Elephant Memories 13 Years In The Life Of The Elephant Family:

Elephant Memories Cynthia Moss, 2000 Cynthia Moss has studied the elephants in Kenya's Amboseli National Park for over twenty seven years. Her long term research has revealed much of what we now know about these complex and intelligent animals. Here she chronicles the lives of the members of the T families led by matriarchs Teresia, Slit Ear, Torn Ear, Tania and Tuskless. With a new afterword catching up on the families and covering current conservation issues, Moss's story will continue to fascinate animal lovers. One is soon swept away by this Babar for adults. By the end one even begins to feel an aversion for people. One wants to curse human civilization and cry out: Now God stand up for the elephants. Christopher Lehmann Haupt, New York Times. Moss speaks to the general reader with charm as well as scientific authority. An elegantly written and ingeniously structured account. Raymond Sokolov, Wall Street Journal. Moss tells the story in a style so conversational that I felt like a privileged visitor riding beside her in her rickety Land Rover as she showed me around the park. Sarah Blaffer Hrdy, New York Times Book Review. A prose poem celebrating a species from which we could learn some moral as well as zoological lessons. Chicago Tribune.

The Sounds of Life Karen Bakker, 2024-03-12 When we think of animal sounds we tend to think about birds or other highly sonic animals. However scientists are learning that a much wider range of animals and even plants use sound and they are figuring this out with the help of AI and other digital technologies. This book tells the stories of scientists who are using these digital technologies to decode the hidden world of nonhuman sound. The author shows how digital technology so often associated with our alienation from nature is offering an opportunity to listen to plants and animals in powerful ways changing our understanding of nonhuman communication and reviving our connection to the natural world. This book is a story of discovery. Early chapters describe early 20th century discoveries about whale noise while subsequent chapters describe how digital technologies have revealed the surprising sonic worlds of elephants.

turtles corals and plants Through these stories we learn that many more plants and animals can make and sense sound and that these sounds are linked to complex communication and social behavior But as we learn this science is not merely about listening to nature in new ways it also creates new possibilities for both conservation and interspecies communication In the book s later chapters the author describes fascinating breakthroughs aided by robotics and AI that may enable people to communicate with other species She ends the book by exploring how conservationists are using bioacoustics to protect endangered species address the threat of noise pollution and create innovative responses to biodiversity loss and climate change Throughout the book the author describes the research of a diverse range of scientists with a particular emphasis on female and indigenous scientists And while she ultimately champions the potential of digital technology she is not naive to its limitations and is careful throughout to highlight the limits of technology Ultimately we see that bioacoustics aided by digital tech offers humanity a powerful window into the nonhuman world Literature for Science and Mathematics DIANE

Heavens on Earth Michael Shermer, 2018-01-09 A scientific exploration into humanity's obsession with the afterlife and quest for immortality from the bestselling author and skeptic Michael Shermer In his most ambitious work yet Shermer sets out to discover what drives humans' belief in life after death focusing on recent scientific attempts to achieve immortality along with utopian attempts to create heaven on earth For millennia religions have concocted numerous manifestations of heaven and the afterlife and though no one has ever returned from such a place to report what it is really like or that it even exists today science and technology are being used to try to make it happen in our lifetime From radical life extension to cryonic suspension to mind uploading Shermer considers how realistic these attempts are from a proper skeptical perspective Heavens on Earth concludes with an uplifting paean to purpose and progress and how we can live well in the here and now whether or not there is a hereafter American Scientist ,1942 Aging is a Group-Selected Adaptation Joshua Mitteldorf,2017-02-03 Although books exist on the evolution of aging this is the first book written from the perspective of aging as an adaptive program It offers an insight into the implications of research on aging genetics The author proposes the Demographic Theory of Senescence whereby aging has been affirmatively selected because it levels the death rate over time helping stabilize population dynamics and prevent extinctions Extraterrestrial Altruism Douglas A. Vakoch,2013-09-14 Extraterrestrial Altruism examines a basic assumption of the Search for Extraterrestrial Intelligence SETI that extraterrestrials will be transmitting messages to us for our benefit This question of whether extraterrestrials will be altruistic has become increasingly important in recent years as SETI scientists have begun contemplating transmissions from Earth to make contact Technological civilizations that transmit signals for the benefit of others but with no immediate gain for themselves certainly seem to be altruistic But does this make biological sense Should we expect altruism to evolve throughout the cosmos or is this only wishful thinking Is it dangerous to send messages to other worlds as Stephen Hawking has suggested or might humankind benefit from an exchange with intelligence elsewhere in the galaxy Would extraterrestrial societies be based on different ethical principles or would we see commonalities with Earthly notions of morality Extraterrestrial Altruism explores these and related questions about the motivations of civilizations beyond Earth providing new insights that are critical for SETI Chapters are authored by leading scholars from diverse disciplines anthropology astronomy biology chemistry computer science cosmology engineering history of science law philosophy psychology public policy and sociology The book is carefully edited by Douglas Vakoch Director of Interstellar Message Composition at the SETI Institute and professor of clinical psychology at the California Institute of Integral Studies The Foreword is by Frank Drake This interdisciplinary book will benefit everybody trying to understand whether evolution and ethics are unique to Earth or whether they are built into the fabric of the universe Animals and Nature Rod Preece,2011-11-01 No one tradition alone offers a sufficient respect for other species Taken together they may offer a prospect for saner human animal relations From the book Western conceptions of objectivity and individuality have resulted in a readier appreciation of the worth of the animals and nature than has been recognized This provocative book takes issue with the popular view that the Western cultural tradition in contrast to Eastern and Aboriginal traditions has encouraged attitudes of domination and exploitation towards nature particularly animals Preece argues that the Western tradition has much to commend it and that descriptions of Aboriginal and Oriental orientations have often been misleadingly rosy simplified and codified according to current fashionable concepts Animals and Nature is the result of six years intensive study into comparative religion literature
