Political Violence in Egypt 1910-1925 Malak Badrawi, 2014-01-21 The murder of the Prime Minister Butrus Ghali in February 1910 was the first incident of its kind to take place in Egypt for over a century and it reflected the mood of Egypt's youth at the time It also set a precedent as some of the more extreme elements of the population henceforth came to regard assassination as the only way to rid the country of those who were regarded as traitors and as the most potent expression of political dissatisfaction and dissent This study is an account of the circumstances that led to the violence and an attempt to understand the mood and motives that provoked it Political Violence in Egypt, 1910-1924 Malak Badrawi, 2000 Focusing on the prolonged period of political violence in Egypt during 1910 1925 this text analyses the circumstances that led to the violence and examines the moods and motives that provoked it An Arabian Diary Sir Gilbert Clayton, 2023-11-10 This personal diary of six months of diplomacy and travel in Arabia represents an impressive document to the quiet ability and resourcefulness of one of Great Britain's leading officials in the Middle East in the 1920s The sudden expansion of the Arabian Sultanate of Najd under the leadership of Abd al Aziz ibn Saud after the First World War presented a clear danger to British interests in the Middle East and threatened the strategically important Arabian corridor to India To resolve this project the British government selected Sir Gilbert Clayton as their envoy to negotiate a settlement of differences and to determine the frontier between Saudi Arabia and the British Mandates of Trans Jordan and Iraq Sir Gilbert Falkingham Clayton 1875 1929 was a quiet able soldier administrator and diplomat who had come out to the Middle East during the reconquest of the Sudan and remained as a political officer in the Sudan service secretary to the Governor General of the Sudan Sir Reginald Wingate and finally the Sudan agent at Cairo At the outbreak of the First World War Clayton served as the director of Military Intelligence and forged that remarkable intelligence team which included among others Leonard Woolley George Lloyd and T E Lawrence Experience and resourceful Clayton was an obvious choice to travel to the tents of Ibn Saud where in the autumn of 1925 he negotiated the Bahra and Hadda Agreements fixing the frontiers of Saudi Arabia

with Trans Jordan and Iraq and cementing friendship between Britain and Ibn Sa'ud. These results represent a brilliant triumph of personal diplomacy which protected British interests and inaugurated the lifelong friendship between Sir Gilbert and Ibn Sa'ud. The story of these negotiations and Sir Gilbert's subsequent mission to the Imam of Yemen as the first official representative of the British government to visit San'a are told in this valuable historical diary. Egypt and the Sudan Gabriel R Warburg, 2018-10-24 This title makes an important contribution to our understanding of British rule in the Nile Valley with special relevance to the important role of the Sudan in Anglo Egyptian relations until 1956. It examines British policy in Egypt in some detail and compares the relative importance of the Middle East and North Africa in shaping Egypt's regional policy since the advent of Muhammad Ali Lion Rampant D.A. Low, 2014-09-11 First published in 1973. Part of the studies in Commonwealth Politics and History series, this volume is a collection of essays with the topics of Empire and authority, social engineering, traditional rulership, Christianity, the sequence in the demission of power and the political aftermath of the British Empire British Pro-consuls in Egypt, 1914-1929 Charles William Richard Long, 2005 Long tells the story of four proconsuls: McMahon, Wingate, Allenby and Lloyd, their principal opponent Sa'ad Zaghlul and the great events of the time: the rise of the Wafd party, the uprising of 1919, the murder of Sir Lee Stack and the Allenby ultimatum Monarchy and Modernity in Egypt James Whidden, 2013-09-27 The creation of the Egyptian monarchy in 1922 under King Fuad II opened contests and debates over fundamental cultural questions, particularly definitions of Egyptian modernity, rule and identity. Here James Whidden looks at the political, cultural and intellectual landscapes of Egypt between the wars, from the nationalist agitations for independence in 1919, the rise of the Wafd, first under Sa'ad Zaghlul and then Mustafa El Nahas Pasha, and the rise and fall of different political and power brokers in the period, such as Abd al Latif al Makkabati or Abd al Khaliq Tharwa. Whidden therefore focuses on the different interpretations of the nature of Egyptian politics, highlighting the ways in which patriotism and elitism, Islam and tradition, colonial manipulations and ideological politics combine. In particular, he examines how monarchists like Zaki Fahmy and Dia'eddine Saleh attempted to neutralise opponents through cultural works, patronage and political party contests. The period under examination was to a large extent defined by the revolution of 1919 and the constitutional and electoral processes that followed. The sectors of society involved in this were the effendiyya and the notables, such as Zaghlul. But these were soon dominated by the monarch, as the Wafd party allied with the king Bearing this in mind Whidden examines how these notables attempts to mobilise the people in revolutionary activity electoral contest and the formation of political party organization in this period Although a liberal constitution was written by an appointed constitutional commission in 1923 Whidden argues that the disagreements it occasioned suggest that politics in the interwar period was very much an attempt to redefine or rewrite that constitution to the differing assumptions of liberal nationalists and monarchists Monarchy and Modernity in Egypt is thus a vital resource for those interested in Middle East history as well as intellectual developments within the region Africana Tenri

Egypt James Whidden,2017-06-26 This book is a comprehensive portrait of the British colony in Egypt which also takes a fresh look at the examples of colonial cultures memorably enshrined in Edward W Said s classic Orientalism Arguing that Said s analysis offered only the dominant discourse in imperial and colonial narratives it uses private papers letters memoirs as well as the official texts histories and government reports to reveal both dominant and muted discourses While imperial sentiment certainly set the standards and sealed the image of a ruling caste culture the investigation of colonial sentiment reveals a more diverse colony in temperament and lifestyles often intimately rooted in the Egyptian setting The method involves providing biographical treatments of a wide range of colonials and the sometimes contradictory responses to specific colonial locations historical junctures and seminal events like invasion and war or grand imperial projects including the Alexandria municipality The Evolution of the Egyptian National Image Charles Wendell,1972-01-01
