Decision-Making Groups and Teams Steven Silver, 2013-11-12 In recent years there has been increasing implementation of group and team decision making within organizations much of it managed electronically between members of what are virtual groups or teams Recent research into effective team implementation emphasizes trust as an intermediary process and trust must be a part of any account of team decision making This book provides an integrated framework that represents process in decision making by interactive groups and teams This framework furthers both our understanding of process and our capabilities in implementation based on an account of group decision making that differentiates the information types contributing to decision quality and relates them to process in interactive groups and teams Author Steve Silver emphasizes the social structure that is inherent in the interaction of decision makers as group or team members and effects on the information they exchange Advanced Topics in Global Information Management M. Gordon Hunter, Felix B. Tan, 2004-01-01 Advanced Topics in Global Information Management is the third in a series of books on advance topics in global information management GIM GIM research continues to progress with some scholars pushing the boundaries of thinking and others challenging the status quo Note This book is part of a new series entitled Advanced Topics in Global Information Management This book is Volume Three within this series Vol III 2004 Handbook of Human Factors in Web Design Kim-Phuong L. Vu, Robert W. Proctor, 2011-04-25 The Handbook of Human Factors in Web Design covers basic human factors issues relating to screen design input devices and information organization and processing as well as addresses newer features which will become prominent in the next generation of Web technologies These include multimodal interfaces wireless capabilities and agents t Understanding Your Social Agency Armand Lauffer, 2011 Understanding Your Nonprofit Agency written by internationally renowned scholar Armand Lauffer will fill the growing need for the distinction between corporate business operations and nonprofit operations The book will focus on how nonprofit agencies operate and not how they are managed It has been assumed that both entities function similarly Currently this assumption is increasingly seen as groundless nonprofit and profit driven organizations have different goals and function differently from each other This text addresses the current trend to differentiate how nonprofits are distinct

Workforce Readiness Harold F. O'Neil, Jr., Harold F. O'Neil, 2014-03-05 Current economic difficulties and the challenge of competing in the world market have necessitated a rethinking of American approaches to the utilization of people in organizations Management now recognizes a need to have workers take on more responsibility at the points of production of sale and of service rendered if the United States is to compete in rapidly changing world markets This development means that much more is expected of even entry level members of the American workforce Thus even more is expected of our high schools and colleges to provide this type of workforce The need of American management for workers with greater skills and who can take on greater responsibility has spawned many commissions task forces and studies All of them have contributed to the vast evidence documenting the need for a more highly skilled workforce These studies are summarized and synthesized in this book However what remains largely undone is the development of methods to assess the necessary skills that have been identified A major portion of this book deals with assessment issues Workforce Readiness Competencies and Assessment explores the state of the art in the specification of competencies skills and their assessment for students entering the world of work from both high school and college Both individual and team competencies are examined via data that has been reported and collected in various settings schools laboratories and industrial facilities

The Standardized Coordination Task Assessment (SCTA) Oemig, Christoph, 2023-02-06 Today's modern world often affords individuals to form teams to work together towards shared goals and objectives The need for tools to digitally support collaboration distributed in time and space increased over the past decades significantly with a recent sudden increase due to the Corona pandemic crisis The research goal in the field of computer supported cooperative work CSCW has always been to design systems that facilitate collaboration based on the understanding of groups and social interaction especially on how people coordinate their work In the real world coordination happens in a seemingly seamless and effortless way However the resulting mechanisms translated to digital systems often provide a clumsy and awkward experience as users lack the means for subtle and rich interaction beyond the spoken word After numerous failures revealing system deficits and a large number of ethnographic studies researchers identified awareness to become the support mechanism for effortless coordination in digital systems Yet instead of addressing the problem using appropriate methods and tools researchers found themselves trapped in circular reformulations of concepts and evaluations of prototypes on the basis of disciplinary preferences ignoring the basic characteristics of the objects of interest Even worse the most basic design tensions stemming from a use inspired perspective have not been resolved indicating a substantial problem with the evaluation of awareness and coordination support Effortless coordination cannot be reached without being measured thus not without an appropriate measurement approach This thesis introduces an appropriate assessment method for the efforts related to awareness and coordination support in cooperative settings the STANDARDIZED COORDINATION TASK ASSESSMENT SCTA Applying a use inspired basic research driven approach it creates and leverages an effort based operationalization of the two constructs derived from literature and especially from a cognitive perspective A highly automated and scalable framework delivers quantitative results to be used for hypotheses validations that allows a benchmark based approximation of effortless coordination At the same time the method opens the door for a lot more use inspired basic research to resolve many of the still open design tensions and challenges
