological experiments and comparative research projects are being brought to fruition. It consolidates and takes forward an emerging field within urban studies and makes a positive and constructive intervention into a lively arena of current debate in urban theory. Comparative urbanism injects a welcome sense of methodological rigor and a commitment to careful evaluation of claims across different contexts, which will enhance current debates in the field. Drawing together more than 50 international scholars and practitioners, this book offers an overview of key ideas and practices in the field and extends current thinking and practice. The book is primarily intended for scholars and graduate students for whom it will provide an invaluable and up-to-date guide to current thinking across the range of disciplines which converge in the study of urbanism, including geography, sociology, political studies, planning, and urban studies.
