Seminar, Council of Europe, 1995-01-01      The Making of Modern Management John F. Wilson, Andrew Thomson, 2006-08-24

Management has always been part of human organization but it is only in the last two centuries or so that it has been the central driver of economic activity as companies have moved from family firms to hugely complex multinational corporations with many layers of management The term management is commonly used in three ways as a process or activity as a structure in any organization and as a group or class of people carrying out certain roles in an organization This book is the first detailed account of the evolution of management in all three senses The focus is mainly on the UK but throughout the broader question of why corporate management structures developed so impressively in the USA Germany and Japan is borne in mind while arguably little progress was made in this regards in the UK Equally the authors consider why given that management is now so widely studied so little careful research has been undertaken into the evolution of the practice and the profession of management The book is divided into four sections Part One provides An Introduction to Management History Part Two Management and Organization explores the historical development through the 19th and 20th centuries Part Three Managers in Context looks at the social and cultural context of management and managers and Part Four considers three key functional areas labour marketing and accounting and finance This rich detailed and path breaking book will be essential reading for anyone wanting to understand the evolution of management as we now understand it whether academics students or managers themselves      Modern Management Based on Big Data II and Machine Learning and Intelligent Systems III A.J. It is data that guides the path of applications and Big Data technologies are enabling new paths which can deal with information in a reasonable time to arrive at an approximate solution rather than a more exact result in an unacceptably long time This can be particularly important when dealing with an urgent issue such as that of the COVID 19 pandemic This book presents the proceedings of two conferences MMBD 2021 and MLIS 2021 The MMBD conference deals with two main subjects those of Big Data and Modern Management The MLIS conference aims to provide a platform for knowledge exchange of the most recent scientific and technological advances in the field of machine learning and intelligent systems Both conferences were originally scheduled to be held from 8 11 November 2021 in Quanzhou China and Xiamen China respectively Both conferences were ultimately held fully online on the same dates hosted by Huaqiao University in Quanzhou and Xiamen respectively The book is in two parts and contains a total of 78 papers 54 from MMBD2021 and 24 from MLIS2021 selected after rigorous review from a total of some 300 submissions The reviewers bore in mind the breadth and depth of the research topics that fall within the scope of MMBD and MLIS and selected the 78 most promising and FAIA mainstream relevant contributions for inclusion in this two
