

one of the next things we longed for and looked after was to advance learning and perpetuate to posterity, dreading to leave an illiterate ministry to the churches when our present ministers shall lie in the dust.

Think of it! The very first institution of higher learning was established to give to the colonies a literate ministry, a body of thinking, devoted, biblically committed believers who would stand in the gap, who would have a knowledge of the truth that was strong and firm and courageous against the attack of the enemy, for surely such attacks would come. How essential it is that we who claim to love the Lord and commit ourselves to the truth in His Word know where we stand!

SIX BENEFITS OF BEING SPIRITUALLY INFORMED

Why is it so important to be well-grounded in the truth of God? Why bother to know the scoop? Why not leave that responsibility to the missionary and minister? Let me suggest six specific reasons. There may be many more, but these six are essential. Each one is something we must personally enter into.

1. Knowledge gives substance to faith. On what do those who do not know the truth rely? On emotion, on feelings, on someone else's opinion, on a book, on tradition, or some other empty, humanistic hope. And the result? Their faith lacks substance. That is especially revealing when they are under attack or when testing comes. That thought introduces the next benefit.

2. Knowledge stabilizes us during times of testing. When we know what God has said, and then we go through a period of pain when the bottom virtually drops out of our life, we don't panic, we don't doubt, we don't ship the faith. The knowledge we have gained stabilizes us and equips us with essential, calming fortitude when the tests come.

3. Knowledge enables us to handle the Bible accurately. By knowing the general themes of Scripture, we are better able to handle the Scriptures intelligently and wisely. A working knowledge of the doctrines, for example, gives us confidence in using Scripture.

4. Knowledge equips us to detect and confront error. As I mentioned earlier, when you know where you stand spiritually, no one can get you off course. When you're hearing erroneous information, you don't need someone to nudge you and say, "Did you get that? Listen to that. That's not true, is it?" Or, "You know, in light of what Scripture teaches, what he just presented is out of whack." Why? Because you have gone to the

Practicing Prayer for the Dead James B. Gould, 2016-11-04 Throughout history Christians have prayed for the dead This book challenges Protestants who seldom pray for the dead to begin doing so and Roman Catholics and Eastern Orthodox who pray only for the Christian dead to include the unsaved as well Gould discusses the meaning of prayer for final consummation of all things growth of the blessed in heaven purification of the imperfect in purgatory and salvation of the unsaved in hell identifying the necessary conception of the afterlife required by each particular prayer He also reflects on the spiritual value of prayer for the departed how it enhances faith builds hope and sharpens discipleship and provides some sample prayers for public liturgy and private devotion In essence Practicing Prayer for the Dead offers an outline of theology from the perspective of death arguing that prayer for all the departed is one aspect of a tightly knit web of doctrines The argument while revisionary in some respects is orthodox ecumenical and integrative engaging a range of academic disciplines so as to be biblically accurate historically informed and philosophically reasoned
