Woodward,2017-04-07 Teaching History with Museums Second Edition provides an introduction and overview of the rich pedagogical power of museums and historic sites With a collection of practical strategies and case studies the authors provide educators with the tools needed to create successful learning experiences for students The cases are designed to be adapted to any classroom encouraging students to consider museums as historical accounts to be examined questioned and discussed Key updates to this revised edition and chapter features include New Chapter 9 captures the importance of art museums when teaching about the past Updated Chapter 10 addresses issues of technology focused on visitors experiences in both physical and virtual museums New coverage of smaller lesser known museums to allow readers to adapt cases to any of their own local sites Specific pre visit during visit and post visit activities for students at each museum Case reflections analyzing pitfalls and possibilities that can be applied more broadly to similar museums A listing of resources unique to the museum and history content for each chapter With this valuable textbook educators will learn how to promote instruction in support of rigorous inquiry into the past and the goals of democratic values of tolerance and citizenship in the present

Master Register of Bicentennial Projects, February 1976 American Revolution Bicentennial Administration,1976

Recording Oral History Valerie Raleigh Yow,2014-12-05 Recording Oral History now available in its third edition provides a comprehensive guide to oral history for researchers and students in diverse fields including history sociology anthropology education psychology social work and ethnographic methods Writing in a clear accessible style Valerie Yow builds on the foundations laid in prior editions of her widely used and highly regarded text to tackle not just the practicalities of interviewing but also the varied ethical legal and philosophical questions that can arise The text now twelve chapters allows for dedicated discussion of both legalities and ethics Other new material include recent research on how brain functions affect memory more comprehensive demonstration of how to analyze an interview and details on making the most of technology both old and new Each chapter concludes with updated and annotated Recommended Readings and tailored appendixes address new developments such as institutional review boards and the Oral History Association's new Principles and Best Practices

Public History in Global Perspective Georgina Laragy, Richard Legay, Ciaran O'Neill, Hannah K. Smyth, 2025-07-21 Where should public history sit within the matrix of global international trans national and more local histories Since its emergence in the 1970s Public History has typically been read as community oriented and more local in its applications The academic field in particular has developed along national lines and indeed we see in the many monographs edited books and journals that have emerged a distinct tendency to consider public history as understandable mostly in its relation to the nation state and its attendant mythologies The meta narratives that public history pushes against are the building blocks of national histories political military and heroic histories Conceiving of a global public history seems to have more radical potential than an international public history which arguably simply collects these national histories What would a global public history look like and how can it disrupt the field if interpreted radically This book will centre the work of scholars and professionals in the field of Public History It will offer novel reflections on postgraduate Public History learning work experience and application from recent graduates and partnered institutions A mix of theory and practice traditional and creative methodologies it demonstrates the value of integrating work experience practitioner workshops and close collaboration in Public History training

Fostering Family History Services Rhonda L. Clark, Nicole Wedemeyer Miller, 2016-02-22 Here is everything you need to promote your library as a center for genealogical study by leveraging your collection to help patrons conduct research on ancestors document family stories and archive family heirlooms Websites social media and the Internet have made research on family history accessible Your library can tap into the popularity of the do it yourself genealogy movement by promoting your role as both a preserver of local community history as well as a source for helping your patrons archive what's important to their family This professional guide will teach you how to integrate family history programming into your educational outreach tools and services to the community The book is divided into three sections the first introduces methods for creating a program to help your clients trace their roots the second provides library science instruction in reference and planning for local collections and the third part focuses on the use of specific types of resources in local collections Additional information features methods for preserving photographs letters diaries documents memorabilia and ephemera The text also includes bibliographies appendices checklists and links to online aids to further assist with valuating and organizing important family mementos

Developing a Critical Border Dialogism Timothy G. Cashman, 2015-05-01 This book is based upon research conducted both before and after a visit to Kota Kinabalu Malaysia in March 2003 During this time period United States US bombs fell on Baghdad Iraq An invasion of US and British ground forces in Baghdad and other Iraqi cities followed the initial bombing Events during the onset of the war became a catalyst for gaining insight on how the US invasion of Iraq impacted the lives of teachers and their students in Malaysia In June and July of 2003 the researcher returned to interview educators in Sabah Malaysia Follow up electronic communications with educators were conducted through the remainder of 2003 After the research in Malaysia the researcher conducted studies of educators perspectives in Mexico Canada and the US The key objective of the investigations in all four countries was to uncover attitudes and pedagogical comparisons of educators and their students regarding US policies including war and counter terrorism policies Studies in the US took place in close proximity to the US Mexico international border Studies were analyzed through the lenses of place based pedagogy border pedagogy and issues centered approaches that provided baseline information for transnational comparisons and cross comparative case studies In this manner the researcher contemplated the intersection of a critical pedagogy of place and border pedagogy From these studies emerged new understandings and the development of a critical border dialogism This critical border dialogism is based on following principles heteroglossia meliorism critical cosmopolitanism nepantla dialogism feminism and pragmatic hope By its nature critical border dialogism engages us in multidirectional discourses that allow us to tackle issues and work toward enduring conflict resolutions When applied in classroom settings critical border dialogism moves educators students and cultural workers in the direction of a critical border praxis

Heritage and Community

Engagement Emma Waterton, Steve Watson, 2013-09-13 This book is about the way that professionals in archaeology and in other sectors of heritage interact with a range of stakeholder groups communities and the wider public Whilst these issues have been researched and discussed over many years and in many geographical contexts the debate seems to have settled into a comfortable stasis wherein it is assumed that all that can be done by way of engagement has been done and there is little left to achieve In some cases such engagement is built on legislation or codes of ethics and there can be little doubt that it is an important and significant aspect of heritage policy This book is different however because it questions not so much the motivations of heritage professionals but the nature of the engagement itself the extent to which this is collaborative or contested and the implications this has for the communities concerned Furthermore in exploring these issues in a variety of contexts around the world it recognises that heritage provides a source of engagement within communities that is separate from professional discourse and can thus enable them to find voices of their own in the political processes that concern them and affect their development identity and well being This book was published as a special issue of the International Journal of Heritage Studies
