Congressional-Executive Commission on China,2009 Anguished Hope Leonard Grob,John K. Roth,2008-08-20 Speaking from their respective disciplines in the humanities theology and education thirteen Holocaust scholars both Jewish and Christian candidly address the challenges risks and possibilities embedded in the discouraging long lasting Palestinian Israeli conflict They also sharply critique the use of Holocaust terminology or imagery by the modern day combatants on either side as trivialization of a unique and devastating event Anguished Hope casts a powerful vision for a more peaceful future in the Middle East Contributors Rachel N Baum David Blumenthal Margaret Brearley Britta Frede Wenger Myrna Goldenberg Peter J Haas Henry F Knight Hubert Locke David Patterson Didier Pollefeyt Amy H Shapiro Law, Psychology, and Justice Christopher R. Williams,Bruce A. Arrigo,2002-01-01 A provocative critique of the relationship between the legal system and psychology that uses chaos theory to offer a more humane alternative Losing Trust in the World Leonard Grob,John K. Roth,2016-12-05 In July 1943 the Gestapo arrested an obscure member of the resistance movement in Nazi occupied Belgium When his torture inflicting interrogators determined he was no use to them and that he was a Jew he was deported to Auschwitz Liberated in 1945 Jean Am ry went on to write a series of essays about his experience No reflections on torture are more compelling Am ry declared that the victims of torture lose trust in the world at the very first blow The contributors to this volume use their expertise in Holocaust studies to reflect on ethical religious and legal aspects of torture then and now Their inquiry grapples with the euphemistic language often used to disguise torture and with the question of whether torture ever constitutes a necessary evil Differences of opinion reverberate raising deeper questions Can trust be restored What steps can we as individuals and as a society take to move closer to a world in which torture is unthinkable Trauma and Human Rights Lisa D. Butler,Filomena M. Critelli,Janice Carello,2019-07-17 Human rights violations and traumatic events often comeingle in victims experiences however the human rights framework and trauma theory are rarely deployed together to illuminate such experiences This edited volume explores the intersection of trauma and human rights by presenting the development and current status of each of these frameworks examining traumatic experiences and human rights violations across a range of populations and describing efforts to remediate them Individual chapters address these topics among Native Americans African Americans children women lesbian gay bisexual transgender individuals those with mental disabilities refugees and asylees and older adults and also in the context of social policy and truth and reconciliation commissions The authors demonstrate that the trauma and human rights frameworks each contribute invaluable and complementary insights and that their integration can help us fully appreciate and address human suffering at both individual and collective levels

Thinking Critically About Abortion Nathan Nobis, Kristina Grob, 2019-06-19 This book introduces readers to the many arguments and controversies concerning abortion While it argues for ethical and legal positions on the issues it focuses on how to think about the issues not just what to think about them It is an ideal resource to improve your understanding of what people think why they think that and whether their and your arguments are good or bad and why It's ideal for classroom use discussion groups organizational learning and personal reading From the Preface To many people abortion is an issue for which discussions and debates are frustrating and fruitless it seems like no progress will ever be made towards any understanding much less resolution or even compromise Judgments like these however are premature because some basic techniques from critical thinking such as carefully defining words and testing definitions stating the full structure of arguments so each step of the reasoning can be examined and comparing the strengths and weaknesses of different explanations can help us make progress towards these goals When emotions run high we sometimes need to step back and use a passion for calm cool critical thinking This helps us better understand the positions and arguments of people who see things differently from us as well as our own positions and arguments And we can use critical thinking skills help to try to figure out which positions are best in terms of being supported by good arguments after all we might have much to learn from other people sometimes that our own views should change for the better Here we use basic critical thinking skills to argue that abortion is typically not morally wrong We begin with less morally controversial claims adults children and babies are wrong to kill and wrong to kill fundamentally because they we are conscious aware and have feelings We argue that since early fetuses entirely lack these characteristics they are not inherently wrong to kill and so most abortions are not morally wrong since most abortions are done early in pregnancy before consciousness and feeling develop in the fetus Furthermore since the right to life is not the right to someone else's body fetuses might not have the right to the pregnant woman's body which she has the right to and so she has the right to not allow the fetus use of her body This further justifies abortion at least until technology allows for the removal of fetuses to other wombs Since morally permissible actions should be legal abortions should be legal it is an injustice to criminalize actions that are not wrong In the course of arguing for these claims we 1 discuss how to best define abortion 2 dismiss many common question begging arguments that merely assume their conclusions instead of giving genuine reasons for them 3 refute some often heard everyday arguments about abortion on all sides 4 explain why the most influential philosophical arguments against abortion are unsuccessful 5 provide some positive arguments that at least early abortions are not wrong 6 briefly discuss the ethics and legality of later abortions and more This essay is not a how to win an argument piece or a tract or any kind of apologetics It is not designed to help anyone win debates everybody wins on this issue when we calmly and respectfully engage arguments with care charity honesty and humility This book is merely a reasoned systematic introduction to the issues that we hope models these skills and virtues Its discussion should not be taken as absolute proof of anything much more needs to be understood and carefully discussed always

Who Qualifies for Rights? Judith Lynn Failer, 2018-10-18 When does a person become disqualified for some or all of the rights associated with full citizenship Who does qualify for rights When mental health workers took Joyce Brown from her home on a New York City sidewalk and hospitalized her against her will she defended herself by asserting her rights to live where she wanted to speak to the press to deride the city's policy and to refuse unwanted psychiatric treatment In theory as a United States citizen Brown possessed rights protecting her from governmental intrusion into her personal life In practice those rights were curtailed at the time of her civil commitment Using the case of Joyce Brown as an example Judith Lynn Failer explores the theoretical legal and practical justifications for limiting the rights of people who are involuntarily hospitalized By looking at the reasons why law and theory say that some people diagnosed with mental illnesses no longer qualify for the full complement of constitutional rights the author pieces together basic assumptions about who does and who should qualify for rights Failer s analysis is motivated by her concern that people facing involuntary hospitalization stand to lose the most effective means they have of protecting themselves from abuse their rights She concludes that there is insufficient guidance for deciding who qualifies for regular rights and full citizenship Finally the author calls for the use of flexible standards to determine who should and who does qualify for rights
