Theatres of Accumulation Warwick Armstrong, T.G. McGee, 2013-06-17 In the great cities of Latin America and Asia international business and local firms meet and in particular influence the development strategies of Third World countries. The authors of Theatres of Accumulation argue that these cities play a crucial role in the process of capital accumulation and of unequal exchange and dependency. They examine the twin patterns of convergence and divergence in lifestyles and economic activities and show how the flow of capital through the urban system brings net losses to the rural regions and further exacerbates income inequalities between regions and classes. Theatres of accumulation provides an overview of urbanization in the Third World as well as specific case studies. It deals with theoretical issues and projects the likely developments in urbanization in the future. Tourism And China's Development- Policies, Regional Economic Growth & Ecotourism Clement A Tisdell, Julie Jie Wen, 2001-03-15 China's continuing economic reforms since 1978 have substantially altered its economic structure expanding the service sector including the tourist industry. The reforms have resulted in spectacular economic growth and a boom in tourism development. But China's economic growth has been very uneven regionally and has been cause for political concern. The ability of tourism to counteract this uneven development and promote regionally decentralised development is therefore of special interest as is the sustainability of regional tourism which often depends on nature conservation and the presence of minority cultures. This book addresses all those issues. Although focussed on China it deals with issues such as those involving the sustainability of tourism and convergence and divergence in regional tourism development and economic growth relevant to other geographical areas.
