Developing Countries Shahin Yaqub,2000 Income Mobility in the Developing World Himanshu,Peter Lanjouw,2020

This paper examines income mobility in developing countries We start by synthesizing findings from the available evidence on relative mobility and poverty dynamics We then describe evidence on economic mobility obtained via synthetic panels constructed from cross section data We echo earlier literature in pointing to substantial movement across income classes by households over time poverty is not inevitably a chronic condition However less clear are the factors driving the observed churning In an attempt to make headway we consider the story of economic mobility in one village in northern India over seven decades We describe patterns of poverty dynamics and economic mobility in the village and we highlight some of the processes that have been important in driving these patterns While this in depth case study does not permit inferences to broader populations it may provide a reference point against which findings from studies elsewhere can be compared Analyzing Multidimensional Well-Being Satya R. Chakravarty,2017-11-01 An indispensable reference for all researchers interested in the measurement of social welfare Fran ois Bourguignon Emeritus Professor at Paris School of Economics Former Chief Economist of the World Bank a detailed insightful and pedagogical presentation of the theoretical grounds of multidimensional well being inequality and poverty measurement Any student researcher and practitioner interested in the multidimensional approach should begin their journey into such a fascinating theme with this wonderful book Fran ois Maniquet Professor Catholic University of Louvain Belgium A Review of the Multidimensional Approaches to the Measurement of Welfare Inequality and Poverty Analyzing Multidimensional Well Being A Quantitative Approach offers a comprehensive approach to the measurement of well being that includes characteristics such as income health literacy and housing The author presents a systematic comparison of the alternative approaches to the measurement of multidimensional welfare inequality poverty and vulnerability The text contains real life applications of some multidimensional aggregations most of which have been designed by international organizations such as the United Nations Development Program and the Organization for Economic Co operation and Development that help to judge the performance of a country in the various dimensions of well being The text offers an evaluation of how well a society is doing with respect to achievements of all the individuals in the dimensions considered and clearly investigates how achievements in the dimensions can be evaluated from different perspectives The author includes a detailed scrutiny of alternative techniques for setting weights to individual dimensional metrics and offers an extensive analysis into both the descriptive and welfare theoretical approaches to the concerned multi attribute measurement and related issues This important resource Contains a synthesis of multidimensional welfare inequality poverty and vulnerability analysis Examines aggregations of achievement levels in the concerned dimensions of well being from various standpoints Shows how to measure poverty using panel data instead of restricting attention to a single period and when we have imprecise information on dimensional achievements Argues that multidimensional analysis is intrinsically different from marginal distributions based analysis Written for students teachers researchers and scholars Analyzing Multidimensional Well Being A Quantitative Approach puts the focus on various approaches to the measurement of the many aspects of well being and quality of life Satya R Chakravarty is a Professor of Economics at the Indian Statistical Institute Kolkata India He is an Editor of Social Choice and Welfare and a member of the Editorial Board of Journal of Economic Inequality

Development Economics Julie Schaffner, 2013-10-07 Development Economics Theory Empirical Research and Policy Analysis by Julie Schaffner teaches students to think about development in a way that is disciplined by economic theory informed by cutting edge empirical research and connected in a practical way to contemporary development efforts It lays out a framework for the study of developing economies that is built on microeconomic foundations and that highlights the importance in development studies of transaction and transportation costs risk information problems institutional rules and norms and insights from behavioral economics It then presents a systematic approach to policy analysis and applies the approach to policies from around the world in the areas of targeted transfers workfare agricultural markets infrastructure education agricultural technology microfinance and health

Equity and Development Gudrun Kochendörfer-Lucius, Boris Pleskovic, 2006-01-01 Inequality of opportunity both within and among nations sustains extreme deprivation results in wasted human potential and often weakens prospects for overall prosperity and economic growth concludes the 2006 World Development Report To correct this situation and reduce poverty more effectively Equity and Development recommends ensuring more equitable access by the poor to health care education jobs capital and secure land rights among others It also calls for greater equality of access to political freedoms and political power breaking down stereotyping and discrimination and improving access by the poor to justice systems and infrastructure To level the playing field among countries and thereby reduce global inequities that hurt the poor in developing countries the report calls for removal of trade barriers in rich countries flexibility to allow greater migration of lower skilled people from developing countries and increased and more effective development assistance

Handbook of Research on Economic and Social Well-Being Conchita D'Ambrosio, 2018-03-30 The past decade has been characterized by a burgeoning interest in new concepts of individual and social well being The impetus for this new research has stemmed from increased demand from policy makers and civil society for measures of progress that go beyond the traditional measures of GDP as well as improved datasets allowing individuals and households to be tracked over their life course The aim of this Handbook is to chart these developments and provide extensive surveys of many of the recent themes that have emerged in the research literature Some of the topics addressed include poverty relative deprivation and satisfaction economic insecurity social exclusion and inequality income and social polarization and social fractionalization and diversity Each topic is first analyzed from a theoretical perspective followed by detailed empirical discussion Land, Livelihood, the Economy and the Environment in Indonesia Anne Booth, Chris Manning, Thee Kian Wie, 2012 This volume of essays is intended to honour an exceptional indeed a unique scholar Joan Hardjono grew up in Sydney and graduated from Sydney University in the mid 1950s She majored in English and Geography and like most girls in those years who had managed to complete a tertiary degree she probably expected to embark on a career as a high school teacher in Australia But no doubt prompted by the spirit of adventure which she has kept throughout her long career she decided to go to Indonesia as a volunteer teacher The scheme which brought young Australian graduates to Indonesia at that time was pioneering it predated the US Peace Corps and several of the participants went on to distinguished academic careers On the boat from Australia to Indonesia she met a young Indonesian called Hardjono who after participating in the struggle against the Dutch in the late 1940s gained an engineering degree at the Institute of Technology in Bandung then as now Indonesia's leading tertiary institute for the study of engineering and technology Joan was posted to teach in Semarang the capital of the province of Central Java and family legend has it that Hardjono used a borrowed motor cycle to pay her frequent visits bringing with him Javanese delicacies as gifts Since the late 1980s Joan has been busy as a consultant to a number of bilateral and multilateral aid agencies She has retired as a university teacher but served for several years as an active member of the advisory board of a Bandung based research organization AKATIGA She has also served since its inception in early 2001 on both the Board of Trustees and the Advisory Board of the Jakarta based research group The SMERU Research Institute The editors are pleased that four chapters in this volume have been contributed by staff of these two institutions Joan continues to be an active member of the SMERU boards and in her advisory role she has always stressed that SMERU should focus on what it does best namely conducting solid research on the problems of poverty social protection and unemployment rather than engaging in policy advocacy She worked very hard editing the institute's first international publication Poverty and Social Protection in Indonesia which was published by the Institute of Southeast Asian Studies in Singapore in 2011 Joan has often regretted the fact that so few Indonesian social scientists publish internationally and has assisted a number of scholars over the years to turn their research findings into publishable papers in English language outlets Like many Indonesians in her age group Joan has at times been disappointed that the country's macroeconomic progress over the last four decades has not yet achieved the elusive goal of a just and prosperous society To friends she can be at times very critical of the performance of politicians and senior bureaucrats both during the Suharto era and subsequently But she would be the last to deny that some progress has been made She continues to visit Australia on a regular basis but Bandung remains her home and she remains steadfast in her love for and commitment to the people of Indonesia Food Security Basudeb Guha-Khasnobis, Shabd S. Acharya, Benjamin Davis, 2007-12-20 Result of a joint project meeting between UNU WIDER and the Indian Council of Social Science Research ICSSR with research contributions from the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations FAO Global food policy report 2025: Food policy: Lessons and priorities for a changing world Swinnen, Johan, Barrett, Christopher B., 2025-05-27 Over the past 50 years the world's food systems have evolved tremendously amid major economic environmental and social changes Throughout this period policy research has played a critical role in providing evidence and analysis to inform decision making that supports agricultural growth better livelihoods and improved food security nutrition and well being for all As a special edition marking the Institute's 50th anniversary the 2025 Global Food Policy Report examines the evolution and impact of food policy research and assesses how it can better equip policymakers to meet future challenges and opportunities The report's thematic and regional chapters written by leading IFPRI researchers and colleagues explore the broad range of issues and showcase research related to food systems from tenure and agriculture extension to social protection gender and nutrition to conflict political economy and agricultural innovation and more As we approach 2050 policy research and analysis will be essential to help end poverty and malnutrition by building sustainable healthy food systems Economic Growth in the 1990s World Bank, 2005 This report was prepared by a team led by Roberto Zaghera under the general direction of Gobind Nankani East Asia Integrates Kathie Krumm, Homi Kharas, 2004-01-01 Emerging East Asian economies have seen their share of world exports more than triple during the past quarter century and intraregional trade has driven this growth Broad measures of development in East Asia have improved at the same headlong pace Why push further integration now Two economic events of historic proportions provide the context strategic thinking of development in the region following the East Asian financial crisis of 1997-98 and the accession of China to the World Trade Organization Policymakers interested in a stable prosperous region are concerned by mildly rising inequality within countries and a widening gap between richer economies and the poorest economies Increasingly the development agenda in the region with its focus on growth jobs and social stability and the trade policy agenda with its focus on market access and competitiveness have become intertwined East Asian policymakers seek to develop a coherent set of economic policies that can deliver stability growth and regional integration Without attempting to be comprehensive East Asia Integrates offers fundamental strategies that promote cross border flows of trade along with domestic policies on logistics trade facilitation standards and institutions to maximize the impact of these flows on development and distribute the gains from trade widely As the authors demonstrate multilateral and regional trade initiatives must provide a compelling vision of how integration can deliver broadly shared growth and prosperity if they are to succeed In addition they must use the momentum offered by trade agreements to address the links between trade on the one hand and social stability poverty reduction and growth on the other Chronic Poverty A. Shepherd, J. Brunt, 2013-05-30 Based on a decade of research by the Chronic Poverty Research Centre this volume includes material on inter generational transmission the importance of assets and vulnerability and conflict and new thinking about the close relationship between social exclusion and adverse incorporation Reasserting the Rural Development Agenda

Arsenio Molina Balisacan, Nobuhiko Fuwa, 2007 Presents a reinvigorated agenda on agricultural and rural development in Asia both for research and policy discussions in the coming decades

Household Welfare Impacts of China's Accession to the World Trade Organization Martin Ravallion, 2003 Abstract Chen and Ravallion use China's national household surveys for rural and urban areas to measure and explain the welfare impacts of the changes in goods and factor prices attributed to WTO accession Price changes are estimated separately using a general equilibrium model to capture both direct and indirect effects of the initial tariff changes The welfare impacts are first order approximations based on a household model incorporating own production activities and are calibrated to the household level data imposing minimum aggregation The authors find negligible impacts on inequality and poverty in the aggregate However diverse impacts emerge across household types and regions associated with heterogeneity in consumption behavior and income sources with possible implications for compensatory policy responses This paper a product of the Poverty Team Development Research Group is part of a larger effort in the group to assess the household welfare impacts of economywide policy changes

Social Aspects of Asian Economic Growth Gordon Redding, Chris Rowley, 2018-10-16 There are in simple terms three principal kinds of capital that come necessarily into play when a society is evolving towards improving the lives livelihoods and qualities of life of its people The first form of capital is financial this normally includes physical forms of invested money in plant buildings and infrastructure The second form of capital is human seen simply as the level and range of skills and capabilities that are available for use in the society When people are literate numerate skilled experienced informed cooperative and inquisitive they and their societies can do much more The third form of capital is social Here cooperativeness shows its effects and the rules of how that works vary greatly between societies It is the second of these elements human capital that is the main focus of this book but it overlaps with social capital extensively in these accounts and can only be understood in terms of its connections into the wider societal system The varying patterns of its workings and influence in different Asian contexts are explained against the background of a theory of societal progress This book was originally published as a special issue of the Asia Pacific Business Review

Globalization, Heterogeneity, and Imperfect Information Dennis Petrus Johannes Botman, 2001

Research on Economic Inequality Sanghamitra Bandyopadhyay, Juan Gabriel Rodríguez, 2017-11-30 This volume presents ten chapters that discuss the economics of poverty inequality and welfare They address how we measure poverty inequality and welfare and how we use such measurements to devise policies to deliver social mobility They consider both theoretical and empirical topics with special reference to developing countries
