"The British School of Sculpture, c.1760-1832 " Sarah Burnage, 2017-07-05 The British School of Sculpture c 1760 1832 represents the first edited collection exploring one of the most significant moments in British art history returning to centre stage a wide range of sculpture considered for the first time by some of the most important scholars in the field. Following a historical and historiographical introduction by the editors situating British sculpture in relation to key events and developments in the period and the broader scholarship on British art more generally in the period and beyond the book contains nine wide ranging case studies that consider the place of antique and modern sculpture in British country houses in the period monuments to heroes of commerce and the Napoleonic Wars the key debates fought around ideal sculpture at the Royal Academy the reception of British sculpture across Europe the reception of Hindu sculpture deriving from India in Britain and the relationship of sculpture to emerging industrial markets both at home and abroad. Challenging characterisations of the period as neoclassical the volume reveals British sculpture to be a much more eclectic and various field of endeavour both in service of the state and challenging it and open to sources ranging from the newly arrived Parthenon Frieze to contemporary print culture.

Enriching Architecture Christine Casey, Melanie Hayes, 2023-01-26 Refinement and enrichment of surfaces in stone wood and plaster is a fundamental aspect of early modern architecture which has been marginalised by architectural history. Enriching Architecture aims to retrieve and rehabilitate surface achievement as a vital element of early modern buildings in Britain and Ireland. Rejected by modernism demeaned by the conceptual turn and too often reduced to its representative or social functions we argue for the historical legitimacy of creative craft skill as a primary agent in architectural production. However in contrast to the connoisseurial and developmental perspectives of the past this book is concerned with how surfaces were designed achieved and experienced. The contributors draw upon the major rethinking of craft and materials within the wider cultural sphere in recent years to deconstruct traditional oppositional ways of thinking about architectural production. This is not a craft for craft's sake argument but an effort to embed the tangible findings of conservation and curatorial research within an evidence led architectural history that illuminates the processes of early modern craftsmanship. The book explores broad themes of surface treatment such as wainscot rustication plasterwork and staircase embellishment together with chapters focused on virtuoso buildings and set pieces which illuminate these themes.
