Economics in Urban Conservation Lichfield Nathaniel,1988      Urban Conservation and Urban Economic

Development Phyllis Myers (urban planning and conservation professional),1980      The Economics of Uniqueness Guido Licciardi,Rana Amirtahmasebi,2012-10-01 In a world where half of the population lives in cities and more than 90 percent of urban growth is occurring in the developing world cities struggle to modernize without completely losing their unique character which is embodied by their historic cores and cultural heritage assets As countries develop cultural heritage can provide a crucial element of continuity and stability the past can become a foundation for the future This book collects innovative research papers authored by leading scholars and practitioners in heritage economics and presents the most current knowledge on how heritage assets can serve as drivers of local economic development What this book tries to suggest is a workable approach to explicitly take into account the cultural dimensions of urban regeneration in agglomerations that have a history and possess a unique character going beyond an approach based solely on major cultural heritage assets or landmarks The knowledge disseminated through this book will help stakeholders involved in preparation implementation and supervision of development investments to better assess the values of cultural heritage assets and incorporate them in urban development policies      Handbook of Cultural Economics, Third Edition Ruth Towse,Trilce Navarrete Hernández,2020-03-28 Cultural economics has become well established as a subject of interest for students and teachers of courses ranging from economics to arts administration as well as for policy makers and practitioners in the creative industries Digitisation has had a tremendous impact on many areas of the creative economy and the third edition of this popular book fully reflects it      Urban Economics and Land Use in America: The Transformation of Cities in the Twentieth Century Alan Rabinowitz,2015-06-11 This is a book about the reality of place in America the events and influences that led to the America we recognize today It is a book about the growth of American cities and their suburbs during the twentieth century about institutions and metropolitan governance about real estate development and finance about housing and the lack of it about the emergence and perhaps the eventual debilitation of cities and suburbs alike Incorporating the thinking of visionary city planners and land use economists the author presents a lucid primer on the economics of land its development and usage and on how things actually get done in the real estate industry      Urban Land Economics Herbert Benjamin Dorau,Albert Greene Hinman,1928      Cultural Commons and Urban Dynamics Emanuela Macri,Valeria Morea,Michele Trimarchi,2020-10-13 Today cities are being intensively reshaped by unexpected dynamics The rise and growth of the digital economy have fundamentally changed the relationship between the urban fabric and its resident community overcoming the conventional hierarchy based on production priorities Moreover contemporary society discovers new labour conditions and ways of satisfying needs and desires by developing new synergies and links This book examines cultural and urban commons from a multidisciplinary perspective Economists architects urban planners sociologists designers political scientists and artists explore the impact and implications of cultural commons on urban change The contributions discuss both cases of successful urban participation and cases of strong social conflict while also addressing a host of institutional contradictions and dilemmas The first part of the book examines urban commons in response to institutional constraints from a theoretical point of view The second and third parts apply the theories to case studies and discuss various practices of sustainable planning and re appropriation in the urban context In closing the fourth part develops a new urban agenda as artists imagine it This book will appeal to scholars interested in the social economic and institutional implications of cultural and urban commons and provide useful insights and tools to help local governments and policymakers manage social cultural and economic change

Proceedings of the 4th Biennial of Architectural and Urban Restoration. Host of the Itinerant Congress Hidden Cultural Heritage: Under Water, Under Ground and Within Buildings ,2018-09-02 The Biennial of Architectural and Urban Restoration is composed by a series of cultural events like seminars shows art exhibitions projections of documentaries debates visits all open and also aimed to the public The purpose of these activities is to bring out the architectural and urban local heritage and raise public awareness to its protection creating an international forum of discussion between countries with similar problems but various economic and socio political situations

Economics and Land Use Planning Alan W. Evans,2008-04-15 The book s aim is to draw together the economics literature relating to planning and set it out systematically It analyses the economics of land use planning and the relationship between economics and planning and addresses questions like What are the limits of land use planning and the extent of its objectives Is the aim aesthetic Is it efficiency Is it to ensure equity Or sustainability And if all of these aims how should one be balanced against another

The Historic Urban Landscape Francesco Bandarin,Ron van Oers,2012-03-19 Much of the current debate on how we should preserve our cultural heritage revolves around urban sites historic monuments in urban settings historic districts or complete historic towns The growing complexity of urban heritage conservation makes reaching a consensus on how to manage urban heritage difficult Additionally the sharp increase in the world s population now living in urban areas combined with a lack of policies to facilitate a sustainable use of heritage assets means the pressure on historic sites is set to rise Unless new and innovative ways of managing these sites can be agreed on there is a real danger that historic cities as we know them today will not survive the first decades of the 21st century The Historic Urban Landscape managing heritage in an urban century offers a comprehensive overview of the intellectual developments in urban conservation The book examines its modern interpretations and critiques and the way in which the classical approach has been challenged by the evolution of the conceptual and operational context of urban management Analyses are provided of how World Heritage sites are managed with associated debates and decisions to inform the development of local urban conservation policies and practices The authors offer unique insights from UNESCO's World Heritage Centre and the book is richly illustrated with colour photographs Examples are drawn from urban heritage sites worldwide from Timbuktu to Liverpool to demonstrate key issues and best practice in urban conservation today The book offers an invaluable resource for architects planners surveyors and engineers worldwide working in heritage conservation as well as for local authority conservation officers and managers of heritage sites      Evaluation in Planning Nathaniel

Lichfield,Angela Barbanente,Dino Borri,Abdul Khakee,Anna Prat,2013-03-09 This book is the result of a three day workshop on Evaluation in theory and practice in spatial planning held in Ramsey Hall University College London in September 1996 Some 30 people from 8 different countries attended and 20 papers were presented The majority of them now form the basis for this book This occasion was the third on the topic the two preceding having taken place in Umea in June 1992 and in Bari in 1994 Following these three meetings we can now say that this small industrious international family really enjoy meeting up from time to time at each others places in the presence of older members and new children each one presenting his her own recent experiences It particularly enjoys exchanging views and arguing about the current state and the future of evaluation in spatial planning all families have their vices It is also pleasing to see these experiences and discussions resulting in a book for those who could not attend and for the broader clan in the field Not long time ago but ages in the accelerated academic time scale evaluation in planning established its own role and distinct features as an instrument for helping the decision making process Now this role and these features are exposed to major challenges First the evolution of planning theory has led to the conception of new planning paradigms based on theories of complexity and communicative rationality      Asian Revitalization Katie Cummer,2021-01-11

Adaptive reuse refers to reusing an old building for a purpose other than which it was originally built or designed This conservation approach has become increasingly popular around the world However there are few publications that focus on its application in Asia This book fills this gap by looking at both unique and shared aspects of adaptive reuse in three Asian urban centers Hong Kong Shanghai and Singapore Building on government policy documents and extensive field work this book contextualizes adaptive reuse in each city and reveals the impetus behind a wide range of projects from revitalization in Hong Kong commercial development in Shanghai to community building in Singapore The introductory chapter sets adaptive reuse within an international perspective noting salient differences and similarities between Asia and other parts of the world It also anchors the discussion within a regional perspective focusing on the similarities and differences between Hong Kong Shanghai and Singapore Each of the following four essays addresses a specific topic about adaptive reuse including its relationship to urban development and sustainability how it benefits heritage buildings and how it reveals best practices in heritage conservation in Asia The subsequent three essays one for each city supplemented with timelines set out a clear framework for understanding the city specific case studies that follow the essays Afterwards fifteen representative projects across the three cities are presented as in depth case studies The pairing of essays and case studies provides a detailed understanding of each city's approach to adaptive reuse in the twenty first century a time when the need for sustainable development solutions are at the forefront Intended for classroom use and professional readership this book will be of considerable value in Asia as well as elsewhere providing material for stimulating and worthwhile discussion Asian Revitalization is a highly practical and accessible volume on the long established conservation practice of adaptive reuse in East Asia Its focus on real life issues examples and challenges posed by revitalization programs in the region is extremely relevant to researchers and practitioners in architectural conservation urban design and urban studies Miles Glendinning University of Edinburgh Scotland This is a superb well documented and original book written by some of the best known and highly respected authors in the field of heritage conservation The carefully examined case studies illustrate a wide variety of solutions that highlight the work of some of the best minds of the next generations Alastair Kerr University of Victoria Canada This is a most interesting set of essays informative and thought provoking The best way to save any heritage building is by keeping it in beneficial use and how to achieve this in a sensitive manner is what these essays are about They should be vital reading for anyone considering an adaptive reuse project in Asia Michael Morrison Purcell UK With cultural heritage firmly ensconced in the global development agendas of the United Nations this well grounded volume draws upon the experience of Hong Kong SAR Shanghai and Singapore to demonstrate to scholars and practitioners alike how historic properties can be sustained through savvy adaptive reuse in the midst of tremendous urban redevelopment pressures Montira Horayangura Unakul UNESCO Bangkok Thailand

Tourism and Culture in the Age of Innovation Vicky Katsoni, Anastasia Stratigea, 2016-03-03 This book focuses on cultural tourism as it develops into the second decade of the new millennium It presents recent hospitality and tourism research findings from various sources including academic researchers and scholars industry professionals government and quasi government officials and other key industry practitioners It discusses the latest tourism industry trends and identifies gaps in the research from a pragmatic and applied perspective It includes specific chapters on innovation in tourism the virtual visitor cross cultural visions of digital collections heritage and museum management in the digital era cultural and digital tourism policy marketing and governance social media emerging technologies and e tourism and many other topics of contemporary significance in global hospitality and tourism The book is edited in collaboration with the International Association of Cultural and Digital Tourism IACuDiT and includes the proceedings of the Second International Conference on Cultural and Digital Tourism
