Candlin, 2014-06-06 Process and Experience in the Language Classroom argues the case for communicative language teaching as an experiential and task driven learning process The authors raise important questions regarding the theoretical discussion of communicative competence and current classroom practice They propose ways in which Communicative Language Teaching should develop within an educational model of theory and practice incorporating traditions of experimental and practical learning and illustrated from a wide range of international sources Building on a critical review of recent language teaching principles and practice they provide selection criteria for classroom activities based on a typology of communicative tasks drawn from classroom experience The authors also discuss practical attempts to utilise project tasks both as a means of realising task based language learning and of redefining the roles of teacher and learner within a jointly constructed curriculum National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1971 First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70 Springfield City Library Bulletin Springfield City Library (Mass.), 1970 Theatrical Therapeutic Interventions in Cameroon Paul Animbon, 2023-10-22 Theatre use in therapeutic settings is more relevant now in Cameroon than ever The incessant hike in crises leaves many in difficult mental health conditions that the available modern treatment facilities cannot fully address Other alternatives can therefore be used to address these and this book looks at those related to theatre The focus here is on using theatre techniques in therapeutic contexts either directly or indirectly through cross examination of theatre productions and performative healing rites Major therapeutic uses of theatre in Cameroon are discussed with a special focus on theatre for development community theatre theatre of the oppressed and traditional healing ritual practices In all these forms therapeutic aspects of dramatic art are foregrounded and developed to their fullest potential The boundary separating these genres western and Cameroonian is narrow compared to their similarities This examination portrays a Cameroonian model of theatre in health aimed at addressing mental health As a model it considers the sociocultural specificities of the participants who combine theatrical elements with health and communication to achieve wellbeing in a collective process Theatre as a result of this serves as an ideal therapeutic modality wherein individuals and society get rid of their painful memories and thinking and become involved in a healing process wherein theatre acts as a powerful catalyst for behavioural change both on individual and community bases Transcending Trauma Gary W.
