To Everyman a Brain Kenny Salami, 2018-02-13 With a global population of seven billion the world has a large percentage of honest and hardworking youth However they are more of an army of doers than a legion of thinkers This community of doers is where the real problem lies That is the irony for although vital to executing ideas doing alone will always remain inferior to thinking But why is thinking the primordial senior brother to doing To Everyman a Brain takes the reader on a journey of discovery uncovering the myth around creative thinking and introducing vital methodologies that will help each individual become a creative and innovative genius Can you ever imagine a world without ideas Without them all one can imagine is a picture of doers moving robotically from one odd task to the other ultimately destined for a dismal cul de sac If like Kenny you would rather picture a different world for yourself your family your company or your country then To Everyman a Brain is for you

The Global 'Orphan' Adoption System Lee Kyung-eun, 2021-12-01 S Korea is one of the major sending countries in the transnational experiment of child care invented by the human community after World War II Among all sending countries of adoptees S Korea is actually the country where the practice of inter country adoption had its genesis The fundamental source of power which sustains inter country adoption practices is as Dr Nigel Cantwell mentions in his endorsement the pervasive glowing image of adoption In other words the dominant perception of adoption as salvation is a key obstacle which prevents a more accurate mapping of the reality of inter country adoption In her new book Dr Kyung-eun Lee wields international laws as her surgical blade in order to dissect the practice of inter country adoption from S Korea She uncovers the fact that the S Korean government and private adoption agencies as partners have made orphans systematically widely but ironically within legal boundaries. As a result, adoptees' human rights have been violated on a massive scale. Dr Lee points out the negligence of the international society which was aware of Korea's failure in complying with the international legal system. She reminds the international community, especially those of the receiving countries, of their responsibility to demand that sending countries such as S. Korea enhance their legal systems in order to protect child rights. Growing requests from adult international adoptees to find their identities and information on their adoption reveals much evidence that adoptees' rights were violated by the inter-country adoption system. Many countries have begun to investigate past abuses and malpractices within the adoption system and are finding a way to recover adoptees' rights from the unethical and illegal practices which have taken place in the past and which are still inherent within the system. This book should serve as invaluable guidance to government officials, legal experts, researchers, and adoption-related stakeholders who wish to transform the current global orphan adoption system into the alternative care system for the best interests of the child.

Implementation of Social and Emotional Learning Interventions in Applied Settings: Approaches to Definition, Measurement, and Analysis

Stephanie M. Jones, Celene Domitrovich, Andres Molano, 2023-10-06 Social Justice for Children in the South Graciela H. Tonon, 2022-11-08. This book considers that contextual factors are important for the achievement of social justice and it recognizes that vulnerability to which children are exposed is a phenomenon throughout the planet, particularly in the South. It presents a theoretical review of social justice as well as different situations of vulnerability children experience in their daily lives in which they can be injured, affecting their well-being and the exercise of their rights. It examines the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on children, considered as a vulnerable group warranting special social policy considerations. It also presents the need to change power structures in knowledge production and decision-making processes to achieve social justice for children, the importance of investing in children, the exclusion of children from participation in certain activities, and the shame of not being able to participate in equal conditions with others. The lives of migrant children belonging to ethnic minorities, exposed to language barriers and access to technological devices, and the analysis of the process of social reintegration of children from conditions of armed conflict. The book concludes that governments need to assume social justice as part of universal human interests, providing security conditions for well-being and guaranteeing social justice for all children.
