Storying Later Life Gary Kenyon, Ernst Bohlmeijer, William L. Randall, 2010-12-20 In its brief but vigorous history gerontology has spawned a broadening range of specializations One of the newest of such specializations is narrative gerontology so named for its emphasis on the biographical or inside dimensions of the experience of aging Telling stories about our world our relationships and ourselves is fundamental to how we make meaning Everything from our history to our religion and our memories to our emotions is linked to the tales we tell ourselves and others about where we have come from and where we are going They are central to who we are The biographical side of human life is every bit as critical to fathom as the biological side if we seek a more balanced positive and optimistic perspective on what aging is about if we would honor the dignity and complexity the humanity and uniqueness of the lives of older persons no matter what their health or economic standing In this respect a narrative approach is particularly suited to the exploration of such topics as meaning spirituality and wisdom and the connections they share This volume reflects a selection of new directions and insights and constitutes a general broadening and deepening of narrative gerontology exploring its implications for theory and research in the field of aging and for the quality of life of older adults themselves Such deepening indicates a greater refinement of thought method and intervention The evolution of narrative gerontology is also evidenced by a significant increase in the number of faculty and graduate students engaged in research in this area as well as by increasing collaboration among researchers practitioners and administrators in applying narrative insights to contexts such as long term care indeed healthcare in general These initiatives have given rise to the phrase narrative care as core care

A New Ethic of 'Older' Bridget Garnham, 2016-10-04 Through its themes of subjectivity surgery and self stylization this book critically examines the cultural constraints and incitements that shape the practice of cosmetic surgery by older people The book problematizes anti ageing discourses to provide a nuanced descriptive ethical and political reading of older identity politics nested within the contemporary ethico political terrain of self care A New Ethic of Older aims to de territorialize the older subject from normative discourses of ageing and theorize becoming older Evidence of an active cultural politics of older emerges from the critically reflexive engagement of older people with cosmetic surgery This engagement constitutes a cutting critique of ageing discourses enmeshed in an aesthetic mode of subjectivation that underpins a new ethics of old age The book will appeal to those in the fields of Cultural Gerontology Ageing Studies Critical Psychology Sociology and Cultural Geography The methodological approach will be of interest to academics and students exploring the application of Foucault's work on care of the self to contemporary contexts and practices

Growing Old Disgracefully Philippa CARR, 1993 Growing Old Disgracefully: A Look to the Future, The Midlife Cyclist Phil Cavell, 2021-06-24 I am blown away by the level of detail Phil Cavell brings to his work Elinor Barker MBE multiple world champion and Olympic gold medallist The Midlife Cyclist is a triumph Cycling Plus An amazing accomplishment a simple to understand pr cis of your midlife as a cyclist you won't want to put it down Phil Liggett TV cycling commentator Phil is eminently qualified to write The Midlife Cyclist Well he is certainly old enough Fabian Cancellara Tour de France rider and two time Olympic champion Renowned cycling biomechanics pioneer Phil Cavell explores the growing trend of middle aged and older cyclists seeking to achieve high level performance Using contributions from leading coaches ex professionals and pro team doctors he produces the ultimate manifesto for mature riders who want to stay healthy avoid injury and maximise their achievement levels Time's arrow traditionally plots an incremental path into declining strength and speed for all of us But we are different to every other generation of cyclists in human history An ever growing number of us are determined to scale the highest peaks of elite physical fitness into middle age and beyond Can the emerging medical and scientific research help us achieve the holy triumvirate of speed and health with age The Midlife Cyclist offers a gold standard road map for the mature cyclist who aims to train perform and even race at the highest possible level
